

BEGIN RIGHT.
THE CORRESPONDENT OF THE SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

The following, if not new, is at least true—and is worthy of attention, at this particular time, when so many "of em" are rushing incontinently into the holy bands of matrimony, to be lost "to us forever."

"This little fable (said my Uncle) may perhaps be of service to some poor devil, more willing than wise."

A certain man once married a lady, whose reputation for amiability of disposition was seriously questioned, if it was not in reality seriously questionable. At the wedding, every thing went off merrily; of course; the party gay, the supper magnificent—the whole affair had been eminently successful, and all parties extremely delighted.

On retiring to his apartment, the gentleman found himself annoyed by the mewing and purring of a cat.

"What in the devil's name is that?" he exclaimed.

"Oh! nothing, my dear," replied the bride, "but my favorite cat, Pussita."

"Oh! hang Pussita! I hate cats!" and with this he most unceremoniously threw Pussita out of the second story window.

"Well, if you haven't got a temper!" "Yes, my dear! you'd better believe it."

"Every thing (continued my Uncle) went well in that establishment—even to a warm dinner on Sunday."

Now it so happened that a friend of the above-mentioned gentleman, who had some months before "committed the error" of marrying "an angel," took occasion to inquire of him—

"How it was, that with him, every thing went merry as a marriage bell; while, on the contrary, he (his friend) had almost given up the idea of wearing pantalons at all?"

Whereupon he related to him the story of the second story window, "without," said Uncle, "fully impressing upon his mind the moral—that it was necessary to begin right." Nevertheless, there was that in his eye, when he started for home, "that told of treason."

"Well," said his wife, "you've come home at last, have you—after keeping me sitting up for you? and what's the matter? you haven't been drinking, have you? you look very strange."

"Not in the least, my dear—but I hate cats, lovey."

"You do, do you? well, I like 'em—that's all the difference."

Hereupon the unfortunate husband made a dash at poor Tabby, who was quietly snoozing on the sofa, and rushed impetuously to the window.

"You have been drinking. What are you going to do, monster?"

"Throw her out of the window."

"You better try it—I'd like to see you do it—I'd break every bone in your body. Why don't you throw her out? I dare you to do it!"

He put the cat softly down on the sofa, hung his hat on a peg in the entry, his manliness and his pantalons on an easy chair, and exclaimed—

"Go in, ducky darling, and win—I didn't begin right."

"I rather think you didn't—you better take a fresh start—but don't try that game again, or you'll catch it! Come to bed!"—and he went.

"Wrong from the beginning!" said Uncle. Oh dear me!

As good as Crockett.—The assistant overseer of a parish, in Monmouthshire, attended a petty sessions, near Chepstow, the other day, with a list of defaulters to the poor rate, for the purpose of making out his "excused list," and having it confirmed. The list, which was assisted by some quaint marginal references, among which "O. P." was very conspicuous, was duly handed to the presiding "Justice," when the Magistrate inquired, "Mr. —, what does 'O. P.' mean?"

The worthy parish official, with polite deference, "On't pay, please your honor."—Gloucestershire Chronicle.

Hip Hip Hurra!—This was originally a war cry, adopted by the stormers of a German town, wherein a great many Jews had taken refuge. The place being sacked they were all put to the sword, under the shout of Herosyloma eit perit! From the first letter of those words (H. e. p.) an exclamation was contrived.

We little think, when the red wine sparkles in the cup, and soul-stirring toasts are applauded by our Hip, hip, hurra! that we record the fall of Jerusalem, and the cruelty of Christians against the chosen people of God.

Note on Christmas Games.—Many a young lady who objects to being kissed under the mistletoe, has no objection to be kissed "under the rose."

"Where are we most likely to find the sky blue?—The nearer we go to the milky way."—Conundrum for legislators.

"Why do the patent laws tend to promote discovery?—Because they tax invention."—Temperance Enigma—"When his a scruple more weight than a dram?"—When conscience makes a teetotaler refuse a thimbleful of brandy."—Explanation of scientific term Mann Temperature.

—That point of the thermometer which indicates stinging in coal,—Punch's Almanack.

Irish advertisement.—Missing from Kilarney, Lane O'Fogerty; she had in her arms two babies and a Guernsey cow, all black, with red hair, and tortoise-shell combs behind her ears, and large black spots all down her back, which squints awfully.

Cross purposes.—The Editor of the Springfield Republican, who has been to hear Jenny Lind, tells the following:—"When Jenny Lind first appeared at the Ladies' Ordinary, at the 'Irving,' she had no comb in her hair, while every other lady wore a comb. The next day she said she wished to dress like American ladies, and went to dinner with a comb in her head. On glancing up and down the table, not a comb was to be seen."

LEATHER TO THE LAST.

GOW & BENZIE,

GRATEFUL for the liberal patronage they have received since they commenced business, beg to assure the public, that they have resolved that no establishment in Guelph shall supply the different articles in their line, of superior quality or at cheaper rates; and as their style of workmanship is known and appreciated by those who have favored them with their orders, they confidently anticipate an increase of public support.

The whole of their stock being of their own manufacture, those patronizing them may confidently depend on obtaining a genuine article; and while they conform to the lowest prices in town, it will be their study to furnish such material and workmanship as must ensure a preference.

The following list is at Cash prices:—

Gentlemen's Calf Boots, 20s to 25 0
Do. Kip do, 15s to 17 6
Do. Stout do, double soled, 12 6
