New York, April 13.—There was quite on influx of selling orders in the different crowds on the floor of the exchange at the opening but the deciline played no seifous part of any great importance as the tendency after a while was to bring about a rally. Patter large hunging about a rally patter large hunging about a different crowds on the floor of the exchange at the opening but the deciline played no serious part of any great importance as the tendency after a while was to bring about a raily. Rather large buying orders appeared and was the means of market taking a turn for the better. The advance was not very broad but sufficient to cause a hesitation in the selling even if it did give market a tired appearance. There was a concerted decline in the local traction securities and it looked as if some one is distributing stock, but for what purpose is not exactly known. There were a few periods of weakness when stocks were probably distributed, but the market although ant over strong at any time appeared as if a good raily is about due. The bank statement should show a favorable exhibit as they have made a net gain of cash through their operations and if they have called loans as it was rumored yesterday they will certainly predicate the prediction. As the market approaches the closing hour prices are quite tirm.
