The "Royal Muskoka."

The opening up of the Highlands of Ontario, Canada, and the beautiful Lake region, has been a veritable labor of love to the advertising department of the Grand Trunk Railway, and the coming summer promises such an influx of American tourists as will amply justify the outlay in hotel accommodation which has been recently made. The "Royal Muskoka," in fact, promises to become to Canada, in summer, what the "Royal Ponciana" is to Florida in the winter months, the most fashionable resort of the continent, where the romantic and the beautiful can be enjoyed with all the luxury and comfort of the most modern hotel life. The "Royal Muskoka," which has been built at a cost of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, very much resembles the architecture of the famous Flagler hotels, soft gray stucce walls, timbered across under its redtiled roof with deep, cool verandas, commanding views of the surrounding lakes and islands. It has accommodation for 400 guests, and is the finest summer hotel in Canada. It will be opened on June 16. For all information as to rate, routes, etc., and illustrated descriptive literature, apply to M. C. Dickson, district passenger and ticket

Inspector of Prisons Says Interior Is Antiquated—Advises Many Improvements.

"Have the necessary repairs made on the walls and outside, but don't spend a dollar on improving the interior," was the advice of Mr. T. F. Chamberlain, inspector of prisons, to was a difficult one in the first place, the board of works, yesterday afternoon, when they visited the jail for the purpose of learning the inspector's ideas of the matter of improvements. The members of the board agreed with Mr. Chamberlain that it would be useless to attempt to make any other than extensive repairs. The inspector contended that the place would have to be torn to pieces and thoroughly re-modeled before it would be properly fitted for the habitation of prisoners. The sanitation, ventilation and heating appliances were of the very worst, he said, and the cells were of out-ofdate style. The inspector thought that chances of escape would be better in this prison than in any other he knew. Piles of cordwood might be stacked against the wall and escape effected. Steel cells, with patent closing doors should be put in, he said, a hot water heating system installed, and a new mode of ventilation introduced. The cost of wood yearly more than equaled what it would cost to install a new system of heating.

The inspector very strongly objected to another state of affairs, which permitted persons who were supposed to matter, to be submitted to the legis-lature. He said he believed that 40 merely placed there because the county did not wish to have them on their hands in the poorhouse. This also was the indirect cause of the necessity of having insane people in the jails, the asylums being crowded with these imbeciles, while room for lunatics could

WANTSOUTH BELT LINE.

The Trust Favors the South Street Service.

Members Want to See Sunday Visiting Decreased.

Ladies Will Assist to Make Concert a Success-Mayor Objects to Press Comment.

The hospital trust met at Victoria Hospital in regular session yesterday cluded the indorsation of the South street belt line scheme, the passing of a resolution to lessen Sunday visiting, and the arranging of some details of the forthcoming benefit concert. The mayor took occasion to enter a protest against what he considered unfair statements and insinuations in The Advertiser editorial columns.

The members present were Chairman McCormick, Trustees Waterman and McLeod, the mayor, Dr. Balfour and Superintendent Heard.

LETTERS AND REPORTS. The medical man who had had charge of the case of Wm. H. Brown, who claims, through his solicitors, that he lost an eye through neglect on the part of a physician and lack of care, wrote, stating that Mr. Brown's case and that Mr. Brown's wife took him from the hospital contrary to the physician's advice, thereby losing al chance of saving his eyesight. The substance of the letter will be communicated to Mr. Brown's solicitors.

Miss McCutcheon, assistant lady superintendent, tendered her resignation, to take effect May 1. On motion of Mr. Waterman, action on the resignation was laid over. The nembers of the trust spoke in the highest terms of Miss McCutcheon, and favored retaining her in some other capacity when her services are no longer required owing to Miss Mayou bringing her own assistant.

Miss Patricia Foote, graduate of the Toronto School of Domestic Science, applied for appointment as matron of the hospital. Her application was laid over, as the board has not yet decided to appoint a matron. Misses Mary McVicar and Hannah Dufton were reported as having passed their examination, they being the first nurses to take the full three years' course. Two applications for the position of laundryman were received and refer-red to the superintendent. Miss Mary H. Julian, Winger, Miss in Maud Liddycoatt, Hamilton, and Miss he Edith Hughes, Dresden, applied for admission to the training school.

The superintendent's report for the fortnight showed 24 males, 17 females and 1 child admitted, and 22 males, 24 females and 2 children discharged.

There are now under treatment 33 males, 52 females, and 11 children, a total of 96 patients. LESS SUNDAY VISITING. OTHER BUSINESS. Mr. Waterman said he wished to see the requisition system utilized in the ordering of all supplies. He was in favor of all the ordering being done through the head of the institution. The mayor agreed with Mr. Waterman's contention.

Dr. Balfour pointed out that for years past all ordering had been done by requisition, signed by himself and the chairman. The mayor moved, seconded by Mr. Waterman, that the board urge the of the trust and allow such things to city council to put forth every effort to pass unchallenged. secure the building of the South street

THE MAYOR'S PROTEST. Just before the meeting closed the mayor said he desired to protest against an editorial appearing in The London Advertiser of April 7. He believed it was the duty of the trust to rectify misstatements, and he thought himself justified in what he was about ot do.

The mayor characterized the statement that the superintendency was intended for Col. Henry Smith as false, as far as he knew. Col. Smith had never been an applicant, and the only mention of Col. Smith's name was in the newspapers. The statement that Canadians were being displaced by Americans in the hospital was also untrue. Miss Mayou was a native of England, had lived as long in Canada as she had in the Unitthe case on a recent occasion.

The mayor read from Miss Mayou's letters to show that the assistant brought by Miss Mayou would also be a Canadian, as Miss Mayou believed they are of better caliber and possessed of more executive ability than the average American. The statement that the hospital changes were costing the city more money, said the mayor, was disproved by the fact that the estimates for maintenance were $19,000 in 1900, $16,000 in 1901, and only $12,000 in 1902.

The mayor closed by declaring that he considered all such insinuations and statements very unfair, and he declared he would not sit as a member

Questions Which All Londoners the instant the person pulling it lets go of the hook, the first stroke of the alarm is sounded in the fire stations. Then there is a pause of about two seconds, followed by two strokes; another pause, followed by four strokes. As the strokes are about every second, just eight seconds have elapsed since the box was pulled. The number of the box is sounded three times, but long before the sounding of the alarm has been completed, the horses have been hitched up to the apparatus, the men about 31 seconds from the moment the box was pulled, the companies assigned to it are on their way.

IN CASE OF FIRE.

All fire-fighting authorities agree that a fire intercepted in its incipiency cannot amount to a serious conflagration. These authorities will tell you to lose not a second in turning in the alarm. And they will further tell you that to send in an alarm promptly, you must know the exact location of the nearest fire-alarm box. Therefore, it is imperative that every citizen acquaint himself with the location of the fire-alarm box nearest his residence or place of business: to learn how to pull the box, and, above all things, to "keep cool" and move quickly. Of the two, a fire-alarm box or a telephone, use the former, unless you know beyond all doubt that you can save time by using the telephone. If you decide to use the telephone, say to central: "My place is on fire. Give me firealarm headquarters." Such messages are given the right of way, and when a second later you are given fire-alarm headquarters, say:

"My house, so and so Blank street, is on fire.' You need not say more, for the operator at fire-alarm headquarters will do the rest.

PROMPTNESS IS THE THING. The moment you give him the number of your residence or place of business, the fireman answering the 'phone presses a button, which gives what is call a "still" alarm in each of the stations, and almost before you have had time to hang up your telephone transmitter the companies are on their way
