CONFIBMATION SERVICES. VISIT OF HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP WALSH TO ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

His Lordship Bishop Walsh of London, made a JAMES KEHOE. pastoral visit to St. Joseph's church, Stratford, on Sunday last, and administered the sacrament of MULLARKY & CO. BOOTS AND SHOES, confirmation to 163 persons, principally children. The services commenced with a mass at half past 7 o'clock, at which the children to be confirmed attended and received the sacrament of the Eucharist. At half past ten, there was a procession of the children from the school room to the church, and then commenced the mass, which was celebrated by Father O'Neill, of Kinkora. The sermon was preached by Father Tierney of London, and was an eloquent exposition of the goodness of God and His great love for His creatures. At the conclusion of the mass, his lordship addressed the congrega-tion on the sacrament of confirmation, explaining in the most lucid manner its institution by Our Lord Jesus Christ and the graces and benefits it conveyed to those who worthily received it exemplifying the wondrous wisdom of God in providing for His people. It gave strength to the soul to fight the enemies of our salvation, the devil, the world, and the flesh. The administration of the sacrament was then proceeded with. When the ceremony was ended his lordship delivered a short explanation to parents and others who had charge of the children just confirmed. He warned them of the awful responsibility they had in the care of the souls now handed over to them by the church in a state of spotless purity. Woe indeed would be to him whose neglect or advice, or example would rob Jesus Christ of the soul of one of these little ones. In the language of the Scripture, it were better that a mill stone were tied around his neck and he be cast into the sea. The children then moved back in procession to the school-house. A "renewal of the baptismal promises" took place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon when the Bishop again addressed the children, explaining the act of consecration they were about to make, after which Miss Alice McEvoy made the promise and read aloud the prayer in behalf of the girls, and Master Edward Corcoran in the boy's behalf. The benediction followed and the services were brought to a close. The attendance was large.-Stratford Beacon.

A MEMORABLE DOCUMENT.

THE POPE'S FIRST PASTORAL AS ARCHBISHOP OF SPOLETO. "John Maria of the Counts Mastai-Ferretti, Patrician of Sinigaglia and Anacona by the grace of God and of the Apostolic See, Archbishop of Spoleto, Domestic Prelate to His Holiness Pope Leo XII. and Assistant at the Pontifical

What you may think of it, Venerable Brothers and dear children in Jesus Christ, I cannot say, but certainly as far as it cocerns me, nothing could have happened further from what I could desire or think of, than my being sent to govern your Church of Spoleto; because, when I girded myself to serve the Church, my own intention was to remain hidden, and always the least one in my father's house so easily and more freely I could provide, according to my capacity, for my own salvation and that of others. And with this motive, as soon as I was made canon of the glorious basilica of Santa Maria in Via Lata. I applied myself to the instruction of poor children, and especially of orphans, in the mysteries of faith, and the rudiments of religion, and also in educating them. Then, encouraged mostly by the exhortation of his Eminence Prince Hannibal Cardinal della Genga, then the Pope's Vicar in Rome and then Leo XII, I mustered up courage to take a long and disastrous voyage, not to go and see unknown lands, but only to gain what I could for Jesus Christ.

Returning from there and resuming my work as s canon, devoting myself to the instruction and education of poor children, by the singular goodness of the same Pontiff, I was made President of the Apostolic Hospital of St. Michael a Ripa, in which the poor are received and supported, either boys or old men unable to work. Assuredly, nothing could have been more to my liking and inclination than this post, as it gave me ample field sted with Flies or Spiders.

But whilst I was rejoicing and, so to say, revelling in this holy peace, behold the same Leo XII the Pope, quite contrary to all my expectations, signified to me that he had appointed me Archbishop of Spoleto. I stood amazed, I acknowledge it, and was seized with trembling; not, however losing heart, I pleaded in excuse my utter want of strength, and left nothing untouched to turn to smoke, if possible, the idea that had been conceived. But, finding all my efforts useless, I kept quie at last thinking that I ought to obey the will of him to whom the keys of Heaven have been consigned, and who is the interpreter of God's will on earth. Wherefore, moved by no other motive than that of the obedience due to the Supreme Pastor. having accepted the charge committed to me, al-though looking on myself, I find myself wanting in those virtues that, according to the Apostle, ought to adorn the pastors of souls, resigning myself to the Divine will and therein resting, I cherish the sure hope that he who can raise the poor from the dust, and of stones children to Abraham, hearing my prayers, will supply me with the necessary help so that I may become the model of my flock a blameless workman, duly handling the word of Greatly comforted by this hope, I will come to you and will soon be in the midst of you, to make the acquaintance of my flock personally; and, having before my eyes the example of the Good Shepherd call you each by name, and to draw you forth, going before you, ready to give my very life for yours. For I do not hold my life mere precious than myself, provided I may consummate my cause and the ministry of the word which I have received from the Lord Jesus. And if by some misfortune (which God avert! some one of the flock entrusted to me should rashly go forth from the fold and wander here and there, finally to fall a prey to the beasts and savage animals of the thicket, I will never grow weary of going in search of him until I find him, and then, laying him on my shoulders, with joy bring him back to the fold; for nothing can give me more joy than the finding again the sheep that was lost."

GOVERNMENTAL SACRILEGE IN SWITZER. LAND,

The Geneva papers says that a serious dissention has arisen between the municipality of Presinges, and the cantonal government, in consequences of the violent and sacrilegious outrage committed by the police acting under Government orders in breaking open, on the 27th ult., the doors of the town church for the purpose of handing over the sacred edifice to the use of the new sect at present favoured by the authorities. The Mayor of Presinges, M. Emile de la Rive, has written a letter to the President of the Republic of Geneva resigning his office in testimony of his dis-approbation of the cantonal authorities, and stating that although not himself a Catholic, he considers his duty to enter his protest against the forcible intrusion of a sect into the parish church, "inasmuch as the very great majority of the burgesses by whom I was elected Mayor, are of the Roman Catholic religion. The munici pality of Presinges have also unanimously signed a protest to the same effect, and the two adjoints have resigned their offices. The Courrier de Geneve, in commenting on this occurrence, mentions that M.

de Pressense, the eminent French Protestant clergyman, has indignantly denounced the "quibble," as he terms it, of pretending that the ro-called "Old Catholic" sect are Catholics, and treating them as such in official acts. The Gazette de Lauranne (Protestant) says that the Geneva Government has proved itself singularly clumsy and unlacky in its at-tempts to deal with the religious question, and that the existing ecclesiastical arrangements are no more satisfactory to the Protestants than they are to the Catholics.

NAVIGATION ON THE DANUBE.

The United States Secretary of State received on June 13, from the consular agency at Bucharest a copy of the following note, addressed by the Foreign Office of Roumania to all the foreign consuls in that city:

"You know that the Sublime Porte on the 29th of April last proclamed that the rules concerning the trade of neutrals on the sea cannot apply to the Danule, and that the commander of the forces is at liberty to take such measures as he will deem proper for military operation. While regretting this action which, in our opinion is contrary to free trade on the Danube, consecrated by international instruments, we cannot, however, in view of the state of war which Turkey has forced upon Roumania by the bombardment of our towns and the seizure of our vessels and their cargoes, but make use of the right of defence and prevent the providing of victuals of Turkish towns by vessels sailing under neutral flags. I have, therefore, the honour to inform you that navigation is prohibited on the Danabe, from the village of Gruia, and that consequently, the Roumanian government will in no case be responsible for any loss which may be incurred by shippers, shipowners and others on account of their being prevented by the Roumanian military from pursuing their voyage on the Danube. The consuls are accordinaly requested to inform shippers of their respective nationalities of the dangers which might occur by a disregard of the information contained in the above notice."

THE EXPENSE OF MODERN WARFARE.

According to a little tract published recently by the London Peace Society the armaments of Errope in the present year are:

am one breezes Jene
	Army, Peace,	Army, Wat,	Navy.
	Footing,	Footing,	Tons.
Russian (European).	.soo,ooo	1,600,000	80,000

France	.750,000	1,300,000	100,000
Austria	.400,000	860,000	65,000
Italy	.200,000	450,000	100,000
Great Britain	.150,000	180,000	200,000
It will be seen that t gularly-trained soldie	rs of Eur	ope amounts	to nearly 6,000,000; or having	regard to	o the fact t	that the whole adult population except Great Britain,	is liable	to be called	to take arms, the total milita	ry force	may be estif	natea at from 6,000,000 to 10,000,000. The lesser number equals the whole of the adult and efficient population of the British islands. It has been pointed out that if only one-half of the present excessive armies of Europe were disbanded at least 3,000,000 men of from 20 to 35 years of age would be restored to productive labor, and $500,000,000 of money saved from oppressive taxation. The tract before us contains a table enumerating the wars between 1853 and 1877, and the loss of life they occasioned. There were killed in battle, or died of wounds and diseases, 750,000 men in the Crimean war, 45,000 in the Italian war of 1859, 3,000 in the war of Schleswig-Holstein, 800,000 in the American civil war, 45,000 in the Prussian war of 1866, 155,000 on the French side and 60,000 on the German in the Franco-German war of 1870-71, which, with other and smaller affairs, brings the total slain to 1,948,000 during twenty-five years. These wars are not less costly in money then they are in lives, as the following figures will show: Crimean war.....$1,700,000,000 Austrian and Prussian war in 1866.....330,000,000 Other wars, expeditions, etc.......200,000,000

Total......$12,065,000,000 This calculation excludes the allied expedition against Chine, the Indian mutiny, the Abyssinian and Ashantee campaigns. These items may be included in the general expenditure of Great Britain upon war debt and warlike preparations since 1851, which amounts to the large sum of $6,-528,163,995. It is estimated that the enormous sum given in the foregoing table would, if divided, allow about $10 for every man, woman, and child in the inhabitable globe.
