A BACHELOR'S CONSOLATION. A Romance of the Needle. BY MORTIMER. In a snug little cot, not a thousand miles off, a young man, contented with his lot, was looking at his own work and smiling at it. And had no one to see on a patch.

With his hat, and his dog, and his little pet mouse, he was sitting in his room, and he was looking at his own work and smiling at it. And had no one to see on a patch.

There was no doubt he was a nice and quiet fellow, and he was sitting in his room, and he was looking at his own work and smiling at it. And had no one to see on a patch.

He was a very nice fellow, and he was sitting in his room, and he was looking at his own work and smiling at it. And had no one to see on a patch.

City Police Court. The dock was filled this morning, there being no fewer than nineteen persons charged with drunkenness, notwithstanding the law requires her rooms to close earlier Saturday night than formerly. The prisoners were divided among the nationalities as follows: natives of New Brunswick 14; of Ireland 2; of Scotland, England and P. Island 1 each. The youngest was eighteen years old and the oldest fifty.

James Boyd (being coming to the Police Station drunk, but said the police confined him because he made one of them sick. The police proved that he was drunk and incapable in the house. Fined $5 for two months penitentiary.

"By God! that's hard. There's no justice in this house. If I had you out of this I'd show you what justice is," was the haughty answer he made to the Magistrate.

John Tyler confessed to being drunk in water street, "but did not drink rum." "What made you drunk then? Are you like the man who got drunk on pork because the pig was fed in a brewery?" the Magistrate inquired. "No, sir, I got drunk on ginger wine." "Yes, with a stick in it," said the Magistrate.

Robert Fox, arrested drunk in Queen street; Robert Douglas in British st.; Jas. Gordon in Prince Wm. st.; Thomas McWilliams in Mill st.; Robert Pollard, Arthur Martin and Wm. Goutal in Carleton street; Richard Mack in Wentworth st.; Henry Cunningham in Duke st.; John McLean in King st.; Henry Hamilton in Prince Wm. st.; J. J. McPherson and John Murphy in Charlotte st.; Wm. Raymond and Wm. Clarke in Sheffield st. were fined $8 each.

Bridget Creighton denied being drunk in Pond street, but said she was unable to move on account of spraining her leg. The charge was proved and $8 or two month jail imposed. She says she leaves at home five small children and an infant.

Ellen Calk was charged with assaulting David White. It was the result of a dispute when Daley went to take forcible possession of his tenement house occupied by Mrs. Calk. The case was dismissed.

Isabella Cunniff was again in court to answer for cutting up caps in Sheffield street. No one, however, appeared to prosecute, and she was dismissed.

Mrs. Miller was charged with keeping a procious and unlicensed dog that had bitten Bart. Connor. She promised to have the dog killed, and the case was discharged.

Martin Craft, a Carleton youth, was charged with assault and battery on Geo. Dykeman, but Geo. did not appear to prosecute. "An old Christian trick," he said, "enough for both parties." The case was dismissed.

Robert Smith went on Sunday, to the Police station drunk, and was fined $8. Geo. Moly arrested drunk in Main st. was fined $4.

William Scott, drunk near the Marsh Bridge, on Sunday, was required to pay $8 or occupy a small apartment for a few days at the expense of the country.
