PHRASES AUTHORS DISLIKE.

Strange Aversion.

There are scores of well-known phrases and a whole host of words which are taken exception to by many of the best known authors. Nearly every prominent writer has some pet antipathy of speech. "Female" is a word which one novelist never permits himself to use; whilst another will have nothing to do with "comical." "There is more than one word in the English language that absolutely makes me grit my teeth," says a well known writer. "Galore' I detest, and 'rotten' in its modern British application is a word modern British application is a word

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that applica-tion will be made to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, at its present session, for an Act authorizing The Windsor and Tecumauthorizing The Windsor and Tecum-seh Railway Company to extend its lines of railway through the town-ships of Maidstone, Rochester, Til-bury North, Tilbury East, Dover East, Dover West, Raleigh, and the City of Chatham, in the Counties of Essex and Kent, and te provide for the issue of bonds and other powers. Dated at Walkervill this 22nd day of April, 1905. "Galore' I detest, and 'rotten' in its modern British application is a word I swold. But my pet detestation is a harmless little fellow that goes by the name of 'comical.' That I cannot stand. The use of it by a writer makes me doubt his possession of a keenly analytical humorous sense." The pet aversion of yet another writer is "Sulting jies action to the word." "If one," he says, "becomes a slave of hackneyed transitions—those well-worn stepping stones of rhetoric—it will haunt him persistently, and follow him for years." "Genius," "fondie," and "masty" are other words that are neither used nor of April, 1905.

JAPANESE WOMEN IN WAR.

Time Fully Occupied at Home World

Marchioness Oyama, wife of the victor of Mukden, describes in Collier's Weekly how the women of Japan work for the soldiers in the field. In her plain, straightforward way she says:—
"Since the outbreak of war I have hardly had time even to look after my household, so occurred has been my "Since the outbreak of war I have hardly had time even to look after my household, so occupied has been my time in connection with many societies and organizations directly concerned with this war. Of course, the foremost among them is the Red Cross Society. In connection with this is the Ladies' Volunteer Nursing Association, of which I am a director. The object of the society is implied in its name, but aside from that we make bandages and the 'first aids' after the most approved methods. We have made tens of thousands of rolled bandages, and fifteen thousand of the first aids, and we are still making them. The society includes the ladies of our highest class downward—the Imperial princesses, the women of our nobility, etc. You cannot realize how earnest the ladies of our upper classes are unless you know their life intimately. They who never dressed themselves without maids waiting on them, they who never held in the hands anything heavier than their hands enthelis, they who never went outside of their houses without two or three attendants, all ler than their handkerchiefs, they who never went outside of their houses without two or three attendants, all come alone to the hospital with their little lunch baskets and their bundles containing their nurse's uniforms. My daughter was on the committee to get up New Year's presents for the soldlers at the front. Of course, it was impossible to send them to all, but it was better that even a few should have their hearts gladdened than none at all when they were doing so much for their hearts gladdened than none at all when they were doing so much for their country. The young people's plan was quite a novel one. They made bags of strong mulberry paper, about six inches wide and twelve inches long, in which they asked people to put in anything they liked—anything they thought soldiers would like. For instance, in one bag I put a pair of woollen socks, a piece of Janaese towel. stance, in one bag I put a pair of woolen socks, a piece of Japanese towel, a cake of soap a toothbrush and toeth powder; in saother a pair of warm gloves, a package of cigarettes, and a handkerchief; in another a package of silk wadding postal cards, pencil, etc. When my daughter has time she sews on the little dresses for the children of the destitute families of soldiers. All the girls' schools offered to make soldiers' underclothing during the hours of their sewing lesson, which is soldiers' underclothing during the hours of their sewing lesson, which is always a part of the regular curriculum for girls' schools. The offer was accepted by the War Department, and even the youngest ones have been made happy, thinking they were doing something for the country."

Liquid Air.

Liquid air is in its infancy—where steam was at the beginning and electricity at the middle of the past century. The first that was liquefied was about haif a wineglassful in amount and cost at the rate of $3,000 a gallon Now the same amount costs a few cents. Automobiles have been propelled by it; physicians have used it with good results in cancer cases and as a led by it; physicians have used it with good results in cancer cases and as a local anaesthetic in surgical operations. It may solve the garbage problem, as it causes tin cans, hair and other refuse to burn briskly and completely, with no smoke or odor. It is one of the most powerful of explosives, and when it shall be thoroughly understood it may become one of the understood it may become one of the greatest factors in the industrial advancement of the world.—Leslie's

How to Sit For a Photograph. "If I had just one bit of advice "If I had just one bit of advice to give a prospective sitter," says a famous New York photographer in L'Art de la Mode, "I should say: Don't think about the picture for days before having it taken. Choose a good photographer and leave it to him. Dress naturally—that is, as you are accustomed to do in your daily life—and, above all, don't dress as you have never dressed before. That is where so many people make a mistake. They get a new gown for the special purpose of having a photograph taken and often as a climax have their hair dressed in an unusual way. Then, dressed in an unusual way. Then, having changed themselves as much as possible, they come to the photographer."

A Nightingale School.

In Russia, when a person happens to possess a nightingale which is a good singer, the bird is made a sort of teacher of music to others of his kind in the neighborhood. Many Russians seem to be in the habit of keeping pet nightingales; and the neighbors bring their cages to the owner of the finest one, that the inexperienced birds may listen to the singing of their master. The birds are reported as keeping quiet and listening intently. Then after awhile they venture a note or two, then another, and another, till they have caught the song and can go through with it. It is said that the nightingale sits in apparent meditation, as if inwardly rehearsing, and then bursts out into song. A Nightingale School.

Wondere of the Hand.

The human hand is a profound study. No instrument devised by man compares with it for complication. It is a hammer, a vice, a forceps, a hook, a spring, a weight; it pushes, draws in, and the fingers alone contain elements of chisels, gouges and all the tools a sculptor requires in modelling. From the elbow to the digital extremities its movements are produced by nearly fifty muscles? So complicated is the cordage of a human hand that expert anatomists can hardly keep in remembrance its intricate mechanism. With it all the emotions of the mind may be both manifested and intensified. It is a wonder of wonders. Wonders of the Hand.

New Uses of Cement. New Uses of Cement.

"Cement is finding ornamental as well as practical nees," says the Engineering and Mining Journal. "By an ingenious scheme of pouring cement into damp sand, in a method analogous to the making of cast iron, beautiful effects in sculpture are produced in concrete, reproducing garden works and the statuary of Rome and Greece in the colors, form and outline of the originals colored in the most artistic effects and at an expenditure absolutely insignifican, as compared with stone."

The house work for the mother or the housekeeper at home is often beyond her strength. It must be lightened in some way or other. Very often the worries and caree are much greater than the actual physical labor, but the feeling that this or that cleaning, sewing, etc., must be done, fatigues the mind more than the physical labor actually tires the body. No wonder the tendency of our times is for the young women to prefer work in office or factory rather than doing house druggery. It the woman of the family is run down with drains and pains at irregular periods, she should give instant care to those organs which are so important for womanly health. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases and founder of the invalids' Hotel, at Hurfalo. N. Y., has put up a femedy made entirely of roots and herbs, without alcohol, that puts the womanly health in proper condition. The catarrh is cured, and in consequence backache, dizzness, fainting spells are dispelled.

"I suffered for five years with terrible pain, especially at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor from these of self-infilm action of the overtes, and proposed an operation." the doctor probabled I inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation." writes lire Sybil Pales, of 387 indiana Ave, Chicago Ills. "I fall as weak and sick, was sure that I would not survive such an ordeal, and decided that I would not undergo an operation. I read of your Favorite Prescription.' I determined to try it. Great was my joy to find that I had actually improved after taking two bottles. Within eleven weeks from the time I took the first dose, I was well. Have gained eighteen pounds, am in excellent health, and seem like one risen from the dead. You surely deserve great success and you have my best wishes."

BIRD BREAD COTTAM BIRD SEED, 19 St, London, Con. er glorified, that ye bear much fruit."

Our schools will here study another rich spiritual lesson taught by our Lord during the same passover supper when He had washed the Disciples' feet. Here we have "natural law in the spiritual world." The truth taught is deeper than human wisdom, but so osimple that a child can understand it.

How have we spiritual life!

Answer—As the branch has life from the vine through the sap, so Christ imparts by His Holy Spirit divine life and love, but only to the engrafted one. In nature the Stock is cut and split to receive the soion or branch, and the soion is trimmed to insert into the Stock; both are then spliced together, encased in to insert into the Stock; both are then spliced together, encased in grafting wax and firmly wrapped and bound that the flow of sap may force its life into the new branch and produce the finest grafted fruit. I am the vine, ye are the branches, my Father is the Husbandman.

God uses the grafting knife on the son of His love, the vine; and on men, the branches. Have you not felt it?

He wants fruit from those He has grafted into Christ; and abide in Him. A barren branch is useless, but for fael.

but for fuel.

Our lesson speaks of three stages of fruit bearing,—Fruit, more fruit, much fruit. Herein is my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples. But if any man hath not the the spirit of Christ, he is none of His-Rom. 8-9-and cannot bear fruit for Him. If ye are nombear fruit for Him. If ye are nominal Christians, yet barren of the fruits of righteousnes and the fruits of Godly living; we have only the outward forms of religion, but not the inward flow of the Christ life. As the Father hath loved me, wonderful truth—so have I loved you; continue ye in my love, even as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in His love. Jesus Christ, our Lord, would teach us these lessons that He may have joy in us, and that we may be filled with the Spirit, full of holy joy and love toward God and man See verses 11 and 12.
