

the Medical officers at the Asylum, for their unwearied and gratuitous attention; and while so doing they should announce that it is the intention of those Gentlemen to remove the Dispensary from the Lying-in Hospital, in order to add to the convenience, and to afford room for extending the usefulness of the latter. The Society, therefore, hope this change will prove a stronger inducement to the public to increase their usual kind subscriptions to facilitate the contemplated arrangement.

The Committee, in conclusion, trust that at this season of festivity and rejoicing to those, whom the return of Christmas and the advent of a New Year find in the full enjoyment of their domestic comforts, they will be happy to be reminded of the necessities of those of their fellow creatures for whose relief this Asylum is opened, and will give their ready aid to replenish its exhausted funds.
