It is due the ratepayers that an opportunity should be given for the public discussion of municipal matters. We have been asked frequently, recently, why there is not a apprinted a monitor day meeting here as in other municipalities. We pass it put it is beyond us. We believe, howver, that such meetings are essen-ial to an intelligent use of the muniipal butlot. By speaking loudly cough he people may passibly obtain the meeting. So far as we show there has been nothing done by the 1917 Council that any of the mem-the first are not prepared to discussed and we can say truly that it is difficult of the first what is the wish of the ratepayers in regard to municipal policy unless such meetings are held. We believe that men should be chosen on some platform other than that of being a good fellow.

CHRISTMAS

Brantford Had Holiday Celebration Unique in the Province of Ontario

Mr. Frank Harris, of Toronto, spent Christmas with his mother here.

Stanley Jackson, of Buffalo, dropped his tools in the airship shops and joined his parents here for Christmas.

Miss Margaret Taylor and her brothers: Andrew and Bille, are hioliaring at Collingwood.

Mrs., John McKnight had her children W. James, of Simcoe; Fred, of Preston and George, of Waterford, with their wives and children, for a family Christmas tree hrilliantly lighted with hundreds of electric bulbs was the centre of attraction while music was provided by the Salvation army band and the massed choirs of the holiday, becams lifeore aniable on Christmas eve, and the result was provided by the Salvation army band and the massed choirs of the city. The innovation was a decided success and was most effective perhaps as emphasizing the Christmas for a family Christmas re-union yesterday. All of them were in good health.

LITTLE AFFECT HERE.

The order-in-coungil passed recently prohibiting the marketing of honds, debentures, and other securities without the approval, of the Dominion Minister of Finance in order to preserve the Canadian money market for the flotation of future war loans, will not seriously affect Brantford. To date all debentures issued have met with a ready response and have been disposed of while, so far as is known, no big public works, entailing heavy expenditures are contemplated for the near future. The city since the outbreak of the war has adhered strictly to a policy of retrenchment and it is likely that this program will be continued. "The order-incouncil renders it necessary that the City Council, before entering upon any expenditures for 1918, apply for the approval of the Dominion Minister of Finance." stated City Treasurer A. K. Bunnell this morning. "His approval as to necessity if the work must be secured."
