

CHAPTER XVIII.

EVENTS ON THE NORTHERN AND NIAGARA FRONTIERS IN 1812.

First warlike Measures on the Northern Frontier, 365; the Militia of the State of New York, 366; Events on Lake Ontario and at Sackett's Harbor, 367; a hostile British Squadron off Sackett's Harbor, 368; a Skirmish and a Repulse of the British—Vessels of War on Lake Ontario, 369; Operations on the St. Lawrence Frontier, 370; hostile Squadrons on Lake Ontario, 370; Operations near Kingston—Commodore Chauncey, 372; General Brown sent to Ogdensburg, 373; the British attack Ogdensburg, 374; St. Regis, its capture by the Americans, 375; Honors to the Victors at Albany, 376; Eleazer Williams, or "The Lost Prince," 377; the Author's Visit to St. Regis, 378; Buffalo in 1812, 379; the Niagara Frontier, 380; American Troops on the Niagara Frontier, 381; an Armistice and its Effects, 383; Preparations for an Invasion of Canada, 384; Expeditions for capturing British Vessels, 385; Capture of the Adams and Caledonia near Fort Erie, 386; Incidents of the Exploit, 387; Feelings of the Americans and British, 388.

CHAPTER XIX.

EVENTS ON THE NIAGARA FRONTIER IN 1812.

Conduct of General Smyth, 389; Van Rensselaer prepares to attack Queenston, 390; British Force on the Niagara Frontier, 391; Expedition against Queenston delayed, 392; military Etiquette—Colonel Scott, 393; Passage of the Niagara River in the Dark, 394; Skirmish at Queenston Village, 395; Colonel Van Rensselaer wounded and Captain Wool in command, 396; the Americans scale Queenston Heights, 397; Battle on Queenston Heights and Death of General Brock, 398; Passage of the River by Re-enforcements, 399; Events on Queenston Heights, 400; another Battle—Wool wounded, 401; bad Conduct of the New York Militia, Colonel Scott in Command, 402; Heroes and Cowards made Prisoners of War, 403; Surrender of the American Army, 404; a triumphal and funeral Procession, 405; Honors to General Brock, 406; Colonel Solomon Van Rensselaer, 407; Events at the Mouth of the Niagara River, 408; Protection for American Prisoners of War, 409; General Smyth's injurious Pride and Folly, 410; his silly Proclamations ridiculed, 411.

CHAPTER XX.

EVENTS ON THE NIAGARA FRONTIER AND VICINITY IN 1812.

The Author's Visit to the Niagara Frontier, 412; Lewiston, Queenston, and Queenston Heights, 413; Brock's Monument, 414; an Evening on Queenston Heights, 415; Interview with the Chief of the Six Nations, 416; Journey from Queenston to Niagara, 417; Fort George and its Appurtenances, 418; Fort Mississauga—Return to Niagara Falls, 419; Journey from Niagara Falls to the Settlement of the Six Nations on the Grand River, 420; a Morning with the Chief of the Six Nations, 421; Indian Relics and Customs, 422; the Mohawk Church and Brant's Tomb, 423, 424; the Mohawk Institute—Communion-plate from Queen Anne, 425; British attack Black Rock, 426; Preparations for another Invasion of Canada, 427; the British forewarned—Passage of the Niagara River, 428; Incidents of the attempted Invasion, 429; Smyth's Incompetence and Folly, 430; the Invasion of Canada abandoned, 431; a Duel, and what came of it—exit Smyth, 432.

CHAPTER XXI.

NAVAL OPERATIONS IN 1812.

Acknowledged naval Superiority of Great Britain, 433; Character, Distribution, and Condition of the American War Marine, 434; Commodore Rodgers's Squadron—first Shot in the War, 435; Rodgers in European waters—British Squadron at Halifax, 436; Cruise of the Constitution, 437; how she eluded her Pursuers, 438; the Essex goes on a Cruise, 439; Cruise of the Essex, 440; how a Challenge was accepted by Commodore Porter, 441; the Constitution off the Eastern Coast, 442; Battle between the Constitution and Guerrière, 443, 444; Destruction of the Guerrière—Effects of the Victory, 445; Honors to Commodore Hull, 446; Effect of the Victory on the British Mind, 447; Hull's Generosity, 448; Cruise of the Wasp, 449; Fight between the Wasp and the Frolic, 450; both Vessels captured by the Poictiers, 451; Honors to Captain Jones, 452; Lieutenant Biddle honored and rewarded, 453.

CHAPTER XXII.

NAVAL OPERATIONS AND CIVIL AFFAIRS IN 1812.

Commodore Rodgers's second Cruise, 454; Battle between the United States and Macedonian, 455; Capture of the Macedonian—Decatur takes her to New York, 456; Honors to Decatur, 457; Bainbridge in Command of a Squadron, 458; his Cruise on the Coast of Brazil, 459; Battle between the Constitution and Java, 460; Loss of the Java—Incidents of the Battle, 461; Honors to Bainbridge, 462; Effects of the naval Battles in Great Britain, 463; meeting of the Twelfth Congress, 464; Madison re-elected—his Administration sustained, 465; Quincy's Denunciations and Clay's Response, 466; Measures for strengthening the Army and Navy, 467; Retaliation—Report of the Committee on Foreign Relations, 468; Manifesto of the Prince Regent and its Charges, 469; Mediation of the Emperor of Russia proposed, 470; Rejoicings over Napoleon's Misfortunes—Peace Commissioners, 471; Cabinet Changes, 472.

CHAPTER XXIII.

EVENTS ON THE MAUMEE RIVER.

Contemplated Expedition against Malden, 473; American Camp at the Maumee Rapids, 474; Interference of the Secretary of War with General Harrison, 475; General Clay's march to the Maumee, 476; Harrison assumes grave Responsibilities, 477; British and Indian Expedition against Fort Meigs, 478; the Mission of Captain Oliver, 479; Leslie Combs volunteers for perilous Duty, 480; Incidents of his Voyage down the Maumee, 481; Preparations for an Assault on Fort Meigs, 482; Attack on Fort Meigs, 483;

critica
Defeat
Fort M

Harrison cumtha to capt
summo
Inciden 505, 50
assailed
Constru
Vessels.
Harris

Perry prop acter of Squadro Scenes o rence to tempt to Dead, 5
the exul Alliance tions for Statue u
541; Pe

Arrangeme 546; Pre British, 5
dians mal British de son and I thor's Vis leaves the Scioto Va
Visit to B
riage of C

The Energie
Elizabeth captured, 5
Prescott, 5
tions for it
the York, 5 Escape of ronto, form at Toronto.
George—th Squadron 1 retreat to stroyed by 1
Battle at S are pursued

British Design
608; Assen
610; a Cor
Defenses, 6 torical Loca Whittlesey
at the Beav
—Fort Geor