"They say you used to be one of the fastest fellows out," said the prison chaplain sadly. "Yes," replied Simon, the lag, as he thumped the iron bars, "and now I'm one of the fastest in."

AFTER THE PERFORMANCE.

He gave a marvellous performance—could tell blindfolded what card you drew from the pack, could hold you by the hand and open a book to the very passage you were thinking of, and could find rings and pins hidden in impossible places, all by mental process. After the entertainment the marvellous mind-reader stood in the lobby at the cloak-room door, and made a big row. "I've mislaid that measly hat-check you gave me," he shouted, "and I can't find my hat anywhere. If somebody don't get it for me without further delay I'll sue for damages!"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

bent and multiply each item for one interior bent by 4 to get amount required for that number of bents.

I am giving the bill in this way to help other readers who may want to make a bill of material for a barn with a different number of interior bents. The bill of material for girths and plates is not necessary as any carpenter can make this up, the lengths being the distance from centre to centre of bents. Huntingdon Co., Que. A. A. G.

INSURANCE.

Would like to know, through your paper, the safest insurance company for farmers to insure their buildings in.

SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—Such a question is impossible to answer through these columns. There are dozens of safe and reliable fire insurance companies operating in Canada, and besides our advertising columns are used by companies to make known their business.

DUMB WAITER.

Would you please give me a description and tell how to build the latest-improved dumb waiter?

A. P. F.

Ans.—We are not in a position to state which is the best dumb waiter made, but are inclined to believe that the simpler it is the better, as the more complicated forms sometimes give trouble. Any of our readers who have satisfactory dumb waiters installed are invited to describe them through these columns.

SOFT-SHELLED EGGS.

Kindly explain cause of a hen laying soft-shelled eggs at this season, with large ramble.

D. M.

Ans.—If a healthy, laying hen, is examined, eggs will be found in nearly all stages of development, from the size of a pea, and smaller, up to mature size. Soft-shelled eggs are sometimes caused by a lack of lime in the food. An over-fat condition of the hens is a very common cause, but perhaps a more common one still is inability to retain the egg until it is fully developed. It is, in other words, simply premature laying, caused very often by the hen being temporarily weak. Do not feed on too stimulating food, and keep the hen quiet for a day or two.

HERNIA IN COLT.

I have a colt now six weeks old which has had a small rupture on navel since birth. Navel healed, and colt did well. There is a break in inside lining about size of a penny.

1. Can I put on a truss to cure it?

2. Would a clamp be better? The skin is loose around navel. Lump is now about size of a small hen's egg.

QUEBEC READER.

Ans.—In most cases nature effects a cure of umbilical hernia in foals. Where this does not appear to be taking place, and the enlargement is increasing in size, probably the safest mode of treatment is by a truss. Some veterinary practitioners have trusses made for the purpose. They can be made out of leather or canvas. A truss consists in a strap of leather or canvas about six inches wide, with a protrusion about three inches in diameter and one and one-half to two inches in depth on the center of it. The truss is placed so that this protrusion presses upon the tumor and keeps the intestine pressed into the abdominal cavity. Straps or strings may be used to keep the truss in position, and also straps or strings extending from the bottom and top of truss and fastened to a strap around the colt's neck to keep truss from slipping backward. Allow the colt to run with the dam, and leave the truss on until the opening closes, which usually takes from four to six weeks. If properly adjusted, it will not scarify. If this fails to cure, get a veterinarian to operate. There is some danger of tetanus from an operation, but if the truss fails, the risks must be taken.

Shipments of Clydesdales from Glasgow for Canada the last week in July totalled 42 head, consigned to T. H. Hassard, Markham, Ont.; John A. Boag & Son., Queensville, and G. A. Brodie, Newmarket.
