We learn upon good authority that the Rev. We notice that a philanthropic lady of Yarmouth—Miss Clara Killam—has presented a beautiful monumental fountain to that town. Have we not somebody in Wolfville who will make a similar gift to our town? Wolfville has an excellent water supply, and we should have at least one drinking fountain within the town limits. We have plenty of persons who are able, and we hope someone will follow up the suggestion in a substantial manner.

A frightful accident happened at Folly Village Friday, whereby Wm. S. Corbett, an old and respected citizen of the place, was burned to death. Mr Corbett had set a bush fire which spread farther than he intended and it is supposed that in his attempts to stay its progress he was surrounded by the smoke and flames. Later when his two sons went to his assistance they were horrified to find his charred remains lying on the ground. Much sympathy is felt for the family so sorely bereaved. The funeral was held Sunday and was largely attended.—Truro Weekly Times.

Judge McDonald, acting chairman of the Royal Commission on the Liquor Traffic, accompanied by the Rev. D. McLeod and Mr. G. A. Gignault, commissioners, Dr. D. C. Miller, president of the Kansas State Temperance Union, Mr. L. W. Kibbe, agent for the liquor traffic, and Mr. A. Horton, stenographer, have been making a tour of the prohibition State of Kansas, and are about to make a similar tour of Iowa, in which they will be accompanied by Mr. F. S. Spence, of the Dominion Alliance. Dr. Miller acted on behalf of Mr. Spence in Kansas, in representing the temperance interests. The commission held an enquiry at Ottawa, Kansas. At that place they took evidence regarding the taxation before and since prohibition, amount of liquor sold a day by each drug store on applications, and the effects of the prohibition of the liquor traffic in general. Democrats and Republicans gave forcible evidence favoring prohibition. A Republican County Commissioner stated that Ottawa city script was at fifty per cent discount under saloons, but remained at par under prohibition.

Wedding Bells.

A very interesting event came off at Granville Ferry yesterday, when the Rev. W. B. Wallace, B. A., was united in marriage to Miss Alice W. Young, the Rev. Isaiah Wallace officiating.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful blue crepe and held in her hand a bouquet of flowers composed of lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots. The groom was supported by his brother, Lewis Wallace, while the bridesmaids were Miss Annie Hall and two nieces of the bride—Misses Susie and Prescilla Hall.

After the marriage ceremony was performed, about fifty sat down to dinner at the home of Capt. Joseph Hall.

The presents were very numerous, many of them coming from the former school friends of Mr and Mrs Wallace.

The happy couple left on the express for Wolfville where they will remain a few days before coming back to Granville and then to Owego, New York.—Annapolis Spectator.

The society, as is well known, has undertaken the support of a professorship at Acadia. The occupant of the chair, Prof. Haley, has given general satisfaction. During the past year, local Acadia clubs have been formed with loyalty to Acadia's interests with the older society. The business affairs are on the whole gratifying.

Last year a few pheasants were brought to Nova Scotia from England and put out for the winter to see how the cold weather would effect them and to ascertain whether or no they could be dimalized. Notwithstanding the fact that last winter was an extraordinary cold one the birds are found to have done finely, so much so that the Nova Scotia Game society decided to make an importation of pheasants for the benefit of the province. Eighteen birds arrived on the Common Saturday consigned to the secretary George Piers, Dutch Village. Trios of them will be placed on farms in different parts of the province and fed until they breed and multiply.
