MOROCCAN CRISIS AND THE KAISER

CLEMENCEAU SUMMONED BACK IN HURRY TO CONFER WITH PRESIDENT FALLIERES.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Considerable apprehension is felt in government circles here at the attitude of the German press in reference to the situation in Morocco. Premier Clemenceau has been summoned back from Maribad and will go straight to Rambouillet, there to confer with President Fallieres and acquaint him with the details of his interview with King Edward.

So serious is the position become in Morocco that stronger measures than were ever contemplated at the Algiers conference are now imperative, and it is expressed that the German government will abruptly change its front and seek to co-operate with France and Spain in the pacification.

Chancellor von Buelow has invited Jules Cambon, the French ambassador in Berlin, to visit him today, and, although an official statement has been issued in Berlin that this action on the part of the imperial chancellor does not denote that Germany is disgusted over the Casablanca incidents great interest has been aroused in diplomatic circles.

The semi-official Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a statement by Mohammed Sidi el Mokri, saying that the present ferment in the interior of Morocco is due to France's impatient, hasty course at Casablanca.

It was only natural that the crown prince, who is now 20 years of age, should visit the Earl's Court Exhibition. He has become more subdued of late, and though he took a childish delight in the water chute—which he declared should be twice as steep, and insisted on his suite being photographed with him on picture post-cards, he made a very favorable impression on several Servian gentlemen who are not favorably disposed toward the present dynasty.

One of these said yesterday that the young prince had undoubtedly begun to recognize his responsibilities. Although as restless as King Alfonso of Spain, and still very excitable, he has a frank, simple manner and a capacity for enjoyment which arouse a certain amount of admiration.

Formerly he led his tutors a French life—Major Lerasseur, a French disciplinarian who had the honor of instructing the prince for a time, was considerably damaged, mentally and physically, by the time he had finished with him.

On one occasion King Peter was so incensed over the gross insults which the young prince had offered his tutor that he sentenced his son to ten days' imprisonment in a fortress. But the prince escaped by scaling a wall, and later on broke a bottle over his tutor's head.

The prince's escapades at music halls and theaters and wild doings generally have caused many scandals in Belgrade, but everyone is now agreed that he is turning over a new leaf.

There is no question of state in connection with the amiable young prince's visit to England.

More Alpine Tragedies.

INNSBRUCK, Aug. 28.—From particulars received here of the fatal accident to the Turkish architect named Kind and the Vienna tourist, named Weber, on the Pizzo Bianco, it appears that both mountaineers, Europeans as leaving St. Moritz, had slept on Sunday night at the Tschleria hut and started without provisions on Monday morning to make the ascent of Pizzo Bianco, which is considered to be a very dangerous feat.

As they did not return a search was instituted, which resulted in the discovery of their bodies, both terribly mutilated. The bodies were brought down in the course of the day as far as the hut, and were conveyed to Pontresina by a rescue party on Monday evening. King and Weber were 60 and Herr Weber 30 years of age.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 28.—A St. Catharines broker, named Charles V. Mart, pleaded guilty today to a theft of $150, but let off by the magistrate on a suspended sentence.

Mrs. K. Waterhouse, Toronto, Ont. DON'T BE DECEIVED, or led to believe by either unscrupulous merchants or misleading advertisements that Wool and Silk (animal materials), Cotton and Linen (vegetable materials), and Mixed Goods, on which vegetable dyes, generally predominate, can be dyed equally well with the same dye.

Of course, it sounds easy to trust to chance and use one dye for all materials, but, for success, if you are dyeing Cotton, Linen or Mixed Goods, ask for DIAMOND DYES, which require dyeing Wool or Silk, ask for DIAMOND DYES FOR WOOL.

SERVIAN PRINCE IN LONDON

"Bad Boy of Europe" Enjoying the Sights of Great English Metropolis

LONDON, Aug. 28.—London is at present entertaining one of the most interesting personalities in Europe—the crown prince of Servia, formerly known as the "Bad Boy of Europe," and "His Highness the Hooligan."

Prince George is traveling incognito and since his arrival he has been sight-seeing like an ordinary tourist. Country cousins visiting the Tower of London yesterday puzzled their heads over the identity of the enthusiastic foreign-looking youth with close cropped hair, prominent nose and swarthy face, who was seen everywhere as he went about in a lounge suit and brown boots, and he might have passed for an ordinary foreign tourist but the fact that the three men who accompanied him showed him a certain amount of deference, and that he was the representative of that Kara-georgievich dynasty which again ascended the Servian throne after that terrible coup d'etat of June, 1903, when King Alexander of Servia and Queen Draga were ruthlessly murdered at Belgrade.

It was only natural that the crown prince, who is now 20 years of age, should visit the Earl's Court Exhibition. He has become more subdued of late, and though he took a childish delight in the water chute—which he declared should be twice as steep, and insisted on his suite being photographed with him on picture post-cards, he made a very favorable impression on several Servian gentlemen who are not favorably disposed toward the present dynasty.

One of these said yesterday that the young prince had undoubtedly begun to recognize his responsibilities. Although as restless as King Alfonso of Spain, and still very excitable, he has a frank, simple manner and a capacity for enjoyment which arouse a certain amount of admiration.

On one occasion King Peter was so incensed over the gross insults which the young prince had offered his tutor that he sentenced his son to ten days' imprisonment in a fortress. But the prince escaped by scaling a wall, and later on broke a bottle over his tutor's head.

The prince's escapades at music halls and theaters and wild doings generally have caused many scandals in Belgrade, but everyone is now agreed that he is turning over a new leaf.

DEPARTMENT AT WASHINGTON COUNTERMANDS ORDERS OF COMMISSIONER WATCHORN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Miss Paula Klippenburg, the Viennese actress, who has been deported from Ellis Island, for deportation, for eight days, was released on the 23rd, inst., under $1,500 bail by the intercession of Commissioner and Labor. He represented to Secretary Smith that Miss Klippenburg, who is twenty-four years old, came here on the Hamburg-American liner Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, on Saturday, Aug. 3, for the purpose of bringing suit for breach of promise of marriage against Horace E. Miller of Newark, who, she says, imposed himself upon her under the assumed name of an unmarried man, who had a wife and two daughters of near her own age, and that when she returned to Paris without a fair hearing in her case, and his had been tried by Commissioner Watchorn without a proper hearing, the interpreter being not known, and a German, and not understanding properly the German language.

Secretary Smith is said to have become incensed at Commissioner Watchorn's action and to have dictated a letter directing that Miss Klippenburg be admitted to bail during the consideration of the matter in Washington. Mr. Solomon and Mr. Merrill were authorized to communicate with her and take charge of her papers.

Colonial Secretary at Dulwich School. Mr. Alfred Lyttelton, says the Canadian Gazette, who succeeded Mr. Chamberlain as Secretary for the Colonies in Mr. Balfour's ministry, is to be one of Lord Grey's guests in Canada this Autumn, and he is qualifying himself for this visit by a number of excellent speeches on Colonial matters. Last week he took the opportunity of the prize distribution at Dulwich School to tell the English schoolboy what a splendid thing it is to be a citizen of such an Empire as ours. He was glad to hear he said that a Rhodes scholar was present on that occasion, because not merely did he feel profound admiration for the memory of that great man, but he felt also that the public school tradition, such as they had here in his best, had no better opportunity and no finer field for young Englishmen than in the Colonies of the Empire. When he was at the school he saw public school men confronted with the greatest responsibility almost alone in countries with savages and barbarians, take their lives in their hands, face their responsibility, and acquit themselves in a manner of which every public school man must feel proud. The work of such a kind is being done, and has been done for the Empire by many young Canadians who have not had an English public school education will no doubt be learned by Mr. Lyttelton when he reaches Canada, for it is the pride of the Empire that it is in the blood.

BARON IMPLICATED IN MURDER CASE

Celebrated German Trial May Again be Subject of Investigation

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—Public opinion in Baden-Baden, has undergone a revolution in favor of Dr. Han, sentenced to death for the murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Mollitor, who was lured from her villa by a telephone call.

Baron Lindenau, who has been arrested on a charge of blackmail in connection with a letter he is alleged to have written saying that Frau Olga Mollitor shot her mother, was confronted at Mannheim this morning with Frau Mollitor, who emphatically denied ever having seen him. The baron stood by his statement of her case, fired the shot, which she as firmly denied.

The crown counsel absolutely refuse to believe that she was in any way implicated, and insist that Baron Lindenau was not in Baden-Baden on the day of the murder. "Three witnesses on the other hand, affirm that they saw him there that day, and almost at the spot where the murder took place."

His word as a witness is considered to carry little weight. Although a nobleman, he now earns a precarious subsistence by means of licensed marriage bureau at Mannheim. He became bankrupt some years ago as the result of house speculation. Although 44 years old, in his letter he proclaimed his attachment to Frau Olga Mollitor.

His trial, it seems, will undoubtedly open the Hau case from the beginning.
