Hopewell Hill. April 23.-The intelligence of the death from consumption of Miss Arvilla Edgett, formerly of Riverside, which occurred yesterday at her mother's residence in Moncton, will be heard by regret by her many friends in this county. The deceased was the eldest daughter of Capt. Hiram Edgett, and for some years had held a position in the Cen-tral book store in Moncton. The remains were brought by rail today to Riverside for interment.

As stated in a previous issue, the Scott act case against Mrs. Dorcis Downing, which opened at the Hill some weeks since, has been far reach-ing in its effects and new developments continue to crop up at every turn. In addition to the Scott act case itself, no less than three cases have arisen as side issues, and are new occupying the attention of the courts C. N. O'Regan, a former Scott act offender, who was wanted as a witness in the Dewning case, is on trial for resisting arrest at the hands of Constable D. W. Stuart; Lavinia Decker is called upon to answer to the charge of aiding O'Regan in essaping from the constable, and later on Squire W.S.Starratt, one of the magistrates in the Scott act case, was arrested on account of an irregularity in the issue of the warrant under which O'hegan was arrested, the return day having been changed from the 2nd to the 8th inst. BE CAREFUL WITH THAT LAMP! I sincerely hope that Mrs. Filmer has abandoned the custom of keeping an oil lamp burning in her room of cessity was, but I trust it no longer exists. If possible to avoid it, no light should burn in a room wherein people are sleeping. The reasons ought to be plain enough, vet we all need lessons in common caution. This lady had hers, and was fortunate in com-

of the most important insurance cases | Writing about it, she says: "It was that has been before the court for in the summer of 1886, not long after the death of my husband. I had been used to keeping an oil lamp burning

My nerves seemed completely unhinged, and I rapidly grew feeble, ex-Spaulding, superintendent of the C. P. citable and debilitated. My appetite R. works, returned last week from a failed, and I had no relish for any orfour months' trip to England, and has dinary food. There was a bad taste in my mouth, headache, distress after eating, loss of flesh and ambition, with a disposition to worry and fret over things which, when I was well, had no influence with me whatever. sought to build up my strength with beef tea and other nutritious and digestible forms of diet, without success "The doctors whom I consulted said I was suffering from nervous debility has been a painter here for some and weakness. They gave me pre-months, returned to Coburg tonight to scriptions, which the chemist made up for me; but they had no effect, and what I suffered I have no words to tell. My health appeared to have been all broken up suddenly, as a railway train goes to pieces in a collision. Month after month I struggled with Episcopal, of Vanceboro, has been this strange aliment, but could find engaged by the Union congregation no remedy to relieve me. Not until ere as their pastor for the ensuing January, 1887, did I see my way out of the trouble which followed my adventure of that fearful night "At that time (January, 1887), I about Mother Seigel's Syrup, as a cure were printed in that book from others from Mr. J. H. Brown, patent medicine could eat and digest needed food: my nerves were more under control, and merely add that, feeling sure Mother Seigel's Syrup was helping me, recovered my health. For this I thank Mother Seigel's Syrup; and if you think so singular an experience as mine would be of interest or use to any one, you may have my consent to publish it. (Signed) C. L. Filmer, Thanet Cottage, Draper's Road, Margate, July 24th, 1895."

Now I invite the reader's attention to a double fact: First (as is daily shown in these articles), that indigestion will disorder and disease the nervous system; and second, that a violent shock to the nervous system will produce indigestion of a profound and intractable type. The latter fact is illustrated by the case we are now considering. There is no space here to treat of it at length. Let it suffice for the present that, either way, the remedy must be addressed to the digestion-not to the nerves. No competent physician treats a so-called "nervous" disease as a nervous disease. He seeks for the location of the evil force, which is commonly the stomach; corrects that if he can, and leaves the nerves to right themselve as they always do. This is what Mother Seigel's Syrup did for Mrs. Filmer, and will do for you, in case (which Providence forbid) you are ever overthrown in like manner.
