JOHN BUSH LE ROY CALLED BY DEATH

One of the Most Familiar Figures in the East End Removed.

WAS A CONSERVATIVE
Treasurer of Ward One Association for Many Years.

The death of John Bush Le Roy of 46 Saultier street, which took place at the family residence yesterday, removes one of the most familiar figures in the east end of the city. No man was better known and none more generally respected. For nearly forty years Mr. Le Roy had been actively associated with the business interests of that portion of the city lying to the north and east of Broadview avenue, and westerly to the banks of the Don.

In that time, thru his sterling business worth and kindly disposition he had won in a remarkable degree the goodwill and respect of his business conferees.

Associated as he was in the real estate business, he had been brought in close touch with the remarkable expansion of the Riverdale district, and had seen its marvelous growth from a comparatively suburban district to its present position as a business and residential centre.

Born in New York State. The late Mr. Le Roy was born in New York State, his parents coming to Canada when the latter was four years of age, and settling in Huron Clinton now stands. Later the family removed to Clarksburg, in Grey County, where he resided for 20 years before coming to the city. Practically his entire life was spent in the real estate business on East Queen street.

In political life he was identified with the Liberal-Conservative party, the late Mr. Le Roy in the strenuous days of the St. James' Hall campaign.

Association and ever since (a period covering about 30 years) has been annually re-elected to the office of treasurer of ward one association.

His invariably sound judgment and sterling worth were held in the highest respect by his associates. For he had occupied the position of justice of the peace in York County.

Deceased was predeceased by his wife about six years. Four sons survive. These are Jacob in British Columbia, Edward in Pickering Village, and Milton in Riverdale, well known business men.

Funeral on Friday. Although in his 84th year Mr. Le Roy until within the past fortnight was almost daily found in his office but within that time he was seized with a paralytic stroke, during which his condition was such that he was unable to move. He was a member of the Anglican church. The funeral takes place on Friday afternoon in Clarksburg Cemetery, on the arrival of the morning train from Toronto.

Interned at Giessen in Hessen, Germany—Survived Battle of Langemarck.

The fate of Pte. W. H. Gibson, 10th R. G. 3rd Battalion, who was reported missing after the engagement at Langemarck, has been cleared up in a letter from him received by his mother at the Queen street market garden, Mimico. He is unwounded, but writes as a prisoner of war, interned at Giessen, Hessen, Germany, and states that in the fighting, lasting two days and two nights, during which his battalion was surrounded, half of the men in the battalion were either killed or wounded. He states that he and his comrades are comfortably housed in barracks and have plenty of food provided.

The many West Toronto friends of Lanc-Corpl. His father, writing under date of May 18 from 66 Linden street, Mansfield, Notts, England, to Corpl. Chadwick's fiancée here, says: "I have a bit of good news for you re Jack. He is quite well, except a slight wound, and will soon write to you. His address is Lance-Corpl. J. Chadwick, 27641, 15th Canadian Battalion, Prisoner of War No. 613, V. Comp. Baraque, Giessen, Hesse, Germany."

Before leaving for the front he was president of the Young People's Society and president of the Bachelors' class of Indian Road Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. A. The Keele Street Fire Brigade was called out last night to subdue a fire which had broken out under the shingle roof of the two-story rough-cast house at 50 Kingsway avenue, belonging to Mike Mulek. Owing to the slant of the St. James' Hall building was saved, and the amount of the damage confined to a few dollars.

A very large number of the members turned out to the meeting last night in St. James' Hall of the Rose of Kent Lodge, Daughters of England.
