

The relations and contents referred to in clause 5 are being repealed as they are no longer applicable due to the present provisions of the Canadian and British Columbia Companies Act.

The sections being repealed by clause 6 provided that the business of a company and the management thereof should be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 1929, and that the present provisions of the Companies Act, 1929, should apply to the company.