Charles Oatman, of Cornell, sought to recover $60 damages against the C. S. R. for damages sustained by the destruction of his wheat by fire, originating from one of the company's engines. The case was tried at the last Division Court at Tilsonburg on March 17, when the company consented to a verdict for $60, subject to certain law points raised by them as to their liability. These questions have been decided in the company's favor, and the verdict has been set aside, and a nonsuit entered with costs to be paid by the plaintiff.

The scheme for carrying the Brantford and Tilsonburg Railway to Port Burwell is being actively prosecuted. Towards the end of the present week a deputation consisting of the promoters of the scheme, and a deputation including Mayor Secord, of Brantford, will go to Ottawa and interview the Government in regard to obtaining a subsidy for the construction of the line to Port Burwell.

Mr. Henderson may well count himself lucky, for he had 65 bushels.

Joe Yearsley, a member of the notorious boodle brigade in the East Elgin, West Huron, London and South Perth election, has taken his departure from his home in St. Thomas, leaving numerous creditors, it is said, to mourn his absence. He was discharged some years ago from the M. C. R. shops, and has since been employed only a portion of the time. His wife asserts that he has not left the country, but is unable to say where he has gone. He was an applicant for the custom house plum which has just been gobbled up by the brother of the man whom Yearsley helped to elect.

The meeting of London Lodge, No. 33, on Wednesday evening last was more than usually interesting to the members of the order in London, was more than usually interesting to the members of the order in London, and this lodge in particular, visitors from all the city lodges and some from Detroit being present. The grand chancellor of Ontario, Bro. F. J. Fitzgerald, paid his first official visit to this young lodge and conferred the rank of page and esquire on candidates. After the regular business of the lodge was concluded the grand chancellor gave a very neat resume of the growth and advancement of the order in Ontario, and in a speech of over half an hour encouraged the officers and members of London Lodge with good and wholesome advice regarding the conducting of lodge business, care of finances, etc., for which a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to him. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation to S. D. D. G. C. Alex. Gardner of an address and a purse by the officers and members of London Ledge for this reservations.

London Lodge has now obtained a firm footing in the southern suburb, and is growing rapidly. Its affairs are in the hands of capable and efficient officers, and will be carefully looked after. A large increase of membership is expected.

Pythianism is not obtrusive. It does not force itself upon the people. Those who wish to wear its honors must seek them by merit. But its bond of friendship is as everlasting as the hills and mountains of creation. No worthy brother need suffer.
