continued during the "rush hours" was based on fact.

"We find that the infant, Calvine Balanger, came to her death on Nov. Is tast in the Toronto General Hos-pital from narcotic poisoning admin-istered without intent. We consider that Dr. Coderre's Sootning Syrup is dangerous medicine to administer to infants," was the verdict returned after an hour's deliberation by Coron-er Cotton's jury last night. Prof. W. H. Effis, provincial analyst, who made an analysis of the medicine, said that it contained morphine and it was this which caused the child's death. Investigation has shown that the syrup which was given to the in-fant is not registered in accordance with the Dominion Patent Medicine with the Dominion Patent Medicine Act, and in all probability proceedings will be taken against the wholesaler and retail druggist who sold the drug.
