

The Canadian government's contribution this year in response to these crises exceeds $17.5 million and includes $9 million in food aid, $2 million for Sudanese refugees who have fled to Ethiopia, and more than $2 million for the relief activities of Canadian and United Nations organizations present in the Sudan.