

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

That a great game of football will be played on Saturday, when the Tigers II. of Hamilton and the Forest City boys meet, is beyond question. The locals are practicing faithfully every night, and it is certain that the score will be held down, at least. The more optimistic are inclined to believe that London has a chance to win. The Englishman, Hall, is making good with a vengeance, and Raymond, a veteran of the American style of Rugby, and a new addition to the team, will be in the line-up against the wild and woolly Tiger cubs. The boys meet tonight at 5 o'clock sharp for practice, at Tecumseh Park.

"Dope," as has been stated many times, is a poor thing on which to wager money, or to figure out a victory. If "dope" had been reliable, London would at least have held the Tigers II. even in last week's game. Dundas trimmed the Hamilton cubs by a score of 13 to 7, and later, with a week more of practice defeated London 15 to 2. Then London journeyed to the town by the bluff and were walloped 29 to 0. Can you figure that out? In the next game, however, Hamilton will be considerably weaker, owing to the fact that two senior players, who were in the last set-to, will be out of it, they having played two intermediate games. On the other hand, London will be considerably stronger, and in fine physical shape for the battle. In addition the Forest City team will have the services of several new men with weight and experience. We have a dim suspicion that the Tigers' roster club will not sing "Poor Old London" quite as joyously as they did in the last game.

President Bob Burns, of the Marlboro Hockey Club, states that his team had not been turned down by either the Eastern or the Federal League, for the simple reason that they had made no application to either, nor had they contemplated one. While in Montreal recently he remarked that it was a pity that Toronto was not in a circuit with the big eastern clubs, and that is as far as he went, and on that was founded the story of the Marlboro's yearnings for eastern hockey. The Marlboro's are preparing to enter a team in the O. H. A., as usual, and will meet some time this week.

The Tecumseh lacrosse team disbanded for the season yesterday, and as their last official act they dropped around to see Mr. Lawrence Solman and presented him with a splendid photo of the team and executive, nicely framed in oak. This parting scene was in keeping with the spirit of the team all season. They dived together in amity. They were the best lot of boys that ever wore the red and white. And now that the first bitterness of the Ottawa defeat is over, it must be admitted that they did pretty well to get into the finals on their first try for the world's championship.—Telegram.

That sounds good. A poor loser is not wanted in sporting circles, and, according to the above, the Indians have accepted their defeat like true sportsmen.

The Merrimacs relieved the Tasmios of a pair of tenpin games last night. Again we must say "It served them right."

Evidently the Toronto sporting scribes are superstitious. Fall to this from the Telegram: How did it happen? Why, Saturday was Tecumseh's 23rd game this season. Of course, it was "23 Skidoo."

Herman Radtke was suspended yesterday for an alleged crooked ride. This makes about a baker's dozen of suspensions for bad riding on the turf this season. And still the betting goes on apace.

The Medicals and Collegiate Institute played a Soccer game last night on the Heights, the former team winning by 4-0. The Soccer games are very poorly patronized in this city, and one naturally wonders why, when it is taken into consideration that at the Soccer League games no admission is charged, nor any collection of any kind taken up.

Fullerton, in the Washington Star, says:

If you really want to see baseball playing, don't attend American or National League games. Go out to the lots. If you are broke and want to see real sport, go down into Millcreek Valley in Cincinnati, or out on the prairies of Chicago, or the commons of any New England town, or the flats in Philadelphia, and get it right off the reel. There are real baseball games played out there on fenceless arenas, and while looking them over you are likely to discover some player who will make a record in baseball. Larry Lajoie was almost as good a ball player when he was driving coach at Jamestown, N. Y., as he is now; Bill Bradley was faster when he was playing with a kid team out in Glendale section of Cleveland than he is now; Barry McCormick was as good a ball player with the Pendletons in Cincinnati as he ever was in the big league; Lee Tannehill fielded as well with the Dayton (Ky.) team as he does now; Fred Pfeffer was as great a star with the Silver Creek at Louisville as he ever became as a member of the "stonewall infield" of Chicago.

Well, here's skidoo to the lacrosse season, the best and worst, in the history of the game. The best because no better lacrosse was ever played and because the public never before so well supported the game. The worst because of the dishonest action of the N. L. U., which has forever disgraced itself by its treatment of the west.—Toronto News.

Evidently the Toronto people are dead sore over the result of the Victoria-Tiger football game last Saturday, which was won by the latter 48 to 1. The Toronto Star comments as follows: It is to laugh. Whenever the Tigers meet a weak team the Hamilton crowd say they play brilliantly. When another team gives them a hard game the same crowd say the Tigers are off color and "not playing their game."

Cheer up, old souls, we got ours from the Cubs, but we are not whining about it.

WANTED AT ONCE: A GOOD QUARTER

The Mighty Penn Team's One Great Need Must Be Filled Without Delay.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—"Wanted at once, a good quarterback." This is a concise expression of the one great need of the University of Pennsylvania football team. It is a problem which is worrying the coaches day and night, and unless it is solved pretty soon it will mean a continuation of the disaster which overtook the team when it lost to Swarthmore a week ago by 4 to 0. No other department is troubling the coaches. The line is more powerful than that of either the 1904 or 1905 teams, while the backfield is one of the best in years, barring, of course, the quarterback.

The team is like some powerful engine waiting for an engineer to get into the box. Often, and often the coaches and players have lamented the loss of Vincent Stevenson. If they had this young man on the team now the 1906 eleven would go down in gridiron history as one of the greatest that ever wore the Red and Blue of Pennsylvania.

This year's quarterback will be finally selected from one of the following five men: Sheble and Keimath, of last year's freshman team; Luby and Garrison, of the 1905 scrubs, and Lee, formerly of the Trinity College eleven. Of this quintet Sheble has had the most thorough trial. He is a self-made great quarterback, him-made an excellent start and in practice puts up a fine game. But in the real games he goes to pieces, handles, weight title.

punts poorly, and shows little head-work in directing the team.

INDIANS LIGHT AND YOUNG.
Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 23.—This year's Indian squad averages probably a year less in age than any squad the Indians have ever had, in addition to having the lightest team ever turned out from the Carlisle school. Nineteen years and six months is the average age of the young men who compose this year's Indian squad, although many of them seem a little older, owing to the rapid maturity of the Indian youth. The average weight of this year's Indian team is 139 pounds, probably a full fifteen pounds per man less than the college teams which they play against. The Carlisle Indian football squad this year, more notably than ever before, is decidedly representative of a great many types of the modern Indian. Of the 1906 squad there are single representatives from the Diggers, Onondagas, Senecas, Delaware, Tuscaroras, Esquimaux, Delawares, Cherokees, Yumas, Mission, Wyandottes, Miami, Pecos, three Onondagas, three Cheyennes, five Senecas, seven Sioux and eight Chippewas. It will be noted that the greatest number of football players come from the tribes which have had original homes in the northern section of the country. As a general rule the northern Indians are more hardy and of larger physique than southern redskins, although there are some notable exceptions to this rule.

ONE TITLE ENOUGH FOR GANS.
Milwaukee, Oct. 23.—The Evening Wisconsin today says: Joe Gans, the colored lightweight champion of the world, and who also holds the title of welterweight champion of the world, has decided that one pugilistic title is enough for him. Hereafter he will not claim to be the welterweight champion, but will let the men in the 142-pound class contest for the welterweight title.

BY SMALL MARGIN FOR WARD CUP

Lady Golfers Had Slightly the Better of the Match With Londoners.

The ladies of the London Hunt Golf Club met the ladies of the Toronto club yesterday on the Hunt Club links, and a thoroughly enjoyable day was spent. The matches were closely contested, and the Toronto ladies won by 1-1-2 points.

Match games counted one point, and the byes counted one-quarter point. The Toronto ladies had a slight advantage on account of the absence of several of London's leading lady golfers. The ladies paired as follows:

Miss Boddome, 0, vs. Miss Dick, 1-1-4.
Miss Kibbe, 1-4, vs. Mrs. Burritt, 1.
Miss Paddicombe, 1, vs. Miss Cox, 1-1-4.
Miss Gibbons, 0, vs. Miss Bolte, 1-1-4.
Miss Scattherd, 0, vs. Mrs. Burns, 1-1-4.
Miss Hyman, 1-1-4, vs. Mrs. Smythe, 0.
Miss Elliott and Miss Stuart, tie.
Mrs. E. Smith, 1, vs. Miss Kerr, 1-4.
A luncheon was served to the 50 guests, the hosts being the Misses Harris and Macbeth, the Misses Carling, Betts, Boddome, Hale and Beck. During the day Miss Dick was made the recipient of a beautiful card case, which was presented by Mrs. W. J. Reid, as putting prize.
Mrs. C. B. Hunt and Mrs. W. J. Reid gave an afternoon tea, and the visiting ladies departed on the night train for Toronto.

Billy Amos, of This City, to Compete in the Marathon Event on Saturday.

The entries for the Ward Marathon race of fifteen miles, to be run on Saturday on the Lake Shore road, near Toronto, number 40 already, and it is expected that many others will be received before the list closes tomorrow night.
