The more we find out about the Knights of Labor the more we begin to see they are not the blood thirsty socialistic outlaws they are often represented to be. At any rate they are intelligent enough to understand that organization to have strength and public respect must be upon a moral basis. The constitution of this body lies along the straight edge of moral progress. The leaders of the association seem alive to the great injury to the wel-tare of workingmen caused by intemperance and are taking active measures to sen its effects. In addition to forbidding any one engaged in the selling of evening of Wednesday, June 29th.liquor to become members of the associastitution, the new constitution just passed has the following clause :- "No local or Northumberland, and a number from ployment to numbers of men, and are a beer or intoxicating liquors of any kind at any meeting, party, sociable, ball, picture or entertainment with the surrounding country.
