"The Face in the Moonlight."
Owing to the success which has attended the Mantell engagement at the Toronto Opera House during the first three weeks, Manager Hanley has decided to prolong his visit, and has selected "The Face in the Moonlight" for the bill next week. It is in this exciting drama that Mr. Mantell is required to play two roles, both of which are presented in a manner that has in the past received the popular acclamation of the Toronto public.

Benefit for Anne Blanche.
A committee representing the large circle of friends which Anne Blanche of the Valentine Company has made in Toronto this season called on the clever little woman at the Ross House yesterday and asked her to accept of the money which she has received as a testimonial in the shape of a special matinee at the Princess next Wednesday. Her consent, after considerable deliberation and arrangements are already progressing, and a large number of the boxes have already been reserved, and when the sale of single seats is over on Friday morning there is reason to believe that the list of names will be a very long one. The program to be offered will be a very attractive one, and of a mixed character. All of the members of the Valentine Company very highly commended their services and efforts, and it is from several other professionals, so that there will be no lack of variety in arranging a performance of high character.

The Willard Audiences.
The Willard audiences are growing nightly, and at no part of the season are the gatherings at the Grand as brilliant as they are at present. Willard has already presented his two newest operas, and what will be many people the most enjoyable plays of the season have yet to be given. The announcement that Mr. Willard and his company will give four performances of "The Princess" on Tuesday evening and "The Merchant of Venice" on Wednesday evening, Mr. Willard receives on Saturday at almost every performance, and the present will be the last of the most successful engagement which he has ever played in Toronto.

The Public Likes to Hear Sousa.
Sousa is to be with us on Saturday afternoon evening next at Massey Hall with his band and soloists, and make glad the hearts of the people who have not yet seen the unique form of music. That the large audience popularity over and over again, the hold they have upon the public attention is certainly genuine. It will not do to explain it as a mere fad, for it has held its ground for years, and it is not only the young, but the old who are drawn to it. The Sousa concert has become a regular feature of the season, and it is not surprising that the public is so much pleased, and the last time seems best at all. Possibly, if Sousa were not present it would be the only Sousa concert, and therefore to Sousa it is easy enough to remember Sousa's reason down. Nevertheless, wherever Sousa appears, he is sure to attract a large crowd of appearing at the same hour and in the same place, and this fact alone as long as Sousa will keep the music going.

The same characteristics that won such warm praise for the organization abroad will distinguish the offerings here. The soloists are Blanche, the violinist, the pianist, the violonist, the violoncello, the tenor, the soprano, the baritone, the bass, the chorus, and the orchestra. The same characteristics that won such warm praise for the organization abroad will distinguish the offerings here.

The Merchant of Venice.
Much interest is centred in the opening performance of "The Merchant of Venice" at the Princess next week, partly because it will signify the commencement of the farewell week of the Valentine Company in this city, and also because the final sovereign night will bring about the distribution of a handsome memento of the entire company. Independent of these considerations, however, the mere fact that one of Shakespeare's best known plays is to be given in an elaborate production is quite to stimulate interest. In the program at the Princess, and the heavy demand for tickets through the week is ample assurance that the Valentines will find ready appreciation of their efforts to make the holiday performances the memorable ones of the season. Rehearsals during the past week have disclosed the fact that the company are as numerous as the stars of the show, and at home in Shakespeare as in modern drama or comedy, and they have all appeared in the play a great many times, smooth and highly satisfactory performance may be looked for.

Hon. L. J. Forger, Just Back From Europe, Says There is Nothing in the Stores About Montreal, May 16.—(Special)—Hon. L. J. Forger, who returned to-day from Europe, states that there is no truth whatever in the stories set afloat in New York regarding the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk. He says that the rumors are entirely unfounded, and he does not believe the rumor of James J. Hill's connection with the C.P.R. directors.

The World's Coal.
From The Chautauque. The coal fields of the world are estimated to contain an area of 471,800 square miles. Over this an area of 200,000 square miles is reserved to China and Japan, while 194,900 is found in the United States. The remainder is distributed as follows: India, 35,000; Russia, 27,000; United Kingdom, 9,000; Germany, 3,000; France, 1,800; other countries 1400. Two facts are strikingly shown by these figures. One is the advantage of the United States among the world powers; the other is the importance which vast and rich coal fields give to China in the eyes of the European powers, whose coal supply is gradually being exhausted. The year 1890 saw the United States jump to the front as the heaviest coal producer of the world, and also enter the market as an exporter, selling to Japan, Italy, Great Britain, Germany and Russia. That the United States should sell coal to Great Britain seems indeed like carrying coals to Newcastle. The reason is that in England the mines have been so heavily worked that operations that coal cannot be taken out and delivered to Britain at such a profit as prices low enough to compete with those offered by the American exporter. The actual production of coal in the United States is estimated at 1,500,000,000 tons in 1899. In metric tons: United States . . . . . 228,747,979 Austria-Hungary . . . . . 32,779,962 Germany . . . . . 138,824,427 France . . . . . 30,000,000 Russia . . . . . 21,917,740 Belgium . . . . . 13,000,000 Japan . . . . . 6,500,000

BARN RAISING AT THISTLETOWN.

Annette-street School at the Junction to Be Fungated to Prevent Diphtheria.

Toronto Junction, May 16.—The annual meeting of the South York Teachers' Institute commenced this morning in the auditorium of the High School. Mr. J. Palmer of Newry gave an address on "Drawing in Public Schools," and Miss T. Rutherford gave a paper on "Geography to Junior Classes." In the afternoon Mr. Veigh gave a very interesting lecture on the "Romance of Canadian History," commencing with the ruins of Lunenburg and closing with the gates of Fort Gary. Interesting reminiscences of Toronto in days gone by, Kingston, Montreal, Prescott, Quebec, the Ottawa, Saint Ste. Marie and Fort William were given, and not the least interesting part of the address was the historical associations surrounding Queenston, Niagara, Lunenburg and Fort Mississauga. The lecturer had an address in view of Laura Secord's home and her last resting place, also some 50 illustrations of Toronto, Kingston and other points. Mr. F. C. Colbeck, principal of the High School, presided. The composition in Public Schools," in the absence of Mr. Elliott of the Normal School. He spoke on the virtues of cleanliness in composition, which, he considered, was the first essential. Then followed, force, expression and variety of ideas. In the evening an entertainment was provided in which Inspector Eybham gave an address, Miss Aleda Edgar gave a piano solo, Miss Temperance, Miss Lillian Burns of the Toronto college of Music, two recitations, entitled, "Little Miss Peabody's" and "What is a Practical Education?" commencing with the recitation of the text, which he proposed the generally accepted opinion that a practical education is that which will equip a boy to earn a livelihood in the least possible time. The recitation was given by Miss Temperance, should be the only motive in imparting education. The higher and intellectual motive of making things what they were intended to be, and not diverting them from their natural channel merely for the sake of letters, should be aimed at. During the day the physical culture classes under Miss Chapman, and the art classes exhibited very creditably in giving exhibitions of their various exercises. The convention closes to-morrow.
