You would perhaps think the directory the last place in the world to look for a bill of fare. But here you have Fried Ham and Bacon. Cake would make a nice dessert, and Lush would not be found wanting. Fish with a Finn would do for Fridays. Bull might furnish the beef, and if bread were needed some Doe and Ovens could be had. Your Kettle you could have; in Summer's Bright Day you might Plant Flowers to decorate the table, in spite of Frost, Snowand Fogg. Of course, your Kettle might Leake, but you could put your Irons in the fire and not care a Figg for that. Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance, and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from sufering by the use of Polson's Nerviline. Would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them to quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

Watts—Doctor, do you believe that the use of tobocco tends to shorten a man's days? Dr. Bowless—I know it does. I tried to quit once, and the days were about 80 hours long.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general certetive, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruiss; cuts and sores succumb to its action.
