

THE NEW RAINCOATS

Because of the great advances made in the manufacture of rainproofs and in the material used they have become a necessary and useful item in the wardrobe of the twentieth century lady or gentleman.

We only began selling these articles last year, but we made a wise choice, and flatter ourselves that we have done the same this year.

The raincoats now on view in our showrooms are absolutely the very latest in Paris, New York and London.

Military effects in dark blue and grey with and without capes are in the majority.

Canada and European Fleet.

In this time of war statements of the great countries of the world are unending and the movements of the Japanese and Russian fleets are watched with the keenest interest by other nations. Will China remain quiet, and will the Dardanelles Straits be made available for war vessels—are questions which agitate the minds of those who direct the course of nations. It has been suggested that those great men might obtain advice if they followed the Canadian example by smoking Dardanelles Turkish cigarettes instead of worrying about the Dardanelles Straits.

SULTAN REJECTS DEMANDS OF POWERS FOR MACEDONIA

Hitch in Negotiations Over Gendarmerie Commission—Flying Squadron is Assembled.

Berlin, March 6.—Considerable concern has been caused in Berlin to-day by a telegram from Vienna to The Telegraph announcing that the Sultan has rejected the plan of organization for the Macedonian gendarmerie. His majesty has also refused to ratify the agreement with Bulgaria. The Austrian government is said to be looking forward to developments in the Balkans in the coming spring with great anxiety. The Cologne Gazette further announces that Turkey is assembling a flying squadron and warships, and has ordered the mobilization of her torpedo boats.

PESSIMISM GROWING.

Vienna, March 6.—The optimistic feeling regarding the situation in the Balkans has again given way to pessimism. The Sultan is reported to have refused emphatically to ratify the Nischowitch agreement and his attitude occasions much anxiety in the Bulgarian government.

Fears are expressed in Sofia, that even if war with Turkey is not imminent, it will be impossible to avoid a conflict later, unless some agreement with the Porte is speedily reached. Telegrams received here to-day declare that the Sultan has rejected the memorandum presented by the reform powers, as well as the demands of the gendarmerie commission. This commission is making slow progress in its work.

A despatch from Salonica says the Albanians are still under arms. The leaders now demand exemption from military service and the abolition of civil courts.

A very large and enthusiastic audience crowded the council chamber in Orillia Friday night to listen to a most interesting and instructive lecture by J. A. Culverwell, of Toronto, upon the subject of the Trent Valley Canal.

The chair was occupied by A. B. Thompson, president of the board of trade. The lecturer illustrated his subject by some 50 fine stereoscopic views of the canal, hydraulic lifts, locks, machinery of other routes, etc., and was greeted with much applause as he pointed out the great benefits to accrue to the province by an early completion of this national necessity and new route, not only for the purpose of bringing down the products of the immense territory tributary thereto, but also of much of the grain, minerals, lumber, etc., from the northwest and upper lakes which now finds its way to the seaboard via the Lakes and Erie or Welland canals.

It was pointed out that only five million dollars would be required to complete this great highway, or a total of nine millions, and give an 800-ton barge capacity, while the new enlarged Erie Canal, after an expenditure of one hundred millions, will only accommodate barges of one thousand tons, and at the same time give a much shorter route to the seaboard than either the Erie or the Welland routes. There will only be about eighteen miles of actual canal, the balance being through lakes and rivers, whereas the Erie has 257 miles of trade canal. The canal is a live issue in Orillia and district. The board of trade has a special committee devoted to this question. Mayor McCosh and J. E. S. record were appointed delegates to represent the town council and the board of trade at the coming meeting of the transportation commission at Peterboro, with instructions to press strongly for the completion of the canal.

Officers Free From Blame. Seattle, Wash., March 6.—The officers of the steamer Queen are free from blame for the loss of fifteen lives on the coast of British Columbia, Feb. 27, according to the text of the decision handed down by marine inspectors. The decision concludes that the officers did all in their power to save the passengers and crew, and that the inspectors are unable to ascertain the exact cause of the catastrophe.

15th Wedding Day. On Friday evening, March 5, John B. and wife of Vaughan Township, near Woodbridge, celebrated their fifteenth wedding day, when they entertained about 80 relatives and friends. The company spent a most enjoyable evening and were entertained until they were unable to walk home.

Butterville. In order to testify in some measure to the esteem in which Charles James and Miss James are held, a large delegation of their neighbors in the nature of a surprise party, waited upon them at their home here, on Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. James were each presented with an interesting and valuable gift, and the evening was a most enjoyable one.

Scarboro. A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green in Scarboro, when their daughter, Miss Mary Green, was united in marriage to Mr. John Green of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. E. Macdonald of Scarboro, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

N.Y.C. Office Burned. Oswego, N.Y., March 6.—The general office building of the New York Central Railroad was entirely destroyed by fire to-day, involving a loss of $100,000.
