Some Candid Advice Given in a Letter to Bonar Law.

Unionist Business Committee Deals With Various War Issues.

London, July 20.—The Unionist business committee, one of the most influential groups in the house of commons which the war has produced, sent Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, a letter yesterday referring to a previous letter wherein they urged the views of various political matters, including America's entry into the war, economic policy and revolutionary movements.

They urge it is a mistake to suppose that the Germans were unwillingly driven to war by the emperor and Prussian militarists, and that any dramatic movement in Germany is likely to sweep out militarism from the country. The German people as a whole, the letter says, are in entire sympathy with the government, there is no reliable sign that the German social structure will not stand the strain of the war to the end.

The occupants took refuge in the nearest Peter and Paul fortress. When the fortress was later surrounded by troops the Maximalists ran up a white flag and surrendered. The troops received orders to clear out the Maximalists from the home of the celebrated dancer and to take possession of the fortress. In the early hours of the morning a regiment of bicycle troops reached the capital and rode to the Champs de Mars field. A large body of newly arrived Cosacks also concentrated there. Meantime other troops approached from the rear of the fortress and dawn found the place surrounded.

SPEECH TO PLEASE ALL FOE PARTIES

French Papers Comment on Effort of German Chancellor.

Paris, July 20.—Commenting on Michaelis' speech The Matin points out that the occasion is likely to have great effect in the future—parliament considered it impossible merely to accept the government's declarations and itself formulated its own views on peace and war. Besides secret unity evidently no longer exists in the German parliament; it is no longer a homogeneous force. It is the paper says, a minority which approves the speech representative and a majority which maintains its own point of view without, however, daring as yet to impose it.

CENSORSHIP ERROR IN FRANCE A PUZZLE

Operator's Blunder May Have Allowed London to Publish First News.

CORRESPONDENTS CLEAR

All Despatches Filed in Regular Manner, But Two Got Out.

Paris.—Altho more than a week has passed since the arrival of American troops, no really satisfactory explanation has yet been made to the public of how the news came to be published in the London press two full days before the story was officially "released" for publication. One thing is certain no shadow of responsibility for this singular "blunder" rests on either the Reuter or The London Times correspondents here, who filed their cables in the normal manner in accordance with instructions, and who have been personally exonerated by General Pershing himself.

ARRIVE ON MONDAY

Buildings Are Being Enlarged and Showers Constructed.

With all the cadets transferred to Camp Mohawk and the last aeroplane leaving today, Long Branch is no longer an aviation centre for Canadian cadets, but is being rapidly transformed to accommodate upwards of 700 men of the United States Army Signal Corps, who will be taught under British officers the use of machine guns and wireless, while in aeroplanes. All of these men are uninitiated men with American training, and in placing them under the Royal Flying Corps officers, the United States is only following out her great plan of co-operation with the allies. She realizes that to perfect her flying squadrons she must have them trained by officers that have been on active service instead.

TO ARRIVE MONDAY

On Monday the first contingent is expected to arrive, and operations were yesterday begun in transforming the barracks into mess and kitchen buildings. No other buildings outside of a number of lavatories and showers, are to be erected, the men being housed in the regulation barrack tents.
