

POOR DOCUMENT M 2034

ST. JOHN STAR.

VOL. 6, NO. 2.

ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1905.

EIGHT PAGES

ONE CENT

THE CORBIN Door Check and Spring

Will shut a door
Noiselessly,
Easily,
Quickly.

Works where others fail.

Five sizes for all different weight doors.
Better have one put on now.

W. H. THORNE & CO., Limited
MARKET SQUARE, ST. JOHN, N. B.

HUTCHINGS & CO.

Are Showing some New Styles in
White Enamelled Iron Bedsteads.

Mattress and Bedding Warerooms,
101 to 107 GERMAIN STREET

WATER FILTERS

The drinking water just now is very bad.
Why not buy a good filter and have pure drinking water?

The "Hygienic," a handsome nickel plated filter is filled with quartz and charcoal, which will thoroughly clear the water of all vegetable and animal matter.

Price 50c.

Emerson & Fisher, Ltd.
25 GERMAIN STREET.

How to Earn Money

If you would write Post Office Box 79, St. John, N. B., and send the names of your friends or other reliable persons that I could sell any of the following articles to, as Watches of all kinds, Diamonds, Brooches and Pins, Ladies' and Gents' Gold and Set Rings, Waist Sets, Cuff Studs or any kind of Jewelry or Clocks of any kind, or Silver Knives, Forks, Spoons, Tea Sets, Butter Dishes, Cake Baskets, or Silverware of any kind, I would pay you in cash as soon as the sale was made. I would also give honest and reliable persons credit of three and four months. All business strictly confidential. Any one writing to me and opening an account will also get a discount off my regular prices. All goods fully warranted.

S. ROMANOFF,
Successor to B. Myers, 695 Main Street.

First showing of new FALL COATS and FURS. Ladies' Coats made from a superior grade of mannish material, 40 to 50 inches in length, loose fitting effects. Others trimmed with straps of satin material, piped with velvet, large silk buttons. Others with wide tucks and notch collar of velvet, newest sleeves with turned back cuff, piped. All sizes.

A complete line of Misses Coats, etc.
Fine range in Furs of all kinds.

S. ROMANOFF, - - 695 Main St.

Now Is The Time to have your Stoves and Furnaces put in order and avoid the rush later.

We have competent men and can attend to your orders promptly. Satisfaction guaranteed.

J. E. WILSON, Ltd.

Office and Sheet Metal Works: 17 and 19 Sydney St.
Foundry: 70 to 190 Brussels St.

High Grade Tailoring, At Lower Prices Than Usual.

The chief reason why we are able to make you CLOTHING TO MEASURE at lower prices than other tailors is that we get cash, have no "bad debts," no bookkeeper, no collectors to be paid at your expense, and for this reason can save you from $2 to $5 on your Fall Suit or Overcoat. Our fall and winter clothes are beautiful. See them.

Men's Suits to measure, $12.00 to $30.00
Men's Overcoats to measure 15.00 to 26.00
Men's Pants to measure 3.50 to 7.50

N. HARVEY, Men's and Boys' Clothing
199 and 201 Union St

WAR DECLARED IN THE CAUCASUS.

Tartars Massacring Armenian Christians Wholesale.

Children Flung to the Dogs—Many Forced to Turn Mohammedan to Save Their Lives.

(See also page five.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12.—A state of war has been proclaimed in the Caucasus districts of Zangezur and Gabriel, where Tartars are killing the Armenians without distinction of sex or age. The country is flooded with bands of Tartars. Many thousands of Tartar horsemen have crossed the frontier from Persia and joined the insurgents in killing Armenians. At the village of Monkend three hundred Armenians were slaughtered. Despatches say that mutilated children were thrown to the dogs and that a few survivors were forced to embrace Islamism in order to save their lives.

The salt works at Baskunchak have been obliged to close, owing to the scarcity of fuel, and this will paralyze the fishing industry.

TIFLIS, Caucasus, Sept. 12.—A hundred social democrats were killed or wounded today in a conflict with Cossacks at the town hall and many were trampled to death in a subsequent panic. Two thousand social democrats had forced an entrance into the town hall which had been closed owing to the celebration of a religious holiday, the beheading of John the Baptist. Revolutionary speeches were made and the chief of police ordered the meeting to disperse. Part of those present obeyed but the remainder refused and some revolvers were fired. A large force of Cossacks drawn up outside the building then fired repeated volleys into the crowd, killing 30 and wounding upwards of 70. In the panic many persons fell and were trampled to death by their comrades and the pursuing Cossacks.

BATUM, Caucasus, Sept. 12.—There is a growing agitation among the local Mussulmans against the Christians. The authorities have seized documents inciting an outbreak.

HARRY VAIL GREETED ST. JOHN FRIENDS TODAY.

Harry Vail, the well known oarsman, arrived today from Baltimore, and was greeted by a large number of friends. He leaves tomorrow morning for Gagetown to join his wife, and also for three weeks' hunting. Mr. Vail has just returned from the middle States regatta, where his crew, the "Ariels" of Baltimore, won first place in the four oared race, which was held at Philadelphia on Saturday, over 200 oarsmen taking part. Mr. Vail, speaking of the St. Mary's crew of Halifax, says that if the Halifax crew had taken the right course, the chances are that they would have won. They however got fourth place. He also witnessed O'Neill of Halifax win his race and thinks well of him, although his style is somewhat crude, he evidently never having been coached properly. With proper coaching and more experience he has the making of a good man in him.

Mr. Vail has heard nothing as regards local rowing, and seeing no entries anywhere from St. John, regards it as a great pity. At this regatta a new race for eights was introduced each man plying a pair of oars. His plans for next year are undecided, but he expects to return to Baltimore where he will coach a four oared crew which will be sent to Henley.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—A Waiter or Waitress at the HOTEL EDWARD at once. 12 1/2 ft.

WANTED—A Housemaid. Apply to MRS. JAS. S. HARDING, 244 Germain street.

WANTED—Cooks, Housemaids and General Girls. 133 Charlotte street. MISS H. A. FROST, Tel. 993.

WANTED—Board wanted in private family in Carleton. Address E. R., care Star Office.

WANTED—Coat makers at once. T. L. MURPHY, Ladies' Tailor, 75 King street.

IF YOU HAVE a musical ear I can teach you to play the violin and read music in three lessons. M. GOUDE, Violin Teacher, Studio, 109 Moore street.

WANTED—At once, Girl for general housework, 24 Wellington Row.

Dress making and all kinds of coat and mantle making done at Main street, 88 rear, lower flat.

BOARDERS WANTED—We have room for a limited number of permanent winter boarders. Terms moderate. PRINCE ROYAL HOTEL, 113 Princess street. J. P. WHELAN, Prop.

GRAHAM, CUNNINGHAM & NAVES, Successors to Crothers, Henderson & Wilson. Repairing in all its branches attended to. Order work a specialty. 45 Peters street. Telephone 1695.

TO LET—Flat containing six rooms. Apply on premises, 321 Charlotte street, W. E.

RUPERT'S ACCUSER HAS DISSAPPEARED

Boy Who Was Stabbed Can't Be Found.

So Hampton Circuit Court Scheduled for Today Had to be Postponed Until Next Tuesday.

(Special to the Star.)

HAMPTON, N. B., Sept. 12.—The circuit court of Kings County opened this morning on the arrival of the accommodation train from St. John at 10 a. m. The chief justice on the bench. The full panel of twenty-four grand jurors was present, and after choosing James E. Waddell as their foreman they were sworn and addressed by his honor, who first congratulated them upon their attendance and the paucity of crime in the county. He expressed his regret at finding such a lack of accommodation provided for the judges and public officials by the municipality, and contrasted those with the provisions made by the county of Gloucester, which possessed the finest court house in the province. In view of what he had subsequently to say to them, as well as from the fact that whenever witnesses they had to lose their time from their several avocations, as well as their expenses of travel, he thought provision ought to be made to remunerate them for their services.

He then reviewed the case to be considered by them as shown by the evidence given at the preliminary examination in the case of the King on the complaint of William Lowe, an immigrant who was stabbed by a farmer of Norton named Moses Rupert, on the 27th July. Only two witnesses were examined, the complainant and Dr. Wetmore. They would hear the evidence of the latter, but unfortunately the complainant was not forthcoming. From an unknown cause he had not presented himself in court, and it would be necessary to adjourn the court until this day week, to see whether he could be found in the county or in the province.

After the jury retired the complainant, William Lowe, was called to appear and give evidence against Moses Rupert on the charge preferred against him, and as there was no response his recognizances were forfeited.

The petit jury was called, and every man summoned answered his name. The circumstances were explained once more, and they were dismissed till next Tuesday, Sept. 19th, at 10.30 o'clock, on the arrival of the freight train from St. John, to which the return of the grand jury from taking the evidence of Dr. Wetmore.

Gen. W. Fowler, M. P., who appeared for Rupert, informed the chief justice that neither his client nor himself were responsible in any way for the absence of the latter.

The solicitor general was present to conduct the case for the crown, with Mr. H. McKeown, who represents the inland department of the government.

It was said that Lowe left the farm of Moses Burgess on Monday of last week, saying he would not appear in court unless he were paid for his time and expenses. He was subsequently met in St. John by a neighbor, to whom he said he was visiting there.

(Special to the Star.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 12.—The Supreme court this morning delivered judgment in re petition of Geo. S. Cushing against the Cushing Sulphite Co. for a winding up order. In chambers Judge McLeod granted the order for winding up under the act and the Cushing Co. appealed to the full bench against this order. It was on this appeal that the court this morning delivered judgment.

There were present today Judges Hanington, Landry and McLeod. Judge McLeod made a lengthy judgment of his own in which he upheld the order made by him in chambers and giving his decision that the appeal be dismissed with costs.

Justice Hanington read the judgment of the chief justice in which he contended that the appeal should be allowed. The chief justice said that the company was insolvent and furthermore that the great majority of the creditors were opposed to a winding-up order. Justice Hanington said to his mind it was evident that if the property is sold everybody would be paid in full and those mostly interested had sworn that it would be disastrous to the company and to those concerned to grant a winding-up order. The interest of Mr. Cushing is secured and whether the mortgage should sell or the court appoint a liquidator. It was in the interest of all that a liquidator should do the selling. It had been alleged that the mill should be sold as a going concern. This could be done even if the liquidation were granted as it had been shown that there were sufficient funds and business on hand to run the business until sold.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

SECOND EDITION.

599 Men
Lost With Mikasa.

Admiral Togo's Splendid
Flagship, Unscathed
Through the War,
Destroyed by Fire.

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—The Japanese battleship Mikasa, which was the flagship of Vice Admiral Togo during the Battle of Sea of Japan, caught fire and sank at 2.30 a. m. yesterday.

The Mikasa was a first-class battleship, of 15,200 tons displacement. She was built in England, 1902. She has a speed of 18 knots and carried a crew of 55 officers and men.

LATER.

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—The loss by the sinking of the Mikasa totals 599 men and six officers and men including detachments from other warships which went to the rescue of the vessel.

LATE PERSONALS

Mrs. W. H. Hayck and son are expected home tomorrow from Toronto, where they have been visiting while Mr. Hayck has been on a business trip to Newfoundland.

Rev. H. Carson, of St. George, was in the city today.

Harry "Dutch" Ervin and wife arrived from New Glasgow this morning, where Mr. Ervin has been employed for some time past. Mr. Ervin's many friends gave him a hearty welcome.

The funeral took place at 9.30 this morning of the late Wm. R. Croke, and was largely attended. The funeral was held from the residence of his brother-in-law, Dennis O'Neil, 609 Main street, to St. Peter's church, where the services were conducted by the Rev. Father Scully. The body was taken to Moncton for interment.

APPEAL IN CUSHING CASE DISMISSED---COURT DIVIDED.

(Special to the Star.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 12.—The Supreme court this morning delivered judgment in re petition of Geo. S. Cushing against the Cushing Sulphite Co. for a winding up order. In chambers Judge McLeod granted the order for winding up under the act and the Cushing Co. appealed to the full bench against this order. It was on this appeal that the court this morning delivered judgment.

There were present today Judges Hanington, Landry and McLeod. Judge McLeod made a lengthy judgment of his own in which he upheld the order made by him in chambers and giving his decision that the appeal be dismissed with costs.

Justice Hanington read the judgment of the chief justice in which he contended that the appeal should be allowed. The chief justice said that the company was insolvent and furthermore that the great majority of the creditors were opposed to a winding-up order. Justice Hanington said to his mind it was evident that if the property is sold everybody would be paid in full and those mostly interested had sworn that it would be disastrous to the company and to those concerned to grant a winding-up order. The interest of Mr. Cushing is secured and whether the mortgage should sell or the court appoint a liquidator. It was in the interest of all that a liquidator should do the selling. It had been alleged that the mill should be sold as a going concern. This could be done even if the liquidation were granted as it had been shown that there were sufficient funds and business on hand to run the business until sold.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

Judge Landry concurred in the judgments delivered by Tuck and Hanington.

DOMVILLE-EARLE WEDDING TODAY.

One of Most Brilliant Events in Rothesay's History.

St. Paul's Church Crowded by Friends of the Bride and Groom From All Over Canada.

(Continued on page 6.)

The wedding which to-day is crowding St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rothesay, to the doors is probably the most brilliant in the history of that fashionable suburb. It takes place at four o'clock this afternoon, when William Zolieski Earle, manager of the St. John street railway, and Miss Isabelle Domville, third daughter of Senator and Mrs. James Domville, will be united in marriage.

At nine o'clock this morning a number of the bride's friends entered the little English church. Loads of flowers, masses of white, yellow and green, the goldenrod of the wayside and the rarest flowers from the conservatories were brought to the door and immediately the work of transformation began. The old walls of the church disappeared and, together with pillars and arches were made gay with floral trimmings. The interior was decorated in green and white with a touch of pink while the entrance from the porch was decked with white and yellow wild flowers.

(Continued on page 6.)

MISCREANT PAYS PENALTY.

Brutal Murderer of Little Girl Dies in Electric Chair, Unafraid and Confident of Forgiveness.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Henry Hanzer this morning was electrocuted in the death chamber of Auburn prison. He was escorted to the chair at 6.56 and before a minute had been planned and the mask drawn over his face. State Executioner Davis immediately made six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

The crime for which Hanzer forfeited his life was committed in a little town six miles east of Oswego, near the edge of a piece of woods on Sunday, May 28, last, he killed little Cora Sweet, a child of twelve summers. By some means he induced the unsuspecting child to accompany him into the woods where he brutally murdered her by beating out her brains with a stone and then ravished her, according to his own confession. During his confinement in the corridor of the condemned he had read the Bible studiously and had expressed hope of forgiveness.

&lt;