

Little Change in Hartwick's Condition Appears Weak, But More Rational

There was little change in the condition of James Hartwick, the accused murderer, this morning. He still refuses to partake of solid food, but takes milk and gruel sparingly. Hartwick is still very weak, but once or twice today was seen to stand up in the cell and hold on to the bars to steady himself.

So far as has not been found necessary to force food into Hartwick's stomach, and so long as he partakes of sufficient gruel and milk this alternative will not be resorted to.

It was stated this morning at the court house that Hartwick still looks at night occasionally, but is apparently growing saner every day. However, he tosses and rolls in his sleep, which is much broken, and to all appearances of little benefit to him.

The aged prisoner has lost fully 15 of 20 pounds since his arrest, and many who have seen him believe that he is deliberately trying to starve himself to death. Others declare that his appetite has been impaired by close confinement and worry.

Hartwick was today visited by the jail physician, who did not find any material change in his condition. The prisoner refuses to converse with anybody, although it was stated that he recently sat up and talked to some friends who called upon him.

The crown attorney has not as yet decided just what will be done with Hartwick, although it is very likely that inasmuch as his trial comes off in a little over a month, he will be kept at the jail in the meantime, unless his health becomes such that his removal to the hospital is made necessary.

Crushed Stone or Gravel for Paving

At a meeting of No. 2 committee last night, it was decided to recommend to the council that the Barber Asphalt Company and the London Street Railway Company be allowed to use gravel instead of crushed stone in the foundation for the Dundas street pavement.

This request has been brought up before the committee periodically ever since the contract was let last fall.

Mr. King has appeared before the committee on numerous occasions, asking for the change.

But the application was always turned down.

At last the Barber Company, who has the contract for the pavement, joined in the request, and as a result of the combined demands, the committee last night acquiesced.

Crushed Stone.

The majority of pavements in the city have crushed stone foundations. The Dundas street and Richmond street pavements have the crushed stone foundation. Queen's avenue is the same.

The bitulithic pavements in the city also have crushed stone foundations, but there is no cement used.

The bitulithic pavements are located on Talbot street and King street east and Richmond street.

On the other hand, gravel foundations are under the Park avenue asphalt and York street bitulithic pavements.

All the brick pavements in the city have gravel foundations also.

As To Cost.

The companies will not admit that there is any difference in the cost. Rather they will say that the gravel will cost them practically the same as crushed stone. The only difference is that the gravel can be obtained more readily.

The Park avenue pavement is the best pavement in the city, according to the contractors.

The company guarantees the foundation whether of stone or gravel.

Education and Child Labor in N. Y.

The proposed amendments to the truancy act, as suggested by Truant Officer Weir, are creating considerable interest in the city. The clause relating to the employment of children is causing much discussion.

The New York State law is very explicit on the employment of children, and some extracts from it are interesting.

An employment certificate must be obtained from the department of health of the municipality for a child between 14 and 16 years of age seeking employment.

In order to secure a certificate of such a kind, an school record of the child must be shown.

A passport or duly attested certificate of birth or baptism, or religious record, showing date of birth and place, or a copy of the birth certificate must be shown the medical health officer.

The affidavit of either parent or guardian or custodian relating to date of birth will be admitted.

The employment certificate shall not be issued unless the child appear personally before the officer issuing such certificate, and be examined by him.

The officer must file a statement that the child can read and write legibly, and that in his opinion the child is fourteen years of age, and has reached normal development for a child of his age, is in good health and physically able to perform work. The boy must also sign this certificate.

The educational qualification to be signed by the teacher must show that the child has regularly attended school for so many days during the past year, that he is able to read and write simple sentences in the English language, and has received instruction in reading, spelling, writing, English grammar and geography, and is familiar with the simple operations of arithmetic up to and including fractions.

The certificate also contains the principal's report regarding the child's age.

This law is somewhat on the line suggested by Truant Officer Weir, and would prevent the employment of children under the law, as every child seeking employment must be accompanied by the certificates referred to above.

Orangemen Will Celebrate On July 13

L. O. L., 230, held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall, Adelaide street, last night, and despite the soft weather, which made walking bad, a large number of the brethren turned out.

Worshipful Master Patterson and officers were in their stations. One member was admitted by certificate from Fermanagh, Ireland.

A communication from the county master was received concerning the celebration at Sarnia on the 13th of July next.

The dance committee reported holding a successful dance, and handed over the surplus to the treasurer.

There was a number of visitors present from a distance, and the following gentlemen addressed the lodge: Bro. Ward, of London; Bro. Harper, of Warwick; Bro. Brown, of Rothessay, and Bro. de Coursey, of Lucan.

West Londoners Object To the Snow

West London people do not take kindly to the big bank of snow which has been dumped by the city from Dundas street bridge on to the ice below, and which forms an embankment about six feet high almost across the river.

"If it freezes now that will be a solid chunk of ice," said a West London man to The Advertiser this morning, "and when the river gets high it will make a regular dam, and the water will back in over the breakwaters."

"We live in dread enough of floods now without having any more trouble deliberately placed in the way."

"It is not unlikely that a petition will be sent to the council asking that no more snow be dumped there, or in the little park beside the bridge. That seems to be the only way left of dealing with the matter."

Will Enter Action Against Birkbeck

Mrs. Annie Daniels, of New York, who created much discussion in this city and Toronto recently by appearing as her own lawyer in court, this morning intimated that she would enter a motion in the high court of justice for the right to bring action against the liquidators of the defunct Birkbeck Loan Company, which, she claims, was indebted to her late father to the extent of several thousand dollars.

The case which Mrs. Daniels claims to have against the loan company has for some time been a popular theme for discussion in local legal circles.

Mrs. Daniels' father was the late Mr. A. Johnston, of Strathroy, a private banker, and the money in dispute has to do with his estate, most of which was left to Mrs. Daniels.

The lady lawyer has now been in the city for over three months, and during that time has visited almost every lawyer and judge in London.

Moving Pictures and the New Combine

The recent combine of moving picture manufacturers will have a considerable influence on the business in this city. The combination is the result of a long suit instituted by Mr. Thos. Edison against picture-moving manufacturers.

Manager Efner, of Bennett's Theater, was interviewed regarding the matter this morning, and gave an interesting account of the combine.

"The combine is the result of a long agitation," he said. "For years there has been trouble, and the other day all the large interests met in Buffalo where in a short time all the arrangements were completed."

"The result is that from this time on all machines will be licensed. This will mean that all machines are in perfect condition when they leave the shops.

"In addition the operators will have to obtain licenses also from the manufacturers."

"No operator will be allowed to touch a machine unless he has first obtained the license."

"This will result in better machines and better operators, and it will give better satisfaction to the patrons of these theaters. The machines and pictures will now be of the best American, French and English manufacture."

"How will it effect the local business?" was asked.

"It will keep down competition to a large degree, and will make it harder for any small firm to obtain machines," Mr. Efner said. "It will put the business on more substantial footing."

Tripped Over Rifle; Shot in the Foot

Mr. Herbert Morris, son of Mr. Geo. Morris, the local butcher, shot himself in the foot last night with a twenty-two caliber rifle.

His injuries are not serious.

Young Morris always keeps a rifle in the stable to shoot rats.

Last evening the rifle was lying loaded on the stable floor back of the horse.

He was going about his work and accidentally tripped over the gun, when it exploded, the bullet entering the foot just back of the toes. It passed through and out of the sole of the foot.

Dr. Geo. Wilson was called and the wound was dressed.

BUSY BURGLARS IN WEST ELGIN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Feb. 14.—A gang of burglars have been operating in this vicinity for several weeks, breaking into general stores in villages, Union, New Sarum, West Lorne and Iona, have in turn been visited. The method of effecting entrances in each case being by smashing the front window.

The latest was the burglarizing of the general store of J. D. Lumley, Iona, Wednesday night. A dog frightened away the intruders, who secured a couple of pairs of boots.

L. and P.S. Bridges and Pere Marquette

The city authorities have not heard anything from the Pere Marquette for some time regarding the payment for the bridge recently built by the company over the Thames.

It was stated at the time that the Pere Marquette would look to the city for the payment of the bridges, but nothing further was heard of it.

When the bridges are all completed the question of the payment will be discussed.

The Pere Marquette claim the city is liable, while the city solicitor contends that the company is liable.

This summer it is the intention of the Pere Marquette to rebuild the bridge over Kettle Creek, near St.

Thomas. The Thames bridge and the Port Stanley bridge have been rebuilt, the only one remaining being the Kettle Creek bridge.

Horsemen Made Killing On Pacer

It was stated on the best authority that one of the juiciest melons cut by horsemen in many a long day in Canada was cut in Ottawa recently, at the races.

It was "tipped off" to one or two on the inside, but they were "killed" by the snowdrifts, getting to Ottawa just after the race was pulled off.

It was a great "killing," Dan McEwen, who drove The Eel, and drove one of his very best races.

The result was that the Eel moved away with the race, and came home easy winner. The stake itself was worth $1,000, while Endricken and his friends are said to have cleaned up $25,000 on the race.

London horsemen knew the horse was speedy, and have been watching the line when they could follow him down the line, as they were confident he could pace way under 2:10, if given a chance.

He is a 4-year-old now, and will go to the races this summer, down the big line.

An Immigration Tax On the Chinese

The regular meeting of Number Eight Club was held Thursday night in the primary hall of Dundas Street Central Church, when the adjourned debate on the Japanese question was continued.

The meeting took the form of a Parliament, with Mr. C. F. Cowley, as speaker.

The leader of the government, Prof. J. H. Bowman, introduced a bill abolishing the immigration tax on the Chinese and providing that all Orientals be admitted to Canada on the same terms and conditions as Europeans.

After a discussion of the bill, so very enthusiastic that the speaker found it almost impossible to enforce the rules of order, Mr. Bert Copeland, on behalf of the opposition, moved the following amendment:

"Whereas, we recognize the fact that to allow the indiscriminate entrance of Orientals into our country is hurtful to the best interests of our citizens; that it is our duty to live at peace and harmony with these people;

"Therefore, be it resolved to grant them free admission to our country, but that before any Oriental be allowed to enter Canada from any quarter, he be obliged to prove to the satisfaction of an official, or officials, appointed for this purpose, that he can speak and write the English language."

The members generally seemed to be of the opinion that the education test, if rigorously enforced, would be effective bar to the entrance of practically all Orientals, and would in any case tend to make the class who do come much more desirable than we have at the present, and the amendment carried.

U. S. to Deport Chatham Lady Who Kidnapped Her Own Children.

A joint meeting of Fidelity and Star Lodges, A. O. U. W., was held last evening at which five new candidates obtained by Organizer W. R. Van Tassel were initiated.

Detroit, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Bessie Rumble who kidnapped her two children, Hazel age 7, and Winnifred, aged 5, from the Children's Aid Society in Chatham, Ont., last Friday, and drove from Chatham to Robert's Landing, nearly twenty miles, in an open wagon with the thermometer hovering around the zero mark, and then drove across the St. Clair River on the ice to the Michigan side, was arrested last night and locked up at the central station by two immigration inspectors. With Mrs. Rumble were found her husband Albert, who arrived in Detroit last night, and Miss Lizzie Sidle, aged 21, who landed in Detroit about three months ago. The inspectors say all will be deported.

Further investigation into the Stratford Fuel and Cartage Company has resulted in writs being issued against the directors for the misappropriation of $20,000. Another writ has been issued against the shareholders for paying dividends out of capital.

The death occurred yesterday of Miss Edith M. A. Irwin, daughter of the late W. Irwin, of Mount Irwin, Armagh County, Ireland, at the residence of her nephew, Mr. Robert C. Irwin, 54 Talbot street.
