The Skylark.

Bird of the wilderness,
Blythsome and cumberless,
Sweet be thy matin o'er moorland and lea!
Emblem of happiness,
Blest is thy dwelling-place—
O to abide in the desert with thee!
Wild is thy lay and loud
Far in the downy cloud,
Love gives it energy, love gave it birth.
Where, on thy dewy wing,
Where art thou journeying?
Thy lay is in heaven, thy love is on earth.

O'er fell and fountain sheen,
O'er moor and mountain green,
O'er the red streamer that heralds the day,
Over the cloudlet dim,
Over the rainbow's rim
Musical cherub, soar, singing, away!
Then, when the gloaming comes,
Low in the heather blooms
Sweet will thy welcome and bed of love be!
Emblem of happiness,
Blest is thy dwelling-place—
O to abide in the desert with thee!
—James Hogg (1800).

A Fellow's Mother.

"A fellow's mother," said Fred the Wise
With his rosy cheeks and his merry eyes,
"Knows what to do if a fellow gets hurt
By a thump, or a bruise, or a fall in the dirt.

"A fellow's mother has bags and strings,
Rags and buttons, and lots of things;
No matter how busy she is, she'll stop
To see how well you can spin your top.

"She does not care, not much, I mean,
If a fellow's face is not always clean;
And if your trousers are torn at the knee
She can put in a patch that you'd never see.

"A fellow's mother is never mad,
But only sorry if you are bad,
And I'll tell you this, if you're only true,
She'll always forgive whate'er you do.
"I'm sure of this," said Fred the Wise,
With a manly look in his laughing eyes,
"I'll mind my mother, quick, every day,
A fellow's a baby that don't obey."
—M. E. Sangster.

Town and Country.

God made the country and man made the town;
What wonder, then, that health and virtue, gifts
That can alone make sweet the bitter draught
That life holds out to all, should most abound
And least be threatened in the fields and groves? Cowper.

The Evening Cloud.

A cloud lay cradled near the setting sun,
A gleam of crimson tinged its braided snow:
Long had I watched the glory moving on
O'er the still radiance of the lake below.
Tranquil its spirit seem'd, and floated slow!
Even in its very motion there was rest:
While every breath of eve that chanced to blow
Wafted the traveller to the beauteous West.
Emblem, methought, of the departed soul!
To whose white robe the gleam of bliss is given;
And by the breath of mercy made to roll
Right onwards to the golden gates of Heaven,
Where, to the eye of faith, it peaceful lies,
And tells to man his glorious destines.
—John Wilson (1788).

The Call of Nature

The exceeding beauty of the earth, in her splendour of life, yields a new thought with every petal.
—Richard Jeffries.

Flowers tell us with ingenuous grace of things splendid and undreamt of. They are the little sisters of the stars, and, like their elders, they shed heavenly light along our dark ways.
—Chas. Wagner.

Every bird that sings,
And every flower that stars the elastic sod,
And every thought that happy summer brings
To the pure spirit is a word of God.
—H. Coleridge.

In my breast
Spring wakens too; and my regret
Becomes an April violet,
And buds and blossoms like the rest.
—Tennyson.

Fair now is the Springtide, now earth lies beholding
With the eyes of a lover, the face of the sun;
Long lasteth the daylight, and hope is enfolding
The green-growing acres with increase begun.
—W. Morris.

Now the heart is so full that a drop overfills it,
We are happy now because God wills it,
No matter how barren the past may have been,
'Tis enough for us now that the leaves are green;
We sit in the warm shade and feel right well,
How the sap creeps up and the blossoms swell.
—James Russell Lowell.

A garden is a lovesome thing, God wot?
Rose plot, fringed pool, ferned grot—
The veriest school
Of peace; and yet the fool
Contends that God is not—
Not God! in gardens! When the eve is cool?
Nay, but I have a sign,
'Tis very sure God walks in mine.
—Thos. Ed. Brown.

Obituary.

Mr. Jeremiah Shea.

In the death of Mr. Jeremiah Shea which occurred at Harbour Grace yesterday morning, that town has lost one of her best and most upright citizens. Mr. Shea has resided in the Second City for nearly 50 years, and was a St. John's man, having been born on the historic King's Road. He proceeded when but a boy to Harbour Grace and grew up to be one of her most sturdy and respected sons. Mr. Shea for many years carried on a large and successful fishery business at Dead Island, Labrador, but the past 7 years could not attend to it being ill and was succeeded in it by his son, Mr. Wm. Shea. He was a man of kindly disposition, charitable to a fault and was noted for his integrity and unswerving honesty. Besides his son, William, already alluded to, he leaves two daughters, Misses Minnie Shea, of Harbour Grace, and Hannah, in Montreal. Two sisters also survive him, Mrs. Hope, of Montreal, and Mrs. Fennessey, of Water Street, St. John's, widow of the late Sergeant Fennessey of the Constabulary. To the bereaved family and relatives the Telegram extends its condolence.

All these Seeds—except the Special American Cabbage Seeds—are from Messrs. Sutton & Sons' warehouses, and all without exception, are good, fresh and carefully selected seeds, and are likely to give the best results in the fall.

Another big crowd last night to see Lorrainne Buchanan Company. They have a very fine comedy act, Lorraine Buchanan is one of the finest actresses seen here in a long while, she is well known in the United States, having played leading roles in many of the big productions. Billy De Van still continues to delight the large audiences with his singing and acting; Cook and Beall have a very funny comedy act "Down on the farm". Harry Ingram the rising young Tenor is also doing good work. The pictures are really excellent. Look out for the big act.

Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your life a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too, but learned how to cure myself. I want to tell you how. Write me to-day. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bills. I can do this for you and will if you will permit me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has proved in my hands to be simply wonderful. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If not, I shall be happy and you will be cured for the cost of a postage stamp. Your letter will convince. Write to-day. Address Mrs. M. Summers, Windsor, Ont.
