ENGLISH MAIL TO CANADA VIA CONCORD.—There was quite a rush to the Rail Road depot on Tocaday afternoon, to obtain a look at the English mail which came out in the last Cunard stemer, and for the conveying of which from Concord to Barlington, Measis. White, Cotterell and others have become contractors. The newspapers, and other matters of less importance than letters, were in large white leather bags, to the number probably of forty or more; and the letters in sealed tin boxes—the whole, on taking from the cars, loading three large passenger stage wagons, with four horses to each. The mail was in charge of two English agents; and soon after the arrival of the train from Boston was conveyed from Concord over the New London road to Vermont, by Messrs, George and Carter—it being the purpose to reach Burlington the succeeding day, where the mail would be transferred to a steamboat for Montreal and Quebec.—[Concord Statesman.

The Caledonia's Mail arrived at Montreal on Thursday the 24th ult, several hours previous to its reception in St. John.

The New York Courier and Enquirer, gives the following paragraph from a correspondent, who has personally examined most of the military equipments of Great Britain. Brief as it is (asys the Halifax Recorder,) it suggeste reflections which may be of essential service, with regard to the respective attitudes of Great Britain and the United States, in prospect of possible hostilities. Great Britain, even to the minutest praticulars of the most ample provision, is ready:—

"How few of our war-dogs are aware that at Bermuda the British Guvernment has constructed, within a few years past, a spacious harbor for the accommodation of their spandron; that for several years they have employed a fleet of collers in making it a depot of coat; that they have also in store the armunent and duplicates of important parts of machinery of the proposition of the minutest particulars of th

Government Surveys.—St. Lawrence.—This party having completed the survey of the River and Gulf of St. Lawrence, from Montreal to the Island of Anticosti, as well as the strait of Belle Isle, is now employed on the southern shores of the Gulf, and round Prince Edward's Island.

Gulf of Fundy.—The survey of places on this large and dangerous arm of the sea has been well executed, as well as upwards of 100 miles of the River St. John; and this party is now uniting these partial surveys in a general chart, as well as endeavouring to determine the set of the prodigious tides there, which rise upwards of 60 fect.—London Paper.

The news from Paris is not of match importance:

The news from Paris is not of much importance; the Guizot ministry is occasionally placed in an unpleasant predicament. The President of the Council, Marshal Soult, has asked from the Chambers an appropriation of seventeen millions of financs for the purpose of arming the fortifications around Paris, which would seen to be a necessary consequence of erecting them. Still, this new requisition of money, appears to have given rise to serious reflections on the complete command which the erection of the fortresses has given to the Military power over the lives and property of the people of the metropolis.

Sudden Death of Professor, Daniell, of Chemical Philosophy, inventor of the improved Hygrometer, and Secretary of the Royal Society, aged fifty-five years, suddenly died in London. He had delivered his usual lecture, and had just entered the Royal Society's room for the purpose of attending a meeting of the council of that learned body. He was protiously in good health, fell down, broathed hard a few minutes, and expired. Verdict of the jury, died of apoplexy.

Frank Society Islands,—We learn from Capt. Doane, of the brig Globe, which left Tahiti, Dec. 20, that the islands still remained in possession of the French authorities.
