We Shall Prevent All Nations From Assailing China---We Are More Interested in Good Government There Than Any Other Nation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Proclaiming a Monroe Doctrine of war in the East, Viscount Ishey, head of the Japanese mission to the United States, warned the nations of the world last night that his country will not tolerate aggressions against the territory of independence of China. At the same time he pledged Japan not to attempt similar aggressions on her part. Speaking at a formal dinner in honor of the Imperial Envoys' visit to New York, Ambassador Emperor Yoshitake outlined publicly for the first time since he set foot on American soil the policy of his Government as it related to China. The circumstances for which we were in no sense responsible, gave us certain claims on Chinese territory," Viscount Ishey said, "but at no time in the past and

ENGLAND WILL USE REPRISALS

LONDON, Oct. 1.—There are the best of reasons for believing that the continued German airplane attacks on England with the plain purpose of killing civilians, will not pass without retaliation. The idea of killing women and children is repugnant to British mind, but just as the army was forced to use poisonous gas against the German soldiers, or be in the position of fighting with one hand tied behind its back, so the British will be compelled to fight the German in the air by bombing German cities, according to the belief now generally held here. They have the necessary machines and better aviators, but heretofore preferred to use them solely against the fighting men on the battle front. The defences of

BRITISH STEAMER SUBMARINED

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The British steamer 'Tanaqua,' formerly the Den of Glamis, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Ireland, according to private cables received here. It is believed the crew was saved. She was bound from Glasgow to New York with general cargo.

THE CONTROL OVER COAL TRADE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Government control over coal industry was made completely an order of the fuel administration Carfield, limiting the profits of retail coal and coke dealers throughout the country to a basis which is expected to bring about immediately the reduction in prices to the consumer. The order is effective today, and directs that retailers shall fix their prices so as to limit their gross margins over cost to average of

AIR RAIDS ACCOMPLISH NOTHING

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The air raids last night accomplished nothing important for the enemy. The claim that the new air barrage acts as a powerful deterrent to raiders seems to have been justified. Further, in last attacks an immense number of guns of various calibres were in action. Indeed it was by them and not the invaders who were putting up the show. There was an intense and far-reaching searching in all directions, the flashes of bursting missiles showing brightly in the heavens, notwithstanding the extreme brilliance of a full moon, more impressive was the terrific din of the guns. The enormous and prolonged volume of gunfire certainly was alarming to civilians if not accustomed to it. Some of the big high velocity weapons employed detonated with a deafening crash indistinguishable by civilians from bursting bombs. So great was the amount of detense shell fire that an estimate of a thou-

THE ENEMY CONTINUES RAIDING ENGLISH TOWNS

Casualties in Saturday's Raid Eleven Killed and 52 Injured---Raiders Were Prevented From Reaching London.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Eleven persons were killed and 52 injured in last night's air raid, it is announced officially. The material damage was not board of five German steamships and planes attempted to attack London in the course of last night's raid, but most of the machines were driven off. Bombs were dropped in the north-eastern and the southeastern districts of London and various places in Kent and Essex. Casualties are believed to be comparatively light. The following official report of the raid was given out today:

Significant Silence

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The veil of secrecy which has hung over operations along the British front in Belgium and Northern France since the latter part of the week, still remains impenetrable so far as news offerings of the British War Office are concerned. Since Friday nothing except the most laconic statements have reached the outside world from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters. That another big offensive is in preparation by Haig seems to be the forecast, however. Sunday's Berlin official communication characterizes the artillery duel along the Belgian coast and southwest to Ypres-Comines canal as severe, and also indicates that British troops are busy keeping the enemy alert by stabs here and there from reconnoitering parties, those little forays that always render the Germans anxious as to coming events and tend to get on their nerves. Doubtless using former history as a guide, Haig is again heavily pounding the German positions with a rain of shells, leveling them and making more easy the pathway for his troops again to snatch a point of strategic value to him.

The Pope's Proposals

PARIS, Sept. 30.—A despatch to the Temps from Geneva, says that Pope Benedict, in transmitting to the Entente Allies the replies received from the Central Powers to his peace proposals, will set forth in an accompanying note the theory that Germany and Austria have accepted a basis of negotiations satisfactory to the Allies, and will ask the Allies to state the conditions.

Heavy German Attacks

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Heavy German attacks in the Ypres sector are reported in Field Marshal Haig's statement from headquarters in France to-night. All attacks were repulsed. The text of the statement reads: "Early this morning the enemy heavily bombarded our positions between Tower Hamlets and Polygon Wood and subsequently launched three attacks all of which were repulsed with loss. The first was delivered south of Reutelbeke. It was beaten off by our fire before reaching our positions. Shortly afterwards hostile infantry advanced astride the Ypres-Menin road under cover of a thick smoke barrage and accompanied by flamme-throwers. Detachments succeeded in temporarily driving in one of our advanced posts. An immediate counter attack recaptured the post, together with a number of prisoners and machine guns. Later an attempt to repeat this attack was broken up by our artillery. The enemy raked our trenches early in the morning east of Loos, and captured one of our garrisons. As the raiders were attempting to withdraw across No Man's Land they were pursued and attacked. Our men were recaptured and a number of the enemy were killed and taken prisoners. The hostile artillery was active today along our front between the Ypres-Comines Canal and Zonnebeke and the Newport sector. Our own artillery activity on the battle-front continued."
