-The administration of justice in Saturdays, and Boston on Tuesdays marked with harmony between the officials of the law and the people. Two criminal cases were tried there one for the shooting of a boy on Hallowe'en of last year, and the other for the death of a boy by Windsor before Judge Graham. As punishment for shooting the boy, the tail. n who committed the deed in a fit of ill-temper was sentenced to one a boy that was teasing him, was acquitted. Comment seems superfluous took place of a man who had been convicted of murdering his wife and setting The scene at the execution is described as a disgrace to a civilized commungathering conviction that possibly th cuted, although at the time of the grounds for the assumption that such a terrible miscarriage of justice has gation, though no requital is possible public that circumstantial evidence is never strong enough to justify detime should elapse before execution, to -The following is an abstract from "A Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been started in the City of Mexico, the wife of President Diaz being one of its most fifty members attended its first meeting, and several hundred dollars were contributed to its starting. If Mrs. Diaz and her committee were in Lunen-burg they would have a lot of their time taken up in defending the too often over-loaded ox. Whipped, kick-ed and jabbed with a fork, how often have we witnessed a team of oxen bleeding from the nose from the bru-tality of their driver foreign them tobleeding from the nose from the bru-tality of their driver forcing them to draw a load up a hill too heavy for their strength. A merciful man is merciful to his beast. The Secretary at Halifax should appoint a good, fearless Secretary here who is not afraid of doing his duty."

Lunenburg is not the only town in the province where cruel neglect pre vails in regard to the prevention of the torture of dumb animals. Unless one is very callous, he must almost sights of the suffering of dumb animals. Horses too feeble and unsteady in their gait to be able hardly to crawl at a walk, are harnessed to loaded wagons, and are lashed un mercifully at every slackening of their utmost pace. Sickening sores on the hides of horses and oxen reveal the cruelty of their owners. Drunken drivers torture their horses to the extremity of suffering from the lash, and in the winter especially the over loaded beasts of burden are afflicted of bad roads. Domestic Science in the Consolidated

28-Greywood

An Outlook reporter dropped in the Consolidated School. At first child for its life's work. The next lesson was taught the primary class of boys and girls. These little ones were receiving instruction in the first elements of needle work. The next class, composed of girls of one of the advanced grades, was called upon to make an Irish stew according to instructions given the previous day. The valuable hints given, and the scientific reasons for the things done, should make one of these students intelligent housekeepers. Neatness, system and exact arrangement of tools used is insisted upon by Miss Juniper. Her instruction in kitchen shopping should prove of value to her pupils.
