NEW RECTOR AT ST. PETER'S A WYCLIFFE COLLEGE GRAD.

Rev. Frederick Wilson of Dartmouth, N.S., Has Accepted Call to Local Pastorate.

A despatch from Halifax yesterday to the effect that Rev. Frederick Wilson of Dartmouth had received and accepted a call from St. Peter's, and would leave for Toronto within a month. This announcement was confirmed last night by a prominent member of St. Peter's Church, who holds the office of churchwarden. He stated that the pulp committee had about a week ago invited Rev. Mr. Wilkinson to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Rev. Carey Ward and that the matter would be submitted for final approval at the church vestry meeting on Monday evening next. The sanction of the Bishop of Toronto would likewise have to be obtained.

The probable success or to Rev. Mr. Ward is well-known in Toronto. He graduated from Wycliffe College about twelve years ago and has since been a visitor on a number of occasions, the last being but a few weeks ago, when he attended the Wycliffe Alumni Association meeting. He is of about middle age, married and has a family.

CANON CODY AT PRESS CLUB.

The members of the Toronto Press Club at their fortnightly gathering at the King Edward last night, enjoyed a most delightful talk from Rev. Canon Cody of St. Paul's Church, on the relationship between the clergy and the press. Canon Cody traced an historical brotherhood between them, which he said also existed in these latter days. A vote of thanks was proposed by Messrs. Houston and Champion and heartily endorsed by the club. He leaves this morning for Detroit.

Friday, Oct. 28—Grand rally at Boston's Hall, East Toronto. Songs and speeches at 8 p.m. Harvey Hall, the second, brotherhoods will speak. Also Mr. Maclean, Mr. St. John and others, good songs.

October 31—Monday night, grand rally and wind-up meetings of the campaign at follows:

Town Hall, North Toronto, 8 p.m. Speakers: Mr. W. F. Maclean, E. R. Ganney, J. W. St. John and others, good songs.

Kilburn's Hall, same night. Toronto Junction at 8 o'clock. Speakers: E. R. Ganney, W. F. Maclean, J. W. St. John and others, good songs.

Toronto Junction, Oct. 25.—Kilburn Hall was well filled with a large and attentive audience to-night, the occasion being the first meeting held in the interests of A. J. Anderson, Liberal candidate for South York. The usual display of national emblems, palms, etc., was in evidence, and again, for the second time within the week, the audience listened with pleasure to the excellent music furnished by the Toronto Junction Symphony Orchestra. On the platform were Dr. Cleland, chairman of meeting; A. J. Anderson, Dr. Martin, Thomas Wright, C. M. Hall, W. J. Hill, J. E. Kerr, Joseph Smith, Jesse Smith, C. F. Wright, E. B. Wright and many others. Mr. Anderson was loudly cheered upon taking a seat on the platform. Dr. G. W. Cleland made a model chairman. Dr. Stevens of Toronto alluded to the growth of Toronto Junction from a "struggling village to a large and flourishing town," and then branched off into an eloquent peroration on the great resources and wonderful growth and development of the Dominion, and the share the government had in that development. W. J. Hill was received with cheer and applause. He was proud to stand on the same platform with the Liberal candidate, "who will," said Mr. Hill, "be the honorable member of the House of Commons for South York on the night of Nov. 2." Referring to the speech of John Brown at Mr. Maclean's meeting, Mr. Hill said he did not know John Brown very well, and as to John Macdonald, he said he had never met him. "Mr. Macdonald is better at traveling than at making political speeches," he declared to quote many figures to show that he had long and so faithfully worked for their interests in the municipal arena. Hugh Gunn sang a South York campaign song, in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Anderson figured prominently. Robert McKay of Toronto said there were two things by which a political party could be judged, namely, (1) record of the past, and (2) promises as to the future. What the people want is a record, not a prospect, and that is what the Laurier government offered. He referred to the days when Toronto Junction had numerous vacant houses and things generally were at a standstill. To-day vacant houses were at a premium. "We have no apologies to make," said Mr. McKay, "no explanations to offer, no scandals."

"Voice: 'What about the North Renfrew livery bill?'" (Cheers.)

Mr. McKay said he could easily explain that, but he said that Mr. Duntlop himself had said that $1000 did not begin to cover the Conservative bill. But he did not propose to discuss provincial questions, and proceeded to quote many figures to show that the Liberal government had made a real record in their nine years than the Conservative government had in eighteen. "The government is the instrument used by Providence to bring prosperity to this country," said the speaker, adding that "reference to Providence by Conservatives was chiefly done to show that to Providence were due some of the disasters which befell the country." (Laughter.) The national policy of the Conservative government seemed to be all right at first, but as time went on it was seen that it should have been called "manufacturers' policy" instead of "national policy." The Liberal government framed a tariff in the interest of citizens instead of a favored few. Mr. McKay spoke at some length about the bar-

GERRARD STREET EXTENSION WOULD COST ONLY $3000

City and Township Authorities Go Over the Ground and Project Will Likely Be Undertaken.

The extension of Gerrard-street easterly from Greenwood to East Toronto was the occasion of an informal discussion and incidentally a pleasant outing yesterday afternoon. The party was composed of Acting Reeve George Syme, Councillors John Watson, and George Henry of York Township, Ald. Sheppard, Crane, York and Noble; William McClary of Bondia, and the representatives of the press. The party drove out in cabs to the corner of Greenwood and Gerrard-streets, where they disembarked with the purpose of walking over the proposed roadway. Owing to the difficulties encountered, some members of the party re-entered the cabs, with the view of meeting the remainder of the party on Coxwell-avenue.

Ald. Foster, Sheppard and Noble, and Councillors Watson and Henry, who made the trip across country, were deeply impressed with the importance of the proposed new road. Only two ravines of any importance were encountered, and these were not regarded as offering any engineering difficulties.

The extensions of Gerrard-street easterly from the city limits has long been a mooted question. The township engineer has prepared an estimate in which the cost of opening up the road is placed at $3000. It is proposed to construct a roadway admitting of vehicular and electric traffic.

The aldermen were favorably impressed with the territory, which would be especially commented upon, Ald. Foster, who expressed the hope that the council the advisability of taking active steps in the matter. The township members and the city representatives were held later, in which the matter was promised to consider the matter favorably.

The party followed the extension to East Toronto, returning to the city by way of the Kingston-road.

gain with the Grand Trunk Pacific, and said that the actual cost to the country would only be a little over $12,000,000, as compared with over $14,000,000, which the C.P.R. cost the country.

Mr. Anderson was accorded a most cordial reception. He was suffering from a very severe cold, but made a strong appeal to his fellow citizens for support. The resources of the country had been greatly developed during the past eight years, and it was only since Sir Wilfrid Laurier became premier that the real greatness of Canada became known in England. He paid a glowing tribute to Sir William Mulock's management of the postoffice department, and showed how he had converted deficits of former years into a surplus. The postmaster-general had increased the salaries of postmasters and letter carriers. As to the issues between Mr. Maclean and himself he supposed the latter would claim public ownership as his own particular platform, but Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader, had not fully committed himself to the principle of public ownership. For that matter the government had public ownership on that part of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Moncton to Winnipeg. He thought where a certain amount of private capital was invested in such great enterprises there was greater incentive than when the public owned the whole. Mr. Maclean was not only in favor of the public owning and operating the Grand Trunk, but he also favored the expropriation of the Grand Trunk Railway itself—a concern, said he, "that cost probably $60,000,000, and which added to the G.T.P., with rolling stock, etc., would make an amount so enormous that it would practically bankrupt the country. It would certainly oppose any such scheme as that." He repudiated the card purporting to have been sent by him to the electors. He appealed to the electors for their votes as a citizen and as a man, and not as a party of any machine. He denounced all who invented, whether against himself or Mr. Maclean.

C.P.R. AND YONGE STREET BRIDGE Matter by No Means Settled, Says the President.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was in the city yesterday on his way to Chicago.

The Yonge-street bridge was altogether a moot point with the C.P.R., yet the matter was by no means settled, he said.

"The C.P.R. would be willing to bear the abutment on Union Station, 'if it ever comes to anything.'"

In the building of the Sudbury branch line the necessity of Barrie and Orillia would not be overlooked.

"We will welcome the G.T.P. west any day in the year," he said, when asked as to the C.P.R. attitude.

G.G.B. Parade.

The regular weekly drill of the G.G.B. R.G. was held last night with about 150 men in line. Next Tuesday evening the prizes won at the annual regimental shooting competition will be presented. The occasion will mark the close of the regular drill season, also a special parade of A and B squadrons will be held for inspection of stores at a date not yet announced. Classes in fencing will be opened shortly with Monsieur Lesablay, late of the imperial army of France, as instructor. The following promotions are recorded: To be sergeant, Lance Sergeants, J. S. Martin and James Vaughan and Corp. A. Emio; to be corporals, Lance Corporals, H. Rawlinson; to be sergeant quartermaster, sergeant, Sergt. J. S. Martin.

The work of the Q.O.R. Signal Corps was last night inspected by Lieut. Bruce Carruthers.

No Time to Lose

Not a minute to lose if you want any of the Furniture at this week's prices. Wish we had a phonograph to catch what people are saying of this sale. We were bound to make quick work of $30,000 worth of furniture in storage, and with half a million of people within reach of the store no wonder we're busy.

The best we can do is to tell you what will be ready when the store opens to-morrow morning. More than that we can't tell, for how do we know but that the very article you want may be what a thousand people will want at the changed prices? Such chances don't come even once a year in the regular order of business.
