WELCOME HOME!

On behalf of the entire community and the thriving and prosperous old town, this Planet extends a hearty welcome to the home-coming old boys and girls.

The city is yours, dear old comrades. Take possession and enjoy yourselves to the limit. There is nothing too good for you. If you don't see all you want just ask for it—and it shall be yours.

Chatham wants your home-coming to be memorable, to be happy, to be treasured in after years. She is prepared to do her part well.

Take hold, old boys and girls. Make merry. Enjoy yourselves just as you wish in this old town of yours. And once again, "Welcome Home!"

ENGLISHMEN ATTEND CHURCH

Marshaled by Regimental
Band They Visit City
Sanctuary.

Excellent Discourse and Delightful
Music Characterize the Service.

The Sons of England had a very large march out last night to the First Presbyterian Church. The 24th Regimental Band accompanied them and rendered some exceptionally fine music. The march was up King St. to Sixth, and along Sixth to the corner of Wellington and around into Fifth street. Upon arriving in front of the church the band lined up and played "Onward Christian Soldiers," while the Sons of England marched into the church.

Rev. A. H. MacGillivray preached a very impressive sermon, taking this text from the second chapter and tenth verse of Paul's Epistle to the Thessalonians: "Not purloining, but showing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the doctrine of God in all things." The importance of making perfect the profession we adorn, and serving God not only by word but by deed, was pointed out by Mr. MacGillivray. "Let it be said by the world as it sees our work that no man can do the work that that man does unless God be with him," said Mr. MacGillivray. "There is no age where the character and doings of men was scrutinized so carefully as to-day. The importance of broadness and more consistent ideas in regard to missionary and temperance work was then pointed out. In closing Mr. MacGillivray said it was a grand thing to be patriotic and defend your country and be loyal to the King, but a grander loyalty was a loyalty to God. Those who were loyal to their God would make the best soldiers to fight for their King. Some very fine music was rendered by the choir and C. H. Gunn sang a solo, which was much appreciated. The closing hymn was "God Save Our King."

The pulpit was appropriately adorned with a large Union Jack. On returning to the lodge room a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the pastor, choir, organist and officers of the church who contributed to the beautiful service, which was much appreciated by all present. Thos. E. Fielder made an excellent marshal.

FOR GOOD LUCK

Two Prisoners Charged With Burglary Carried Garter as a Talisman.

Alfred Faubert and Montiles Joseph were convicted this morning at the police court on the charge of attempting to burglarize the store of James Jenkins.

The pair were remanded for sentence. Henry Durr testified, describing the glass break and seeing the prisoners run away. He also found on Joseph, when searched a bunch of keys and a file. Both prisoners also carried a woman's garter. This was probably for good luck. A key was found broken off in the lock of Mr. Jenkins's store and the corresponding piece was found in the pocket of one of the men. Joseph said that he was wearing the trousers of his brother-in-law, John Faubert. The prisoners claimed that Joseph had fallen through the window and that was how it was done. The Crown Attorney wanted the prisoners to explain how this happened, when the window was only 18 inches from the ground.

John Faubert, where Joseph boarded, testified that he owned the trousers that Joseph wore. After a sharp passage between the prosecuting attorney and the witness, the former remarked: "You're very clever."

"I am, yes," retorted the witness, "I've got to be."

"I understand," remarked the Crown Attorney, "you've got to be in your business."

Witness also stated that he had not told the P. C. Dodson that Joseph did not have witness's trousers on. As a result of this statement a charge of perjury was laid against him and he was arrested.

Arthur Richards, of Cleveland, is visiting his mother, King St. West. Mr. Richards left Chatham eight years ago and is taking advantage of the Reunion to visit his old Chatham friends.

Ed. Hodges, of Cleveland, is attending the Old Boys' Reunion. Mr. Hodges is one of Chatham's old boys who has made a name for himself in the outside world. He was at one time clerk in Wall's dry goods store, which was situated on the corner where A. I. McCall's drug store is now.

W. Martin, of St. Thomas, brother of Warren Martin, one of Chatham's old boys, is visiting in the city. Mr. Martin left Chatham about 30 years ago. He formerly conducted a grocery business where Albert Sheldrick's up-to-date tailoring establishment now stands. He was in partnership with H. Reed.

THE PLANET SOUVENIR

It is expected that the handsome Planet Souvenir containing 52 pages of exquisite artistic matter and over 250 beautiful illustrations to commemorate the Old Boys' Reunion, will be placed on sale to-morrow.

The delay has been occasioned by the last moment enlargement of the issue by 16 pages, and even then we have been unable to include all the pictures secured. This is much regretted by The Planet but they will appear from time to time in the daily.

The beautiful Art Souvenir will sell at 25 cents the copy—and it is a triumph at that price.

Purchases should be made early as already an immense order list has been handled and the supply is limited.

WILL WED

Rev. Mr. MacGillivray, the popular young pastor of the First Presbyterian church, leaves to-day for Port Elgin, and rumor has it that he will not return alone. It is understood that he will be married on Wednesday and will return to the city with his bride about the 9th of June.

Mr. MacGillivray has been here a comparatively short time but he has been here long enough to be a general favorite among the clerical profession. He is one of the ablest and most forcible speakers in the city and he is successfully launched out on a good work in his church here. In private life he is one of the best of our Chatham citizens, esteemed and admired by people of all denominations.

The First church is proud of her able young pastor and joins with all of his Maple City friends in extending to him congratulations and good wishes.

GRAND LODGE MEETS

The Grand Lodge of the Ladies Orange Benevolent Society meets in the Orange lodge room to-morrow and Wednesday. Miss Collam, Grand Mistress, of Toronto, and Mrs. Yates, of Sarnia, the Grand Treasurer, arrived in the city to-day. The lodge here consists of 38 members.

The County Orange Lodge for South Kent, meets in Thamesville on June 8. The District Orange Lodge meets in the same place at the same time. F. Stevens, of this city, is the District Master of this prominent Order.

Truth is stranger than any kind of fiction except war reports.
