

AMUSEMENTS

When Madame Nazimova appears here at the Grand on Friday night local theatre-goers will have an opportunity to decide for themselves as to the exact color of her eyes. The famous Russian actress, who has just created a furore in New York city, where she has played in one theatre for more than two years, is credited with having eyes of all possible hues attributed to "humans," while some people insist that her eyes have the limpid color quality of an animal, rather than that usually seen in mankind. Some of her interviewers insist that her eyes are black, others swear that they are violet, still others are insistent that green is the color, but one thing is certain, whatever their coloring, her eyes contain perhaps more than any other feature, that mystic quality which is such a tremendous factor in the magnetism of Nazimova.

Stork at the Savoy.
The offering at the Savoy this week, that splendid melo-drama, "The Silver King," presented by the Summers Stock Company, should be favored with liberal patronage during the remaining performances. "The Silver King" is a classic in melo-drama, and one of the finest works of its kind. Presented in five acts and with special scenery, it is capably handled by Mr. Summers and his large company. In the role of Daniel Jakes, the sympathetic and faithful old family servant, Mr. Summers has one of the best character parts in which he has appeared yet. The specialties between the acts are exceptionally good. Beautiful "Sappho."

This most successful play, that caused all America to sit up and take notice, is the offering at the local play house on Saturday for one performance only, and theatre-goers as well as the public who have read the novel, will have the opportunity to see the great play in dramatic form. The version to be seen here was made by Alphonse Daudet, a noted Parisian, whose works are famous and his version all the elemental passion and emotion have been retained, and an excellent dramatic treat is assured. "Sappho" is the most talked of play in the world to-day, and was made famous in America by that sterling actress, Olga Nethersole, whose success was pronounced. The play contains the beautiful love story that holds the interest of the audience from the first to the final curtain, and is intensely interesting and snappy, and entirely out of the beaten path, as usually employed by dramatic authors.

Chicago, May 27.—David Henderson, who died here last night, was a pioneer in the production of theatrical performances of the extravaganza type, and a number of players who afterwards attained much prominence, were introduced to the public under his management. His activity in theatrical affairs ceased several years ago, owing to failing health.

HONORS OF THE CANADIAN CLUB

CONFERRED UPON MR. PHILIPPE HEBERT, THE SCULPTOR.

He Was Made an Honorary Life Member at an Informal Banquet Tendered Him.

A few of the members of the Canadian Club tendered a complimentary dinner to Mr. Philippe Hebert, C. M. G., the sculptor of the Queen Victoria statue, last evening at the Hotel Royal. Dr. Storms was the chairman of the evening, and in a few appropriate remarks expressed his pleasure at meeting Mr. Hebert, and hoped that it would be one of many such meetings.

Before Mr. Hebert responded Mr. C. R. McCullough moved that Mr. Hebert be made an honorary life member of the Canadian Club of this city. Mr. McCullough referred to the great and noble work that Mr. Hebert had dedicated to the city of Hamilton in the monument of Queen Victoria, and he felt that Mr. Hebert should come in for recognition for what he had done for his country. Mr. Arthur Heming seconded the motion, which was passed by a unanimous standing vote.

Mr. Hebert thanked them for their warm expression of appreciation. He considered it a great honor to be a member of the parent organization of that flourishing movement, whose motto seems to be "A good Canadian always." In speaking of the monument, Mr. Hebert said that when he had been asked to undertake the modelling of the present statue, the ladies had intimated that they wanted a view of the Queen at the time she had done some great thing for Canada. He had to look back over history, and decided that the document which her Majesty had signed in 1867, giving the confederation to Canada, was the most important epoch of Canadian history. He considered he had given a faithful representation of her Majesty. He was glad to have contributed to the cause represented by the flag of old England.

Mr. H. A. Neyland, principal of the Art School, spoke a few words in which he voiced the sentiments of those present in thanking Mr. Hebert for his gift to the people of Hamilton.

The meeting then closed, as Mr. Hebert had to catch his train for Montreal.

HIS FAREWELL.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell's Parting Words at Ottawa.

Rev. E. A. Mitchell is to be inducted as pastor of Knox Church to-morrow evening, according to the programme already printed in the Times. Rev. Mr. Mitchell preached his farewell sermon in Erskine Church, Ottawa, on Sunday last. In closing his remarks, fresh inspiration to any discouraged, comfort to any in sorrow, then give God the praise and the glory, for he is worthy. I have been but the human medium through which the good has come. It is sufficient honor for me that I have had the privilege of being a co-worker with God, in however a humble way. The passing of the years has only brought to me a growing sense of the imperfect way in which my work has been done, but I leave it with Him, whose I am, and whom I have endeavored to serve. My earnest prayer is that God will use this congregation in the days to come in a mighty work, and that the trust left to us that when the Chief Shepherd shall appear we may hear the words "Well done."

Rev. E. A. and Mrs. Mitchell arrived in Hamilton to-day and have taken up temporary quarters.

Last night Erskine congregation, Ottawa, tendered them a farewell.
