

PUT TO THE TEST.

THE MOST CONVINCING AND ABSOLUTE PROOF GIVEN.

That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure When Other Remedies Fail—What They Have Done for Others They Will Do for You.

No remedy of modern times has offered more, or stronger proof of its sterling merit than has Pink Pills. The cures are not those of people in foreign lands, but from all parts of our own country, and the statements made are easily verified by everyone in the vicinity in which the cures reported occur. When such proof as this is offered doubt must cease, and the medicine must be awarded the palm of superiority over all others. Every mail brings letters from grateful people in all parts of Canada, who have been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, sometimes after years of illness and after other medicines had failed, and it is the words of gratitude spoken by sufferers thus restored to health that has created the enormous demand for this medicine. The following letter is but a fair sample of hundreds constantly being received:—

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. DEAR SIR:—I have great pleasure in bearing testimony to the medicinal value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a blood purifier and health restorer. For ten years I was a victim to a complication of troubles, beginning with quinsy and followed by rheumatism and bronchitis. My physicians told me the trouble had become chronic, and that every winter I would either have to house myself up or go to a warmer climate. Two years ago I was confined to my bed and room from February until May, under the doctor's care. One day while reading of the cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I determined to try them, and I found a cure at last in this splendid medicine. I used a dozen boxes of the pills and I have never been better in my life than I am now, and I have not been troubled in any way with my old complaints since I discontinued the use of Pink Pills. As I have already stated, I was a sufferer for years, and during that period spent a small fortune in doctors' medicine and drugs, only to find in the end that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills accomplished what all other medicines failed to do. When my friends who know how often I was laid aside with illness asked me what cured me I am always happy to say Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Yours gratefully, Mrs J. A. McKim, Catarqui.

Mr and Mrs McKim are among the best known and most esteemed residents of Catarqui, Ont. Mr McKim has been a travelling salesman for pianos and organs in the district in which he resides for upwards of twenty-five years.

What stronger proof than the above can be had for the claim that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when all other medicines fail? If you are ailing give this great medicine a fair trial and the result will not disappoint you. The public are cautioned against numerous pink colored imitations. Insist upon taking nothing but the packages which bear the full trade mark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

After showing a half mile at Halifax in 1.15 1/2 Mr H. C. Lydiard, of Kentville, sold his 3-year-old colt to James A. Leaman for $400. This colt is a handsome bay in color, has had no extra chance, was sired by Rampart, dam by Hartford, 2d dam by Lord Nelson. He is a brother in blood to Rampart J., also owned by Mr Leaman and considered by those who know record to no stallion as the sire of big, handsome, fast horses.

Mr Leaman has some fine horses in his stable besides the above mentioned, and he has for a private trainer Frank Boutlier. Frank began at the bottom, lived down prejudice, always encouraged and advised by his employer, until today he is probably one of the very best drivers in the country. We have watched his career as a driver for three or four years, and feel free to confess that in view of his careful training methods, industrious, sober, honest habits, and first class ability as a race driver, we think him as good as any professional in these provinces. He keeps his horses on their feet and is not beaten until the last foot of the last mile.

The three best running horses in the Maritime Provinces have recently been advertised and sold at auction in Halifax city. One brought $65, another $70, and the third, the poorest and meanest of the lot, was sold to Alderman McFatridge for $132—total $275 for the three. Now, we challenge contradiction when we assert that they are by reputation the three best thoroughbreds owned in the country, and yet the whole batch did not bring as much as Lydiard's 3-year-old trotter, sold in the same city. All of which goes to show in our estimation, that the buying public put a pretty small value upon running bred horses. And yet our exhibition commissioners, under the persuasive influence of Sweet William, have actually given up six races to these worthless bred nags.

There is certainly a great treat in store for our agricultural friends when they go to the exhibition. After all there is not one of them owned in this Province that can run fast enough to warm themselves, and if they could run a mile in 1.30 what earthly use are they to the agriculturist of Nova Scotia? A Provincial Agricultural (?) Exhibition indeed.

DELIBERATE. Senator Cameron once called upon President Lincoln in behalf of an applicant for a consulate who was a particularly pestiferous person to him. "Where do you want to have him sent?" asked the President. "There was a large globe in the room. The Pennsylvania senator put one arm around it as far as he could reach, and said: "I do not know what my finger is on, but send him there." And he was sent.

Lady Henry Somerset as a Witness. Within a few days, Lady Henry Somerset appeared before the Royal Commission on the Licensing Laws—a commission appointed by Parliament and presided over by Lord Peel, the former speaker of the House of Commons.

One of the London daily papers says: "As an expert student, Lady Henry was an eminently proper witness to call, and her appearance enlightened the commonly prosaic sitting of the commission. Lady Henry occupied the witness chair from 11 to 4.30, and a capital witness she made. None of the parliamentary experts could hurry her or catch her napping. Indeed, she succeeded in turning the questions upon her interrogators with a neatness and dispatch that many times drew wholesale laughter from her auditors."

Ten brewers were on the commission, and a saloon kept by one of them had been watched for twelve hours by Lady Henry's orders on the day previous, so that she was able to show the numbers coming and going and the demoralization resulting from the attractions of this "remarkably well conducted public house."

Lady Henry bases her evidence chiefly on the argument that the licenses being given and protected, it had always been understood that competition in the ordinary sense of "pushing the trade" among publicans was absolutely unfair, and not contemplated by the state, so that, therefore, unless the drink traffic was conducted on the same lines as a postoffice or telegraph office, or any other employment which was contemplated by the state because there was a demand to supply but not a demand to create, it was absolutely contrary to the legislation that governed the traffic. This was apparently a new point of view. Her point was that the number of licenses should be diminished. Lady Henry had the best possible maps prepared, of all the congested parts of London, with the public houses colored thereon, and these were handed to the commissioners. Almost all of her evidence was, therefore, shown through the eye as well as the ear, and this had a remarkably good effect.

It was stated by leading men of the commission that the argument made by Lady Henry had given them a light on the subject that had not been before elicited, and several said that the temperance cause had, in their opinion, gone up twenty per cent.

The annual meeting of the British Women's Temperance Association was more largely attended than ever before and gave no uncertain sound on any of the vital principles of the temperance and purity movements. Resolutions on political and social questions were carried with very little discussion. The council recognized with satisfaction that the cause has so far advanced that one of the great parties incorporated this reform in a government measure in 1895. It reaffirmed its adherence to the principle of the Direct Veto bill, expressed gratification that the Women's Suffrage bill passed its second reading in the House of Commons by the large majority of seventy-one and emphatically declared that the parliamentary franchise was "strongly desired by the great majority of earnest thinking women, because, more than any other measure, it will raise the position of the working women of the country, and promote the passage of social reforms."—Union Signal.

Under this caption the New York Sun tells of an ordinance adopted by the City Council of Jomona, California. It provides for licensing two saloons. Each is to pay $1,000 per year in advance. The saloon-keeper must give bonds in the sum of $5,000 that shall be forfeited in case he fails to observe the law under which he is licensed. The saloons must be run in single apartments with no annexes or wings, and in buildings fronting on streets. Half of the front of the saloons must be of glass, no painted or frosted glass or screens being allowed. The view from the street must be free and unobstructed, and no billiards, cards or any game shall be played.—Comp. Rev.

Wendell Phillips once, when he was interrupted by an unfriendly audience, stooped down and began talking in a low voice to the man at the reporter's table. Some of the auditors, becoming curious, called "Louder." Whereupon Phillips straightened himself up and exclaimed: "Go right on, gentlemen, your note. Through these pencils—your note to the reporters—I speak to forty million people."

Little boy of seven, on the occasion of the marriage of an aunt, had with much pains made as a present a little blue, heart-shaped pin-cushion, trimmed about the edges with beads. His mother suggested that he work an appropriate verse of Scripture upon it. After deliberating a moment, he little fellow thought of the verse, recently heard in his Sunday-school: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do," and offered it for approval, to the great amusement of all concerned.

Antario Lady Had Her Hands Poisoned. Ladies should remember that the Diamond Dye is the only pure, true and unadulterated dye in the world. The imitation dyes sold under various names have bulk enough, but three-fourths of the imitation dye is composed of cheap and worthless ingredients most dangerous to use and handle. Diamond Dye, prepared according to scientific principles, are always the same in color and strength; these great advantages the women of Canada fully appreciate. An Ontario lady writing about Diamond Dye says: "I have ever used it, and it is quite harmless to work with and never irritates the skin. I had occasion to use a package of common, cheap dye that was sold me as being equal to the Diamond, but it proved a source of great trouble. After using it a severe rash appeared on my hands, showing that it contained poisonous matter."

Menards Liniment Cures Colds, etc. "Did you tell that young fellow not to father severely?" "No, I didn't." "Why not?" "I didn't think that it was necessary. I don't see how he could call any more now. He calls seven times a week."

All good things are not sold by the professional humorist. The "funny man" of a metropolitan newspaper turned one morning from the grind of his daily toil, and said to the exchange editor: "I had a funny dream last night."

"Don't tell it!" replied the exchange editor. "Use it. It will live up your column immensely."

"I once owned some real estate," said the man whose manner showed that he was easily imposed upon. "It was a small house and a large lot."

"Did you ever like to be bothered about money, but they used to tell me to pick all the flowers I wanted?"

St. Martin, Que., May 10, 1895. C. C. HENRY & Co., Montreal. GENTLEMEN,—Last November my child struck a nail in his knee causing inflammation so severe that I was advised to take him to Montreal and have the limb amputated. A neighbor advised us to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, which we did, and within three days my child was all right, and I feel so grateful that I send you this testimonial, that my experience may be of benefit to others. LOUIS GAGNIER.

Scraps for Odd Moments.

The Rescuer—How did you come to fall in? The Rescued—I didn't come to fall in; I came to fish.

"Sunny" said Uncle Eben, "don't yoh nebber wase yoh time tryin' ter defin' what happiness is. It kin be anything from a million dollars down to a circus ticket."

Two hours of sleep before midnight are better than four after that hour. "Fiddlesticks!" Two hours of sleep after one is called in the morning are better than all.

Mr Dudeleigh—Ah, Miss du Millice, I have come to press my suit, doncha know? Miss du Millice—You may be a goose, Mr Dudeleigh, but this is not a tailor shop.

Mikey Dorlan—Hallo, Bill! How did you like being a caddie? Billy Nolan—Ah, I didn't like it at all, at all. First de feller he towld me ter kape me eye on de ball, den he gave me de ball on de eye.

Aver's Ague Cure is a warranted specific for all malarial diseases and bilious derangements. Theodore Hook, while dining at a friend's house, met his publisher, who appeared to have taken as much wine as was good for him. "I see you have written your wine cellar into my book-seller," remarked the wit.

"I wonder," said the fair-haired maid "if there will be any more love when woman is the acknowledged peer of man in intellect?" "What," asked the rheumatic bachelor, "has love got to do with intellect?"
