MALMO, Nov. 8.
The cruiser Undine was sunk on Sunday, while she was escorting the German ferry boat Poesunen from Treleborg in Sweden to Sussnitz in Prussia. The cruiser sank in three minutes, but with the exception of fifteen men, who went down with her, the crew was saved. The second officer and six men died later from wounds. #### SITUATION UNCHANGED.

PARIS, Nov. 8.
The situation is unchanged at the Franco-German front. To-day's communique announced that calm has prevailed in the Serbian war zone, since the Allies' victory over the Bulgarians in the Kriwolaka region.

SLOW BUT SURE.

SALONIKA, Nov. 8.
The French offensive against the Bulgarians is proceeding slowly but surely, because of difficulties after rain. In the sector northeast of Strumitza, Kachaly and Moinitsy were occupied on the 5th and Dolompe was stormed yesterday. It is reported here that the French advanced toward the north is continuing uninterrupted to-day with the British contingent on the right wing. The Serbians are reported to have repulsed heavy Bulgarian attacks in the Kriwolaka sector, where the French also have materially extended their line, which reaches northwest beyond Grasko, and west beyond the Thema River to the Kavadar region.

DEBATE IN THE LORDS.

LONDON, Nov. 8.
In a debate on the War in the Lords to-day, Earl Loreburn complained that mistakes had been made by the Government and declared it was no exaggeration to say that if the war continued indefinitely, revolution or anarchy might well follow. Earl Loreburn, who formerly was Lord High Chancellor, complained that legitimate channels of information had been choked, and the public kept in the dark. He declared that some real incapacity existed somewhere. The army headquarters, government and the press were all to be blamed. He said that the Government had been fighting for a month, our enemies had not attained the purpose they are seeking. German success has not yet been marked. The junction with the Bulgarians is not really effective, and the contact established has no practical utility, since the Germans, thus far, can send neither cannon nor munitions to the Bulgarians or Turks. This is why they are making such desperate efforts this time to capture all the railroads from Belgrade, Nish and Sofia. The army headquarters, government and people are persuaded that as soon as the Allied troops arrive in sufficient numbers, and begin action, success will be rapid and constant. He said that he was convinced that this success will mark the beginning of the end of the general war.

ROUMANIA.

LONDON, Nov. 8.
A despatch from the Copenhagen Exchange Telegraph Co. says that the Roumanian Government has sent a railway commission to Petrograd to discuss the possibility of opening a new route for the transportation of supplies from England to Roumania. It is proposed to ship goods by way of Scandinavia and Russia, inasmuch as the usual route through Salonika and Nish is now unavailable on account of the capture of the railway by the Germans.

BRITISH PRESS ON AMERICAN NOTE.

LONDON, Nov. 8.
The attitude taken by the London morning newspapers on the American note to Great Britain is generally that, though the points raised in the note are all open to argument, Britain's position is that she is engaged in a life and death struggle, and therefore has to consider all questions on the predicament basis of winning the war, that such a world war is bound to carry some inconvenience to neutrals, but as far as possible and consistent with doing everything in her power to win the war, she is careful to do as little as possible to injure the interests of neutrals. It is also contended that neutrals having failed to act when Germans contravened international law by sinking neutral ships with neutral passengers it was necessary for Britain to take some action.

FRENCH COMMENT.

PARIS, Nov. 8.
The comments of the British press on the American note to Britain, are reproduced at unusual length in the French newspapers. The Temps concludes its summary of the note by declaring that Germany, through her constant violation of international law, and her contempt for neutral merchantmen, has made necessary the blockade of force against her.

WHITLOCK'S STATEMENT.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 8.
"I was advised by my physician, two months ago, that rest was imperative," said Brand Whitlock. "I am now taking a portion of the leave of absence to which I am entitled under regulations, after fifteen months of unbroken labor. I expect to spend a few weeks in my home in America and return to Brussels at the end of December. My journey has no political significance."

LUXEMBURG'S PRESIDENT.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 8.
A telegram from Luxembourg says that Dr. Lutach, lawyer, who was appointed Minister of State on Saturday, by Grand Duchess Marie, has assumed the Presidency of the Luxembourg Government.

FRENCH STEAMER ON FIRE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.
The French liner steamer Rochambeau, two days out from New York for Bordeaux, is reported by wireless to-day with fire in her coal bunkers, and steaming to-night for Halifax, the nearest port. Her exact position is not given. A single wireless message brought news of her plight to the land. It was estimated that she would make Halifax some time late to-night or early to-morrow. Aboard the burning steamer were 650 persons, 421 passengers and a crew of about 230, and a large cargo of war supplies, including 2,561 cases of cartridges and 136 bales of cotton. The fire which turned the vessel from her course toward the northern port of Halifax, is deep in the hold bunkers, where is placed the reserve supply of coal. Its exact location, according to the wireless message sent by the captain, is number five reserve coal bunker, which is located amidships. This message said that the vessel was in no danger. From its tone, the officials here of the French line inferred that the situation was not a serious one. "We are not alarmed," said Paul Faguet, general agent of the line. "Bunker fires are not uncommon, nor are they generally very serious, as they are away from the cargo space. There is every reason to believe the fire is not serious. If it were, Capt. Juham would undoubtedly have given his position and S.O.S. signals calling for help, which would have been sent out. Only one wireless has been received from the steamer when the French line office closed to-night. This was from Capt. Juham, and reached the office here about 2.30 p.m. as follows: 'Fire number five reserve coal bunker. Fighting fire. Have turned to Halifax.'"

LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, Nov. 8.
The press and public were largely occupied to-day with the American note, which has been the subject of more discussion than any diplomatic question for many months. The Foreign Office has already given it very careful consideration, but it has not yet been before the Cabinet, and probably it will be a fortnight or more before a reply can be prepared. For the moment the note has even overshadowed the Near Eastern situation and Earl Kitchener's proposed visit to that theatre of operations. Beyond the fact that Kitchener departed for his destination, there is little or no news from the Allied side respecting the Balkan situation. The Austro-Germans have succeeded in crossing Morava River in Serbia. General Von Gallwitz has occupied Krusevac, one of Serbia's largest towns, about thirty miles due north-west of Nish. The fall of Krusevac means that the branch railway line at Ushietze near the Bosnian frontier, has been broken by the invaders close to the point where it leaves the main Belgrade-Nish-Salonika line. A large number of prisoners, ten guns, and a lot of war material fell into German hands. The Bulgarians are also advancing from the east, but in the west the Montenegrins claim to have inflicted another defeat on the Austrians. The Austrians, it is said, are concentrating a force of 120,000 men at Herzegovina for an invasion of Montenegro.

Who's Who in the Balkans.

M. Venizelos, the Greek Premier, who has resigned because King Constantine of Greece would not agree to his policy of aiding Serbia and the Allies, is fifty-one years of age. He is known as the "Bismarck of Balkan Diplomacy."

He is a widower with two sons, and is really a Cretan, his father being expelled from the island by the Turks. In the Cretan revolt of 1896 Venizelos donned the Cretan costume and top-boots, and showed great military powers.

On one occasion at a Cretan village meeting, a resolution was passed to kill Venizelos. Hearing of it he went to the villagers, explained his aims, and then revealed his identity, with the result that the would-be assassins gave him a vote of confidence. Such is the power of the man.

PAYING RENT.

For seven years, in discontent, I leased a humble cot; it kept me busy paying rent—it also kept me hot. Each month for seven weary years, I coughed up twenty bones; I handed out the coin with tears, and deep heart-rending groans.

The landlord lived in princely state, and when I went to him, and said, "Old scum, the garden gate is badly out of trim; the doggone roof lets in the rain, and floods our mealy hut, each window has a broken pane, the doors will not shut stay," he answered me, "The times are bad, and growing worse. I trow; I simply cannot spare a scad to fix that cabin now." At last I bought a lowly shack, that measured two by four, with rainpipes running up the back, a latchsting to each door. Now if the roof is sagging down, or holes are in the stairs, I chase no landlord through the town, beseeching for repairs. I take my jimmy and my ax, my shotgun and my spade, and plug the holes and fix the cracks, without a landlord's aid. And there's a pleasure simply great, a sacred sort of glee, in working round your own estate, however small it be.

Prince Boris, King Ferdinand's eldest son, who, it is said, will be Commander-in-Chief of the Bulgarian army, only completed his twenty-first year last January. He is the eldest of the four children of King Ferdinand and by his first wife, Princess Marie Louise of Parma, who died in 1899, immediately after the birth of her youngest child.

He is a distant cousin of our King's through an uncle of Queen Victoria's. He was born in Vienna on February 28th, 1861, and for some time he served as an officer in the Austrian army. He possesses large estates in Hungary.

The King of Rumania, also named Ferdinand, is just fifty years of age.

He has six children, his eldest son, Carol, being twenty-two years of age. Ferdinand of Rumania did not succeed to the throne until last year.

Ladies' Costumes

Fall--1915--Styles.

Was there ever a more fickle lady than Dame Fashion? She is always making changes, and this season has surely surpassed herself.

There is a more decided change in this Fall's styles than has been known for many seasons. While materials are similar, Serges, Gabardines, Tweeds, Cord, etc., the designs are absolutely unlike any of their predecessors. Coats are of many styles, chiefly a la militaire, with high collars, snug-fitting sleeves, and the entire coat in some instances is beautifully braided. Skirts are much fuller, both pleated and gored, and are worn very short.

As descriptions are quite impossible, we can only say that we carry the largest and smartest line of Ladies' Costumes in the city.

Hot Water and Happiness.

Hot baths are necessary for health, in summer as in winter. But in households where hot water supply is dependent on the kitchen range, a hot bath cannot be secured during the summer months without turning the kitchen and its neighbourhood into a miniature inferno.

No wonder, then, that cook complains bitterly when nurse demands to have the fire made up, and that relations between the members of the household staff reveal a state of strain extending almost to breaking point.

It is here that the gas industry steps in to keep peace by means of its water-heating inventions, all of any which, being entirely independent of the coal range, can give unlimited hot water at any moment without causing the least inconvenience.

Of all the boons and blessings that the twentieth century brain has devised, the gas water-heater is by no means the least.
