

If A Disaster Should Strike

(Name of Place)

SUPPOSE some great disaster—a cyclone or a fire—had struck
(Name of Place)

If it had left death—suffering—loss of property in its wake.

Would you afterwards say “Well it’s over. Thank Goodness I’m safe”—and look calmly on the efforts of others to put things in order?

Would that be your attitude?

Not much!

You would work day and night—give your time—lend your assistance and give your money to put things as they were before.

THE War was the greatest disaster that ever affected Canada.

It’s over—the fire is out.

November 11th, 1918 ended it.

But since then much work has been done—much expense has been necessary.

We have had to pay, feed and clothe our army and bring them home—provide work for them—succor their widows and orphans.

And now the business and prosperity of Canada must be maintained.

THE VICTORY LOAN 1919 is back of all this.

The citizens of (Name of Place) cannot expect others to provide the money to do this work.

It cannot be done unless everybody helps.

Each Province—City—Town—District—must do its share. (Name of Place) must do its part.

You must do your part.

Canada is made up of individuals.

Remember that you are one of them and
