LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Fall Fairs are now almost over.

—The GAZETTE will be sent to new subscribers to January 1900 for One Dollar.

—Mrs. J. W. Ward is spending a week with friends in Atwood.

—Carrick Council meets in the town hall on Monday, Oct. 17th, to transact general business.

—Mr. White of Toronto, Separate School Inspector, paid a visit on Monday to the Separate School here.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Naughton of Kincardine, spent Sunday in town. Both were former residents of Mildmay.

—We are sorry to learn that W. H. Huck is confined to the house with illness. We hope to hear of his early recovery.

—A good number of horses were present at Beitz's horse fair on Wednesday, and many changed hands. A monthly horse fair is a great benefit to the town and when W. Beitz's fair becomes well advertised, the monthly fairs will be well patronized.

—Mr. Aaron Moyer, dry-goods merchant, has sold out his interest in the business to his partner, Mr. Bundy. Mr. Moyer was in business here for three years and from the very first did a large trade. The business will continue to be conducted by Mr. Bundy.—Telescope.

—It will be news, probably sad news, to the men who are thinking of aspiring to the first, second or third deputy-ship of their township to learn that at the very name of the office, which has been meaning less since the passage of the County Councils Act, has been abolished. After this year a township council will consist as at present, of five members, but there will be only one reeve and the remaining four will be known as councillors.

—Mr. Chas. Yandt has returned from Chicago, having seen his three sons, George, Noah and Simon. Noah has just returned from Cuba where he has been in the thickest of the fight. He was given three weeks leave of absence, and was on his way home, but when he reached Chicago he took sick with the fever, and has been laid up for the past few weeks. He is now improving and expects to be out again soon. Noah's many friends here would be pleased to see him again and hear him tell of some of his thrilling adventures.

—The Mildmay Football Club went to Wroxeter on Wednesday and played the Fordwich team for a prize of $15 (?). The weather was very threatening up to the time the game started, when it cleared off nicely and the grounds were in good shape. The game started at 5.15 and on account of some delay during the game, it was finished in the dark. After the ball was kicked off, just one minute elapsed when Mildmay scored. Play was again resumed and in fifteen minutes longer Mildmay made another goal. Shortly after came the most exciting feature of the game when a foul was unfairly called on our goalkeeper. It was a critical moment but no goal was scored. No further points were made until the second half when Fordwich scored, Mildmay having been playing with ten men, W. Moran being laid off with a sprained ankle. Shortly after this score, S. Hinsperger quit the game, and Mildmay finished the game with nine men. Fordwich claimed the next goal, but it was so dark that neither referee nor goal umpire could see, but both protested that it was a goal, against their own consciences too. The game from the start was with our boys, but their opponents had the managing of the game, which accounted for the match resulting in a tie.

—Infants and young children are peculiarly subject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. Dr. Chase made a special study of Eczema and diseases of the skin, and we can confidently recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure all forms of eczema. The first application soothes the irritation and puts the little sufferer to rest.

—Joseph Cloutier, of King Junction, near Montreal, was the chief sufferer in a domestic tragedy on Sunday. Looking through the window of the church, where he was singing in the choir, Cloutier discovered that his house was on fire. When he and the congregation reached the burning house, they saw in the ruins the bodies of four children, the eldest only five years of age, shockingly mutilated by a murderer's knife. It transpired that the mother had gone suddenly insane, had killed her children and set fire to her house. Mrs. Cloutier appeared and told all this to the horrified people. The bodies of the children were not recovered. It is feared that the father also will lose his reason.

—Miss A. Johnston has been re-engaged at S. S. No. 7, with a raise of salary of $15. Miss J. Trench has been re-engaged at S. S. No. 8.

—J. J. Stiegler has purchased a grapho-phone which renders music, speeches, and comical sayings. It is a new invention and is well worth hearing.

—John Jeffers Clarke, editor of The Tiverton Watchman, died at his home Friday, Oct. 7. His remains were interred in the Tiverton Cemetery with Masonic honors on Sunday afternoon.

—A large number from here took in the Clifford fair last Thursday. The attendance was good and the fair in some respects was excellent. Horses especially were numerous. Several exhibitors from Carrick were present and most of them succeeded in carrying off a good number of prizes.

—A good bee was held at the new Park on Saturday last and a great deal of work was done. The farmers are turning out well and it will need a great many more before the work is completed. A cordial invitation is extended to all who feel an interest in the welfare of the town, to come out and give a day's work with a team.

—We are sorry to be called upon to chronicle the death of Wilfred, the four-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Diebel, of Chesley. The child has been in poor health for the past two months and death came to its release on Saturday last. The funeral took place on Monday at the German Evangelical cemetery at Mildmay. The parents have the sympathy of all their friends here in their bereavement.

—Wm. B. Kinzie had a narrow escape from a very serious accident on Monday last. While hauling out wood with the team and wagon the lines got under the tongue and he stepped on the wagon tongue to release the line, when the horses started off. He managed to drop off under the wagon and escaped with a few bad bruises, but it is thought he is not seriously hurt.

General Items.

The campaign in East Wellington and South Ontario will be carried on with great energy at once. Mr. Dryden is working quietly in his constituency, and no meetings have been announced yet. Mr. Gibston has started right into the campaign, and has arranged for the following meeting: Oct. 11, Bellwood; 12th, Erin; 14th, Hillsburg; 15th, Elora; and 16th Kenilworth. He will be assisted by Messrs. Jas. McMullen and Andrew Somple. Other Cabinet Ministers may take a hand in the fight next week.

Lucesci, the Anarchist slayer of Empress Elizabeth will not suffer death for his crime as capital punishment is not inflicted in Switzerland where the murder was committed. He will instead be confined for life in St. Antoine Prison in Geneva where he will have to work at shoemaking every day except Sunday. He will never be permitted to speak a word to anyone except the prison guard. This will be particularly hard on Lucesci, for he loves above all things to talk.

Mr. Lewis Knott, an employe at the Palmerston-Carrige works met with a rather serious mishap while running a small circular saw on Saturday afternoon of last week. He was engaged in cutting out some small pieces of board, pushing them through with one hand and taking them away with the other, when in some manner his left hand came in contact with the saw, nearly cutting the fingers off. Although badly cut it is not probable that any of the fingers will have to be amputated.

There has been a serious uprising of Indians in the State of Minnesota. Some dissatisfaction had arisen among the Indians about treatment witnesses had received at the hands of the civil authorities in the State, and in consequence some Indians refused to appear before the Courts as witnesses. They were arrested and then rescued by a large band of Indians. In the strife shotse were fired and several of the officers were killed or wounded. Soldiers were sent to enforce the law and were opposed by Indians in superior numbers and a conflict ensued resulting in five soldiers being killed and many more wounded. There were fears of a general uprising of the Indians, but last accounts say that the Indians have scattered again. Later advices state that the Indians are again preparing for more fighting. They are gathering again and there is great fears of further trouble.

A meeting of humanitarians was called by Bishop Sullivan at St. James Cathedral, Toronto, to devise plans to reform the indigent drunkard. The Bishop in his remarks spoke of the drunkard being confined in the common jails of the country was a loss to himself, the community and the church. He was a source of moral infection to the younger prisoners. It was a blot civilization; that his condition was not improved. His weakness should be treated as a disease and not as a crime, and it was for the purpose of suggesting a scientific remedy that the meeting was called. It was urged that the merits of the different systems of Gold cures, etc. be investigated and the result be laid before the Government with a view to get provincial aid to establish a curative institution for inebriates, Inspector Noxon reminded the meeting that in 1872 the Government had set aside the sum of $100,000 to build an inebriate asylum in Hamilton, but the building had since been turned into a lunatic asylum. It was not practicable to use the jails of the country for experimenting on the cure of inebriates as the large proportion of the prisoners were only there awaiting trial. Every judge and police magistrate has the option of handing over the drunkard to a philanthropic society for treatment instead of sending them to prison, but this would mean a large expenditure of money to provide accommodation sufficient to meet the wants of the finished article as turned out under our licensed system of liquor selling. Prof. Hart, an English philanthropist, said that the whole thing was in a nutshell. Provide proper diet and there would be no inebriates. Whole wheat meal was a complete cure-all for drunkenness. One young lady in the audience was surprised at the stand taken by the English Church against prohibition and then taking up a cause like this. It was locking the stable after the horse was stolen. Why encourage the manufacture of drunkards by licensing the sale of liquor? Why not care for the drunkard at the expense of those who produce them.

OUR

MILLINERY OPENING

On Fair Day was a grand success. All expressed a high opinion of Miss Reeder as being a most artistic trimmer, and many good orders were secured by here.

We had a splendid day in Ladies' Jackets

The ladies all seem to feel satisfied that this is "the" place to come to for up-to-date Jackets.
