Creeds.
If wrong has been my creed,
If through life I've trod
Without the light to read
Of doctrine's sign of God;
If what's beyond us here
I have misunderstood,
I shall not need to care
If I have erred for good.
If I've been wholly wrong
In what I hold to be
The proper ruler and song,
And sought the duty
Along mistaken ways,
It need not me afflict,
If I have lived my way
To what I thought was right,
I need not fear the Lord,
Who judges right and wrong,
Whom I have sought to know,
Before Him stand to learn
Of doctrine's sign of God,
That He will not be slow
To give me light of creeds,
But He will search my deeds.

Cream of Tartar

Many people use cream of tartar for quick baking. They value its superior qualities and will not knowingly accept substitutes made of alum or lime phosphates, such as are sometimes offered.

But even the most careful cannot always know. The high price of cream of tartar has led to efforts to substitute alum and phosphate of lime compounds which are vastly inferior and not as healthful to use.

The easiest way in which the housekeeper can be sure of quality and economy is by using Royal Baking Powder, which is made from pure cream of tartar.

Royal Baking Powder gives perfect results, is less trouble to use, and has not been advanced in price. Anyone who has once become accustomed to using Royal Baking Powder never reverts to home-made mixtures or any other product for raising biscuit, griddle-cakes, doughnuts, or cake.

The Finest Chimes in America.

The bells that are in the tower of the city hall municipal group at Springfield, Massachusetts, are said to be the finest set of chimes in America. Their distinction lies in the fact that, instead of being hung in a tower erected on another building, they are suspended in sets of two from each of the eight window openings of a regular story.

One would have to visit Amsterdam, Holland, for an example of chimes similarly placed in a municipal building. Even then those in the Dutch city hall fail to lead them selves gracefully to this method of grouping, for its tower is erected on the building, and does not stand alone as does this beautiful 'campfire' in the New England city.

The chiming device consists in part of a hardwood case, or keyboard, measuring about five feet square, and containing sixteen hammers, the latter being marked with the letters of the musical notes of the sixteen bells in the chimes. This case is placed in the room below the bell, each hammer being connected with the clapper of the corresponding bell by means of rod and chains. So carefully are these adjustments made that slight downward pulls on the handles sound the full notes.

When Blood is Poison.

The blood must be filtered, otherwise you are poisoned. If the kidneys fail the liver is overworked, and becomes torpid. By using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you get both these filtering organs working right, and also ensure healthful action of the bowels. For this reason these pills are an ideal family medicine. They cure biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and kidney disease.

New Auto Fuel.

Motorists will be interested in a new substitute for gasoline that was successfully tried at Indianapolis last week. It is called Zolins, and can be manufactured from a cost of one and a half cents a gallon. Better still, several more miles a gallon can be procured from it than gasoline. In the experiment conducted a Marmon car was used, and ran 500 miles at an average speed of 33 1/4 miles an hour. Experts from the leading car works were present and watched every movement of the test, expressing themselves as satisfied that the discovery will be of immense benefit to motor vehicle use. The inventor is John Andrus, a Portuguese of McKeesport, Pa., who was recently paid $20,000 by the U. S. government for a discovery he made in the toughening of armor plate. Andrus has discovered a new way of breaking down water without the use of any heat, and the new fluid consists mostly of water, a little naphthalene, and two secret ingredients that can be bought at any drug store. Mr. Andrus mixes the fuel in a still, to which heat is applied, and the result is a fluid that is superior to gasoline. At Indianapolis the still was set up under the eyes of the experts and the fluid made. Five gallons of the fluid was put into the car, and it did sixteen miles on a gallon, which is four miles more than could be normally done on gasoline.
