

BUSINESS NOTICE.

The "Miramichi Advance" is published every Thursday morning in time for despatch by the earliest mails of that day.

Advertisements, other than yearly or by the season, are inserted at eight cents per line per week, for first insertion, and three cents per line for each continuation.

CARD.

R. A. LAWLOR,
Barrister-at-Law
Solicitor Conveyancer Notary Public, Etc.
Chatham, N. B.

The Factory
JOHN McDONALD & CO.
(Successors to George Cassidy.)

Manufacturers of Doors, Sashes, Mouldings
Builders' Furnishings generally.
Lumber Dressed and Matched to order.
BAND AND SCROLL-SAWING.
Stock of Dimension and other Lumber constantly on hand.

Drs. G. J. & H. SPROUL
SURGEON DENTISTS.

Extraction without pain by the use of special apparatus.
Artificial Teeth set in Gold, Rubber and other materials.
Preservation and regulating of the natural teeth.

MACKENZIE'S
Quinine Wine and Iron

THE BEST TONIC AND BLOOD MAKER—
50c Bottles
We guarantee it as
Mackenzie's Medical Hall
CHATHAM, N. B.

Insurance.

SCOTCH UNION AND NATIONAL IMPERIAL
LONDON & LANCASHIRE
LANCASHIRE
ETA, LONDON
NORWICH UNION,
BENEFIT OF LONDON
MANCHESTER.

Mrs. Jas. G. Miller.

WE DO
Job Printing

Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads,
Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills.

Printing For Sew Mills.

ON WOOD, LINEN, COTTON, OR SPECIALTY
Come and see our Work and compare it with that of any other printer in the Miramichi Advance Job Printing Office
CHATHAM, N. B.

DO NOT MARRY THE GIRL—

Who is lazy.
Who is not neat and tidy in her dress.
Who is deceitful, and not true to her friends.
Who lusses, fumes, and fidgets about everything.
Who has the highest aspiration has never soared above self.

MIRAMICHI FOUNDRY
STEAM ENGINE AND BOILER WORKS
Chatham, N. B.

JOSEPH M. RUDDOCK, PROPRIETOR.
Steam Engines and Boilers, Mill Machinery of all kinds.
Steamers of any size constructed & furnished complete.
GANG EDGERS, SHINGLE AND LATH MACHINES,
CASTINGS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Can Dies,
Iron Pipe, Valves and Fittings of All Kinds.

DESIGNS, PLANS AND ESTIMATES FURNISHED ON APPLICATION.

The Ticket-of-Leave Man

"Spoofed; sold; done brown. Sam Pettit, you're in luck, and now for the first time in your life, you're a free man."

Sam Pettit, my boy, you're in luck. An old man with white hair, close cropped, bent over a grimy nose, a paper, a clay pipe with bowl turned down hung out of his mouth, and a leg of his beer stood at his elbow.

"What's that?" asked Sam Pettit, looking at the man who had just spoken. "That's a ticket-of-leave man, my boy. He's a free man, but he's got to keep his nose clean."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

CHATHAM, NEW BRUNSWICK, JULY 7, 1904

And down the street, as if contemplating flight, but the sight of a constable in the vicinity made him change his tactics.

"Yes, Sam Pettit, I have found you at last. No, don't think to escape, or I will be in charge of you. Then—then you don't mean harm to me?"

"I want the jewels you stole from Mr. Renshaw; after that I don't care what becomes of you; but the jewels I must have."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

About the House

Strawberry Shrub—One pint of strawberry juice, one cup lemon, one cup sugar. Set on ice until needed, then turn into this glass, having them full; all one quarter more with seltzer water; then place whipped cream on top.

Strawberry Dumplings—Take the same recipe as for short cake, but roll into a sheet about a sixteenth of an inch thick; cut into rounds; put five large berries in center; fold the dough over and wet with water; seal the edges; then place in a greased tin; bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Strawberry Shrub—One pint of strawberry juice, one cup lemon, one cup sugar. Set on ice until needed, then turn into this glass, having them full; all one quarter more with seltzer water; then place whipped cream on top.

Strawberry Dumplings—Take the same recipe as for short cake, but roll into a sheet about a sixteenth of an inch thick; cut into rounds; put five large berries in center; fold the dough over and wet with water; seal the edges; then place in a greased tin; bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Strawberry Shrub—One pint of strawberry juice, one cup lemon, one cup sugar. Set on ice until needed, then turn into this glass, having them full; all one quarter more with seltzer water; then place whipped cream on top.

Strawberry Dumplings—Take the same recipe as for short cake, but roll into a sheet about a sixteenth of an inch thick; cut into rounds; put five large berries in center; fold the dough over and wet with water; seal the edges; then place in a greased tin; bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Strawberry Shrub—One pint of strawberry juice, one cup lemon, one cup sugar. Set on ice until needed, then turn into this glass, having them full; all one quarter more with seltzer water; then place whipped cream on top.

Strawberry Dumplings—Take the same recipe as for short cake, but roll into a sheet about a sixteenth of an inch thick; cut into rounds; put five large berries in center; fold the dough over and wet with water; seal the edges; then place in a greased tin; bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Strawberry Shrub—One pint of strawberry juice, one cup lemon, one cup sugar. Set on ice until needed, then turn into this glass, having them full; all one quarter more with seltzer water; then place whipped cream on top.

Strawberry Dumplings—Take the same recipe as for short cake, but roll into a sheet about a sixteenth of an inch thick; cut into rounds; put five large berries in center; fold the dough over and wet with water; seal the edges; then place in a greased tin; bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Strawberry Shrub—One pint of strawberry juice, one cup lemon, one cup sugar. Set on ice until needed, then turn into this glass, having them full; all one quarter more with seltzer water; then place whipped cream on top.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Notes of Interest About Some Leading People.

Adam Siepen, the armless painter, has just died at Dusseldorf. He was blind from birth, and his left eye had been lost.

Among the cherished treasures of Sir John and Lady Bancroft is a square wooden box containing a silver plate, and adorned with a brilliant diamond.

Queen Margherita is a great linguist, and is justly proud of her fluency in many languages.

Samuel Pettit, the man sprang from his chair and glared about him. "Yes, yes. Who called me?"

"I did," said the man who had just spoken. "I mean that you are an impostor; you are not my father, but Samuel Pettit, and here is your ticket-of-leave."

"You are making a mistake, I tell you. I am not your father, but I am your father's father. I am your grandfather."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

"I don't know what you mean, but I'm not going to be a ticket-of-leave man. I want to be a free man, and I want to be a man who can take care of himself."

"That's all very well, but you've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself. You've got to be a man who can take care of himself."

BREAKING THE REMOUNTS

TRAINING RUSSIAN CAVALRY HORSES. How the Cavalry Regiments of the Czar's Army Are Kept Up.

Unlike the British soldier, the Russian cavalryman knows very little and cares even less about the management and treatment of his horse. The officers in Russian "crack regiments" consider it very much below their dignity to take any hand in the breaking in of a remount, and such work is usually relegated to those in inferior positions.

Most of the mounts used in the Russian army come from the vast plains that lie around the basins of the rivers Don and Dnieper. Those bred in the neighborhood of the Don are looked upon as the best mounts, but all have a fine character for speed and endurance.

The Russians have rather a peculiar system of supplying their army with remounts. In the first place, there are the cavalry regiments, or riding schools. Each school supplies a certain regiment with its remounts and an officer from the regiment is usually retained at the riding school ostensibly for the purpose of studying the art of breaking-in. Needless to say, the cavalry regiments have no hand in the breaking in of their mounts.

THE REMOUNTS are drawn from the horses that roam about in the neighborhood of the station. Kalmucks are employed to break in the horses, and the most difficult part of the breaking-in. On the morning of a "round up" these hardy natives, mounted on their feet and well-trained horses, ride after a troop of embryo remounts. They carry at their saddle-sides coiled lassos, in the use of which they are as dexterous as the American cowboy. As soon as they are drawn from the station, the Kalmucks select the most difficult part of the breaking-in. On the morning of a "round up" these hardy natives, mounted on their feet and well-trained horses, ride after a troop of embryo remounts.

DO WE EAT TOO MUCH. The Japs Afford Us a Valuable Object Lesson. Physiologists say that the Japanese present the most perfect physique of any race in the world.

As soon as this Kalmuck jumps into the saddle and the others let go. The rider, after being jolted up a good deal, is unseated and the horse makes for the open country. The others at once start in pursuit, bring him back, and another Kalmuck mounts him. The too is likewise thrown, and the chase starts afresh. Sometimes this continues for half-a-dozen times before the work is over.

It is a popular fallacy that three "hearty" meals a day are necessary to one's physical well-being. In fact, we should all feel better if we ate less. In this, as in many other matters, self-denial and happiness go hand-in-hand.

HELPFUL HINTS. If the hands are rubbed on a stick of celery after peeling onions the stinging will be completely removed. Tubs will not warp or crack open if the precaution is taken to put a film of water into each directly after use.

POLITENESS ALWAYS PAYS. If those who are doubtful as to the correct course to pursue in any given situation will remember that even the wrong thing is overlooked if one is their respective riders and carefully and absolutely polite in the doing of it, their relief might be great.

WHERE LAMBS PROPOSE. Between the mountains of India and Persia is a powerful tribe among whom an extraordinary custom prevails. Women's rights have apparently received full recognition, for the ladies of the tribe can choose their own husbands. All a single woman has to do when she wishes to change her status is to send a servant to pin a handkerchief to the hat of a man whom she fancy lights, and he is obliged to marry her, unless he can show that he is too poor to purchase her at the price her father requires.

SCHOOLS FOR FISHERMEN.

There are now in Belgium four schools for the instruction of fishermen. The pupils are taught now to read, write, and use a fishing net.

Famous Violinist (after his great solo): "Do you play any instrument?" "No, no. I don't play any instrument." "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."

"I am going to marry your daughter, sir," said the positive young man. "Well, you don't need to come here for sympathy," replied the violinist. "I have trouble enough of my own."