Denuty of the Minister of the Interior.

The only train of the International Type is the construction train, to which an ordinary day coach is attached.

Bright and early Mrs. Thaw and her attendants were on the scene and boarded the train. She was fittingly attired for the journey, which is an exceedingly rough one after the railway is left, with a short skirt of grey cloth, tan leggins and shoes, a sweater with roll collar. With a red tie and a fedora hat set jauntingly on her head she presented an attractive picture. The road to Restigouche Lodge is one of the worst on the river. most of the latter eleven the warm ing is the most comfortable mode of travel.

The fles are terrible at this seakon on this trail, and it is likely Mrs. Thaw had the trip of her life. But all discomforts will be amply repaid when Restigouche Lodge is reached and her loved one joined. This is one of the most picturesque country and the fishing capecially this season has been good.

Mrs. Thaw seems to be failing, and already her hair about the temples is timed with grey. She has at times a worried look, but is still a beautiful woman. She held aloof and would not be interviewed by the press representatives, sending them word that she had nothing of interest to tell them. And Restigouche Lodge will prove quiet enough no doubt.

A HEADLINER AT THE PRINCESS A triemph in vaudeville is in store for patrons at the Princess theatre this afternoon and all this week. The great feature of the show is "The The great feature of the show is The Sidonias," who are enroute home to New York after a most successful European tour, playing the principal cities of England, Germany, Holland, Belguim, Austria, Denmark, France, etc., etc. This big headliner is entirely different from anything ever seen here and is the greatest laugh producer in the vaudeville world. A wonder-ful original eccentric pantomine will be on the boards and every man, woman, and child who see "The Tramp and the Golf Girl" present their excellent act today will talk about it all the week. Everything will be so different in the vaudeville line, and entire show so excellent throughout with all its new feature pictures in addition, that capacity houses should prevail. The only old feature is the price, but the public will get the benefit. If you cannot stand a laugh that will shake you all over don't attempt to go to the Princess theatre

this afternoon or evening. NICKEL'S NEW LAUGHING FEA-

This is to be the week of weeks at This is to be the week of weeks at the Nickel. The leading feature for the first three days will be the little comedy sketch that has been woven around the song-hit, "I Remember You," which Miss Holmes is to sing. Mr. Buchanan and Pat Harrington will both "work" in this number and it is sure to create a tornado of laughter. The actions of shorty Pat and lanky CAMPBELLTON, N. B., July 25.—
Considerable interest has again been aroused locally in the now famous Thaw case by the appearance of the star Evelyn Nesbit Thaw at Campbellton. Evelyn with a maid and a male attendant, arrived here on the Limited from Montreal Wednesday morning. She went to the Minto Hotel in the public conveyance and registered as Mrs. Stillman and servants, New York. She ordered the best suite in the hotel and spent a quiet day. At dinner hour considerable interest was manifested when a well-known commercial traveller who dined at the same table, recognized her from perpublished pictures and passed around the word. The only incident of the day was when liquid refreshments was required. Champagne was ordered, but as there is no bar in connection with the Minto, the man servant asked directions and went to procure the wine himself. He went to a nearby tavern, procured two quart bottler of choice vintage and refusing the offer of a wrapper, proceeded along the street carrying a bottle in each hand.
