SEVENTY ROYAL PERSONAGES ROUND DINING TABLES IN BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

Distinguished Arrivals for the Coronation—King Menelik's Representative Arouses Interest—Full Dress Rehearsal in Westminster Abbey—Lord Mayor of Dublin Advises.

London, June 23.—King Edward, who has regained his normal health, returned to Buckingham Palace today accompanied by the queen. They were received all along the route with great enthusiasm. The king and queen gave a grand dinner party tonight at Buckingham Palace to 70 royal personages who practically represented the sovereigns of all the monarchies of the world. This list of their majesties' guests was headed by the Czar of Russia, who arrived in London this evening and included an imposing array of princes and princesses and all the members of the British royal family. Buckingham Palace was beautifully decorated and the bands of the Grenadier and Coldstream Guards discoursed throughout the evening. The dinner was followed by a brilliant reception which was attended by the members of the suites of all the foreign potentates now in London. A full and strictly private rehearsal of the coronation ceremonies took place this afternoon, in which everybody, with the exception of the royal personages and the participants in the musical and religious features rehearsed. The Archbishop of Canterbury and the lord chancellor were among those who were drilled under the superintendency of the Duke of Norfolk, the earl marquis of Salisbury.

Menelik's Representative. None of the special envoys who arrived today, though they included princes of the greatest European dynasties, aroused so much interest as did Ras Makonnen, the victorious Abyssinian general and special representative of King Menelik. In picturesqueness and barbarian splendor the Ethiopian commander and his suite paled even the brilliancy of the oriental princes who had become accustomed to during the past week. Makonnen, who has black, curly hair and wore a hawk (cloak) of white silk, panama hats, a kamander cap of heavy white satin bordered with gold and a broad shawl trimmed green felt hat. Three native Abyssinians, who accompany him, were scarcely less gorgeous, while an African priest, wearing a heavy silver crozier, was the general's constant companion. Ras Makonnen's native followers carried guns and spears. Among the other arrivals today were Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, the Arch Duke Francis Ferdinand, heir presumptive to the throne of Austria, the Prince of the Asturias, Crown Prince Gustaf of Sweden and Norway, Admiral Gervais, head of the French mission, and Mgr. Merry Del Val, the papal envoy. At a luncheon given to the colonial premiers by the North—Staffordshire Chamber of Commerce today, R. J. Seddon, the prime minister of New Zealand complained that an attempt had been made to prejudice the position of the empire before their arrival in England. He said the colonies had no desire to raise the fiscal question, that they wished to bind the empire together, not to disrupt it. Why could they not help the mother country with their colonies, he asked, by following the example of foreign nations in subsidizing steamers which carried their goods? Such action would not interfere with fiscal relationships. The rehearsal was a very striking performance. All the peers, peeresses and officials wore their coronets and robes and King Edward was impersonated by Sir Spencer Possonby-Fane gentleman usher of the sword of state. The Duchess of Marlborough, the Duchess of Devonshire, the Duchess of Portland and the Duchess of Sutherland, who will bear the queen's canopy, were all present, and another court lady impersonated Queen Alexandra.

TORONTO STRIKE ENDED.

AGREEMENT REACHED, AND REGULAR CARS WILL RUN TODAY.

Terms of Settlement Declared Practically a Victory for the Men—They Ratify the Decision at Meeting, Then Hold a Big Parade.

Toronto, June 23.—(Special)—After conference, lasting with but few interruptions since 7 o'clock Sunday night, the street railway strike was formally declared off at 4 o'clock this afternoon and it was announced that regular service will be resumed tomorrow morning. The terms of settlement provide that the present scale of wages—17, 19, 20 and 21 cents to men of various periods of service—shall remain in force until July 1. Meantime, if the men by a majority vote for a scale of 18 cents for first-year men and 20 cents for all others, it shall be put into force and the company will not interfere with the right of employees to organize under any form they may adopt, but it will not recognize a union or allow an union grievance committee. Any employee discharged or suspended may appeal to the general manager and being witness with him. This, in effect, is intended to replace the grievance committee idea. The company agrees to clean the cars and give the men on Sunday special conditions of employment as will enable them to earn as much on that day as on others. The agreement was ratified at a subsequent meeting of the men. The settlement is practically a victory for the strikers. The city police, who have been on duty at the various car barns since Saturday morning, were relieved in the afternoon by detachments of militia who remained on guard to prevent renewal of hoodlum tactics of the mob. The men organized a big parade in honor of the settlement and tonight all is peace.

OIL WELL SHOT.

AT ST. JOSEPH'S; GREAT SUCCESS.

Estimated Twenty-five to Fifty Barrels a Day Will Be the Yield.

ACTIVE WORK TO GO ON.

Column of Oil and Water Thrown One Hundred Feet Above Derrick—One Hundred and Fifty Feet of Oil Found in the Well—Ten More Wells Soon to Be Shot.

Dorchester, N. B., June 23.—(Special)—Yesterday at St. Joseph's oil district the New Brunswick Petroleum Company shot their first oil well and the results exceeded the most sanguine expectations. A policy of greater and more systematic activity was adopted by the company this season in their exploration work, in conformity with a factory for the manufacture of nitro glycerine was established. The building is situated at Memramouc on the bank of a brook at a safe distance from habitations. It is commodious and neat in appearance and equipped with retorts, tanks and other machinery, suitable for the successful and safe blending of the constituent parts of nitro glycerine. M. S. Shaw, an expert from Ontario, has had charge of this branch. This week his work was so far advanced that the operation of shooting wells was commenced. The first explosion was merely a test to prove the strength of the product, and was made in an old well where the oil sands had not been reached. The shot was exploded in the oil shales to determine a question as to whether the shales to be found in the vicinity were in abundance, fully impregnated with oil, would flow on explosion as do the oil sands. The prevailing opinion was that they would not, but the result proved otherwise. Mr. Shaw took about 40 quarts which is considered a small shot of the nitro glycerine to well No. 7, on the Gaudet farm, north west of St. Joseph's College. The charge was actually three times that depth, a depth of 411 feet from the surface. A column of oil and water (the latter having been placed in the well for tamping purposes) was thrown to a height of 100 feet above the top of the derrick. A great volume of crude petroleum together with pieces of the oil rock, was sent forth. The whole formed a magnificent spectacle and was witnessed by a large crowd. An amateur photographer was so amazed by the explosion, quickly followed by the flying column, that he forgot to press the button until it was too late for a picture. After the shot, numbers rushed to the hole where rumbling of the gas and the flow of oil in the well were distinctly heard. Today the officials of the company, including J. H. Gayton, an oil expert from Pennsylvania, visited the well and took pains to determine its capacity. The well is totally free from water, and there was found to be 150 feet of oil in actual depth from the bottom, showing it to be a richly paying well. Mr. Gayton on the day of the explosion said that if it were found there were 50 feet of oil in the morning following, it would indicate a big well. When he discovered there was actually three times that depth he simply exclaimed "It is a Cracker Jack." The experts estimate a yield of from 25 to 50 barrels per day, and that in the pumping, of which there are strong indications the yield will be much greater. The splendid success attending the operations of the company this far greatly encouraged the promoters and the work will be pushed with renewed vigor. There are six more wells to be torpedoes in the St. Joseph's district and if proportionate results are obtained on the oil refinery for this district will be one of the immediate necessities. Arrangements will be completed at once for pipe lines and tanks. The company will have ready this month four wells to be shot. One of them is a deep well tapping the tower or third strata of oil sands, of which there is a depth of nearly 200 feet, of richly producing oil rock of a more porous character than the first or surface sands which are the ones tapped at St. Joseph and which are not a quarter of the thickness of the tower sands. It would not surprise those in a position to know if proper shooting in the deep wells produced proportionately, a depth of a well of 20 times the capacity of the one shot yesterday. Mr. Shaw has proved himself thoroughly in his business and the shooting of the wells will continue daily until all are treated. Results thus far indicate the threshold of a great activity in the exploration of the oil industry in this province. The possibilities of the venture cannot be fully predicted. The officers of the company are naturally delighted with recent developments. They have all along had supreme faith in the undertaking, and while they are reticent they are evincing a determination, born of the confirmation of their faith, to prove unquestionably that New Brunswick is exceedingly rich in its oil resources.

BURIAL OF A KING.

BODY OF ALBERT OF SAXONY PLACED IN THE TOMB.

Canon Boomed and Musketry Rattled as Casket was Lowered to Vault in the Vest Church at Dresden—Royal Mourners in Lengthy Procession.

Dresden, Saxony, June 23.—The funeral of King Albert, of Saxony, who died June 19, which took place here this evening, was most impressive. The Catholic church, where the funeral service was held, was draped in black. The coffin of the king was covered with a red satin pall, and around it a vigil has been kept by Saxon officers and dignitaries of the Saxon court since it was conveyed to the church last Saturday from Castle Salsbrunn. At the service this evening the nave of the church was occupied by members of the diplomatic corps here, the extraordinary missions to Dresden to attend the king's funeral, ministers, members of the diet, deputations of foreign officers, etc. The royal mourners arrived at the church in a long procession. They included King George and the Princess of Saxony, Emperor William of Germany, Prince of Anhalt, the Grand Duke of Baden and others. The widow of Queen Karola and the Empress of Germany, together with the Saxon princesses, occupied two pews in the church. Dr. Preudner, the court chaplain, delivered the funeral oration. At the conclusion of the services the royal coffin was lowered into the vault beneath the church, and as this was done volleys of cannon and musketry were fired outside the building. Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph left Dresden late tonight.

Ottawa, June 23.—(Special)—Professor Robertson left for St. John today to look into shipments for South Africa from that port. He will also go to Truro and Fredericton. Ottawa, June 23.—(Special)—Engulfed in the rapids of the Gatineau, James Kennedy Thompson, aged 23, who lived and worked with Andrew Milroy, of Liddon, Shaw took about 40 quarts which is considered a small shot of the nitro glycerine to well No. 7, on the Gaudet farm, north west of St. Joseph's College. The charge was actually three times that depth, a depth of 411 feet from the surface.
