PREMIER NORRIS MAKES DENIAL ON WITNESS STAND

Winnipeg, July 12.—When the Liberals today resumed the presentation of their case in answer to the charges of a "deal" between the political parties, Isaac Pi-blado, chief Liberal counsel, called T. C. Norris, Premier of Manitoba, as first witness. Mr. Norris said he had known ex-Attorney-General Howden and William Chambers a good many years. "Did you ever authorize Chambers to negotiate for you, or the Liberal party, in connection with election protests?" asked Pi-blado. "No, I did not," was the premier's reply. In reply to further questioning, he said he did not know Chambers was carrying on any such negotiations nor that Chambers held any money in his possession in connection with election protests. He said he was not a party to any such arrangement, as charged and had no knowledge of the French system. Mr. Norris was asked about his meeting with Howden which was the result of a request from Chambers. Howden came to Winnipeg and saw Norris at the latter's home. The premier absolutely denied Howden's version of what took place.

ANOTHER ADDED TO THE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS OF CITY

Provincial Bank of Canada Opens Branch in St. John With Dufferin W. Harper as Manager
"Provincial Bank of Canada, St. John, N. B." is a new sign in St. John in a few days for within a week or so a branch of this well known financial institution, with headquarters in Montreal, will be established here. Dufferin W. Harper will be manager. The announcement is made today following the arrival of T. Bluenveue and Sir Alex. Lacoste of Montreal here at the end of the week. Mr. Bluenveue is the general manager of the bank and Sir Alex. Lacoste is the president of the board of directors, composed of directors who specially supervise the wise investment of the deposits in the savings branch of the bank—the only similar branch in connection with Canadian banks, adapted from the French system. H. H. Laporte, of Montreal, is president. For the present the bank's quarters will be in the former Leclerc store in the Market Building, Germain street, and meanwhile arrangements are being made for a permanent home in Charlotte street. A twenty year lease of these latter quarters will be taken and there will be ornate and attractive bank fixtures with the latest ideas in bank work carried out. Included will be a special for the ladies transacting business with the bank. Already there are three branches of the Provincial Bank of Canada in this province, at Moncton, Edmundston and Carleton Place, and it is evidence of the progressive character of this bank, that during May and June, ten branches were instituted in it in various parts of the Dominion. The vice-president of the bank is G. M. Bosworth, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who is well known here, and it is largely on requests made to him that the project for the establishment of the bank in this city was taken up and has been carried to this point where the doors of the institution are about to be opened.

Mr. Harper, appointed manager for St. John, has eleven years' successful experience in banking, latterly as the manager of the Charlotte street branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia from which he resigned about two months ago. Many warm friends in the city will be pleased to learn of his taking charge of the new bank, and they will be glad to see C. Murray, who was also formerly in the Charlotte street branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, will be assistant manager, and other members of the staff will be selected locally.

Cissy Fitzgerald at IMPERIAL TONIGHT
Cissy Fitzgerald, the eminent old country comedienne, appears at the Imperial tonight and tomorrow in the four-part Vitagraph comedy, "The Winklesome Widow." This is a perfectly delightful bit of fun, and the cast includes such able supporting players as L. Rogers Lytton, Wally Van, Hughie Mack, Donald Hall, Nicholas Dunaway, Albert Rocard and others.

St. John people know just what to expect when the splendid Fitzgerald company puts on a feature picture. The programme will be elaborated in the line of comedy with Boothby & Evardeen, a lady and gentleman who have been brought back to the Imperial because of their superior art in making people laugh. They are highly refined both in what they do and in a personal way, making their offering smart and dainty. The Animated Weekly will contain pictures of the murderous Frank Holt, the German who attacked J. P. Morgan, recruiting scenes in England, the West Indian contingent and other views especially interesting to Canadians just now.

NOT IN DANGER.
H. E. Fawcett of Sackville has received a cablegram from Doctor Ryan of Paris, stating that Norman W. Fawcett is not seriously ill, and advising his parents not to worry.

SENSATION AT MARTELLO TOWER
Daughter of Commissioner Wigmore Seized by Man Who Said She Was Under Arrest For Trespass—Information Laid

While Miss Wigmore, daughter of Commissioner Wigmore, was with a party of children in the vicinity of the old Martello tower yesterday morning, she was summarily seized by a man who came running from around the corner. The children ran to give the alarm and Commissioner Wigmore and another neighbor rushed to the rescue.

When they arrived the man explained that he was in charge of the tower and that the young lady was under arrest for trespassing on military property. It is said it required some argument before he consented to release her, but the young lady was under arrest for trespassing on military property. DAINTY FOOD.
Turn Pale Cheeks to Pink.
Our best physicians of the present day seek to cure patients by the use of food and right living, rather than heavy drugs, and this is the true method, for only from food can the body be rebuilt.

Many people, after living on poorly selected or badly cooked food for a long time, and when their ailments become chronic, expect the doctor, with some magic potency, to instantly rebuild them. This is not possible. The only true method is to turn as quickly as can be, from poor food to good. A young lady says:

"I was variously treated for my nerves, stomach, lungs, etc., but none of the treatments gave me relief. "About a year ago when my appetite failed completely and I began to have sinking spells similar to fainting, I took all manner of tonics and stimulants, but they were of no effect. I had been brought to quit drinking coffee and taking Postum in its place and gradually managed to get a little better.

"Someone suggested that if I found Postum so beneficial I had better use Grape-Nuts food, as they were both the children of one brain. I commenced on Grape-Nuts food for breakfast, having Postum with it. I found the food so dainty, delicious, and appetizing that I always looked forward to breakfast with pleasure.

"Shortly after commencing this diet, the wretched pain in my side was greatly relieved, and now, a year later, it has gone entirely, also the sinking spells; in fact, my pale cheeks have changed to pink, I have gained back more than the twenty pounds I lost, and am thoroughly well in every way.

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville," in page, "There's a Reason" Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

TO AID UNEMPLOYED WITH FEDERAL LAND
Government Committee Working on a Back-to-the-Farm Programme.

An inter-departmental committee named by Secretary of the Interior and Secretary of Labor Wilson, of the United States, is at work on a plan to relieve the unemployed, under which the federal government would finance workers to take up farm land. A complete programme with preliminary drafts of necessary legislation is to be submitted to congress meets in December, to be proposed in connection with a rural credits bill which the administration is expected to press at that time.

The committee, which includes officials of the general land office, the reclamation service, and the department of labor, was appointed specifically to consider means of broadening the scope of the federal employment bureau in the department of labor, and has the co-operation of officials of the post office department and the department of agriculture. The plan now under consideration contemplates a system of farm credits operating through the department of labor which would enable workers in congested cities to take up agricultural land on government reclamation projects, or public lands, on easy payment plans.

Commissioner General Caminetti of Immigration Bureau suggested a government back-to-the-farm scheme some time ago, and the inter-departmental committee now has developed the idea to a point where work has been begun on the framing of initial drafts of necessary legislation. President Wilson, in a message to the final session of the last congress, regretted the impossibility of the passage of a rural credits bill at that time, and it has been generally believed that he will recommend some action on the subject next winter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Colwell, of Plaster Pond, have their only two sons on active service, one being at the front in Flinders and the other with the 28th Battery of Field Artillery at Valenciennes preparing to go to the firing line. The elder son is Gunner Charles H. Colwell, a graduate of the U. N. B., who left with the 2nd and is now in France with an artillery unit. The younger son is Gunner Gerald Colwell, now at Valcartier. The father, P. R. Colwell, and at one time resided in Fredericton.

ONLY TWO SONS BUT BOTH OFF TO WAR
The graceful pendant hung from a dainty chain is the vogue in neckwear this summer. The woman who desires to be fashionably dressed has a number of these ornaments, because they are the correct thing to wear with every costume and, like rings, one cannot have too many of them. Sharpe's are showing many exquisite designs in Pendants. Until you have examined these ornaments here, you can have no idea of what beautiful ornaments of this kind it is possible to secure for a small expenditure. It will be a pleasure to show you Pendants whether you intend to purchase or not.

SAYS BRITAIN NEEDS APPLY ONLY MILD FORM OF ECONOMY
London, July 12.—Sir George Paish, editor of the Statist and a former adviser to the treasury department, discussing the financial outlook, said that financial conditions in England are not as serious as certain pessimists imply. "On the contrary," he said, "the country is at present on an extremely sound basis. "In a word, our capabilities for economy are illustrated by our extravagances, a statement which may seem to be a paradox, but is not. A nation like England or like America that is extravagant must of necessity possess potentialities of economy, because after all one must judge a nation not by its expenditures, but by its income.

"England has simply to economize and to reduce its extravagance and in proportion from one-sixth to one-third and it will be able to pay for the war without difficulty. To explain a little more fully, the average savings in England are £400,000,000 ($2,000,000,000) a year. Double that saving and you have £800,000,000 ($4,000,000,000) a year. By ignoring the accumulation of capital and regular investment you simply arrive at the solution that if the present expenditure in England is reduced one-sixth then England will still have at her disposal 50 per cent more per capita for livelihood than have the Germans.

"That is the situation in a nutshell. We need economy in England, but we do not need restrictions or privations. The financial outlook is not dubious—it is optimistic. Our people will exercise those restraints upon extravagance that any nation at war must necessarily exercise. But we shall be able to bear the expenditures necessary in this war with the most remarkable leniency as far as the imposition of taxation upon the man in the street is concerned."
