ARE DISTRIBUTING CHRISTMAS SEALS

Anti-Tuberculosis Society Meeting With Good Success in Sale

The local Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis is at work on its distribution of the Christmas seals, the proceeds of the sales of which must finance the work of society and maintain its nursing staff.

The seals are being sent out to 2,000 people through the post this year. It is expected that the work will be completed by the end of this week.

The committee in charge is composed of Miss K. M. Bell, convenor, Mrs. R. B. Buchanan, Mrs. Campbell Mackay, Mrs. Bruce Purdie, Mrs. Fred R. Taylor and Miss Hilda Shaw.

The seals are on sale at the tuberculosis dispensary and later arrangements will be made for some central selling place. As the seals this year have the two barrel cross of the Tuberculosis Society, as well as the Christmas greetings, they are being sold to city firms to place on business letters during the month of December and a few firms had already taken $8 worth of the seals yesterday.

The workers feel that the response at present is very gratifying. While the first letters went out on Tuesday, last night replies had been received from an appreciable number. The mailing list is arranged in alphabetical order.

DARES DEATH TO SAVE SON; IS KILLED

Woman Hurls Boy to Safety From Roadway But is Beheaded

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Angelina Santos was decapitated in saving her nine-year-old son, Tony, from the wheels of a seven-ton fruit truck, William Rose, driver of the truck, was locked up on a charge of homicide.

Mrs. Santos lived with her husband, a barber, and seven young children, in Brooklyn. She was crossing Third Avenue at Eighteenth street when Tony's hand gripped tightly in hers when a street car approached. She stopped by the tracks a moment until it passed and then started ahead, not observing the truck directly behind her.

Just before the truck struck her she saw it. Tony was a few feet behind her. She jerked him from his feet and threw him forward so that he fell to the street from the truck's wheels as she was thrown. The wheels of the truck passed over her neck and cut off her head. She died before an ambulance came.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Brannen, of Fredericton, Are Congratulated on Event

FREDERICTON, Dec. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. C. Sterling Brannen, who yesterday celebrated the fifth anniversary of their wedding, are receiving many congratulations. Mr. Brannen is a superannuated member of the Provincial Civil Service. His wife was a sister of Canon Roberts.

Mrs. Brannen was, before her marriage, Agnes Kelland, third daughter of the late George Roberts, Ph. D., headmaster of the Fredericton Grammar School. Canon Roberts, her brother, performed the marriage ceremony at Christchurch parish church on Dec. 2, 1920.

Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts, the well known Canadian writer, is a nephew. Bliss Carman, another distinguished New Brunswick writer, is also a relative.

Mr. Brannen was in business in Fredericton for a long time before entering the provincial civil service. After 35 years' service he was superannuated several years ago when he was presented the Imperial service medal. He was an official of Christchurch parish church until a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Brannen had six children. Three daughters and one son are dead. Surviving are one daughter, Miss Adelaide C., and one son, Sterling, both of Fredericton. Mr. and Mrs. Brannen make their home with their son.

Mr. Brannen recalls vividly many of the people prominent in Fredericton for many years and is an interesting conversationalist.

"FOLLIES" SCORE HIT.

The Montrose Follies opened the concert season at the Seamen's Institute last night with an excellent entertainment program and had a capacity audience. R. E. Armstrong, president of the New Brunswick division of the Navy League of Canada, was chairman. New scenery and stage settings, which have been provided by the institute management, were used for the first time last night. The program included merry numbers by the comedians, B. Daniels and A. Daniels; an Irish ballad sung by S. Cole; a character piece, "Broken down actor," by D. Moss; a clever female impersonation, by George Mill, and some elocution specialties by W. Scamer. Mr. Good-enough was the accompanist.

BOYS GIVEN TREAT.

Forty-six boys of the Kirk Pack and the St. George's Pack of Wolf Cubs heard a very interesting lecture on birds delivered last night by Dr. William Macintosh at the Natural History Museum. They were given a tour of the museum by Dr. Macintosh who explained the different exhibits as he went along. He also told them a number of Indian legends. A very hearty sing-song was another part of the evening's program. L. L. Johnston was in charge of the pack.

CONFERS RANK.

The rank of esquire was conferred upon several candidates at the meeting of New Brunswick Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, held last evening in Pythian Castle with Chancellor Commander C. W. Polkins presiding and a large representation of city Knights and visiting Knights in attendance. District Deputy Grand Chancellor C. T. Green paid his official visit to the lodge last night. After lodge business refreshments were served.

Kansas City College Lays Down Test For Girls' Fitness

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 2.—Early to bed and early to rise may make you healthy, wealthy and wise; setting-up exercises may do away with little rolls of fat, but more than this is needed to keep Miss 1926 in fit condition.

Personal fitness, according to Miss Emma Serl, head of the English department of the Kansas City Teachers' College, involves everything from the control of a slangy and noisy tongue to knowing just how much power and rouge is needed to maintain "that school-girl complexion."

With these requirements in mind, heads of the college are subjecting the girls to a severe test, by the results of which they hope to learn the degree of personal fitness each one possesses and to suggest remedies for those who turn in the poorest cards.

"A girl often does not realize some little thing which is objectionable to others and keeps her from being the success she should be," Miss Serl declared. "A girl often depreciates her own charm and good characteristics. The tests help to give her self-confidence and do away with the 'inferiority complex.'"

The test includes 14 points of fitness, some of which are:

Posture; neatness, which includes the use of cosmetics; broad-mindedness in regard to the other person's views on religion, politics and other subjects; loyalty to group and school; honesty, in which is mentioned copying from a fellow student during exams; self-control of temper and tongue.

Each of the girls who take the test will be graded by Miss Serl, in 14 points, according to Miss Serl, in that of dependability.

"A girl who will work conscientiously while teachers are absent, and there are many of them, displays an admirable trait of character," she said. "Usually you will find her punctual, willing to assist and possessing a sense of responsibility and reliability."

Miss Serl believes honesty will prevail in the grading of the papers.

LOST THAT "UP-AND-AT-EM" FEELING?

Do you think it's too much work—or too much play? What's the reason? Maybe it's just a sluggish liver—try 15 to 30 drops of Seigel's Syrup in a glass of water. Safely and quickly brings you back. At any drugstore it tonight.

Social Notes of Interest

A subscription bridge of about 70 tables was given in Pythian Castle, Union street, yesterday afternoon by the members of the Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. O. F. The guests were received by the regent, Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong, and the first vice-regent, Mrs. J. Fenwick Fraser. Attractive score cards, marked with the seal badge of the order, were looked after by Mrs. Frank Robertson and Mrs. Harold Rising. Seven prizes donated by members of the chapter were designated as follows: Four for scores; two for lucky chairs, a number having been placed on the under side of the seat of two special chairs, and one for a lucky number determined by the committee. They were won as follows: First, Mrs. J. D. Seely; second, Miss Retta M. Tapley; third, Mrs. C. A. Wilcox; consolation, Miss Carman; lucky chairs, Mrs. James Patterson and Mrs. A. A. Cunningham; lucky number, Miss Clara Schofield.

In the tea room the table was beautifully arranged with fir and rowan berries and red candles in silver sticks, and was presided over by Mrs. Clarence B. Allan, Mrs. W. B. Tennant, Mrs. Alexander Wilson, Mrs. John E. Moore, Mrs. James H. Frink and Mrs. Allan Schofield. The replenishers were Mrs. Harold Partridge, Mrs. Usher Miller and Miss Jarvis. The tickets were looked after by Mrs. H. L. Skinner, Mrs. Frederick A. Peters and Mrs. H. F. Puddington. The chapter assisted in the tea room.

The bridge, which was one of the most enjoyable of the autumn season, was convened by Mrs. Fenwick Fraser, Mrs. Ernest Flemming, Mrs. A. P. Patterson, Mrs. Alexander Holly and Mrs. J. Pope Barnes. Members of the chapter assisted in the tea room.

Mrs. Kenneth L. Golding was the hostess at a largely attended tea at her residence, 123 King street east, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Golding's attractive apartment was artistically decorated with quantities of pink roses, carnations and snap dragon, over which rose candles in silver candlesticks and shaded lights cast a subdued glow.

Mrs. W. E. Golding and Mrs. H. O. Clark invited the guests to the dining room which was lighted by cream candles in candelabra and silver candlesticks. Long stemmed yellow chrysanthemums made a lovely floral decoration. At the tea table Mrs. W. Shives

Mrs. Robert W. Hawker gave an enjoyable bridge of five tables at her home, Summer street, last evening. The drawing room was decorated with chrysanthemums of a pale pink shade and yellow numms centered the supper table in the dining room. The guests were Mrs. Freeman Hamm, Mrs. John S. Addy, Mrs. Henry Mercer, Mrs. Ralph Parker, Mrs. Stanley Jamieson, Mrs. Harold Young, Mrs. Bruce McPherson, Mrs. Walter Stewart, Mrs. Gerald Parker, Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, Mrs. Ronald Miller, Mrs. Edward Bates, Mrs. G. A. Vandervoort, Miss Helen Patison, Miss Marjorie Staples, Miss Maud Addy, Miss Marie Robinson, Miss Mary Barnhill, Miss Grace Flemming, Miss Margaret Dunlop and Miss Edna Dickson.

Mrs. Andrew West Murray has issued cards for receptions at her residence, 147 Union street, on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, Dec. 8 and 9, from 4 until 6 o'clock.

Miss Irene Ward, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, who has been lecturing in Canada under the auspices of the National Council of Education, was expected to arrive in the city at noon today and will be guest at the Adelphi Hotel until Saturday when she will sail for England, having completed her Canadian tour. Miss Ward will speak in Saint John on Friday evening under the auspices of the Saint John branch of the National Council of Education. Her subject will be "England of Today." Mrs. Frederick R. Taylor, regent of Valcartier Chapter, I. O. O. F., will entertain at the tea hour on Friday afternoon at her residence, Germain street, when Miss Ward will be the guest of honor.

The Trinity Church Charitable Sewing Society will have a large number of planter sale to be held on Saturday afternoon at the tea hour.

Fisher and Mrs. I. E. Golding presided and were assisted in the dining room by Mrs. Cecil West, Mrs. Percy D. McAvity, Mrs. Thomas McAvity, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Henry Morrissey, Mrs. Douglas White, Miss Maud Golding and Miss Ellen Branscombe. The Misses Eleanor and Mary Ledingham assisted the hostess at the door.

Dr. and Mrs. Percival L. Bonnell gave a delightful dinner bridge at their residence, 40 Queen Square, last evening. Marigolds were used in the artistic arrangement of the drawing room decoration and in the dining room pink snap dragon was effectively used on the small tables and on the serving table. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Marr, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Thrus, Mr. and Mrs. Mott, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cross, Miss Edna Simon, Miss Reid, Mr. Guy Reid, Halifax, and Mr. William Simon.

The following in the New York Herald-Tribune of Saturday, Nov. 28, is of interest to many Saint John friends: "Debutantes had another gala day yesterday. The usual festivities of the day after Thanksgiving, augmented by additional activities in town because of the Army-Navy game, kept society busy with luncheons, afternoon receptions, dinners, theatre parties and supper dances."

The largest entertainment was a dance and supper at Pierre's for nearly 1,000 guests, given by Mr. Joseph Sampson Stevens in honor of his sister, Miss Frederica Stevens, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Frederick Stevens.

"Noticed among the list of guests were Brigadier-General and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Paine Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Byam K. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Baldwin, 8d, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Field, Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cameron Church, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. Roland N. Harriman, Representative and Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. W. Goadby Loew, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rogers Winthrop, the Misses Grace and Constance Vanderbilt, Marion Wilson, Edith Wilmerding, Bessie Morgan Belmont, Bertha Bankard, Mary C. Witney, Alex. and Adele Walker, Prince Eugene Lubomirski, Prince Dimitri, the Earl of Caledon, Messrs. William K. Vanderbilt, William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Harold S. Vanderbilt, Robert W. Taylor, W. Curzon Taylor, Morrow Roosevelt, Daniel Cox and William Cushing."

The following in reference to the debut of Miss Stevens is also interesting to friends in her mother's native city: "One of the debutantes of this city who has a large number of relatives greatly interested in making her initial winter in society among the most memorable in her life is Miss Frederica Stevens, the daughter of Frederick W. Stevens, of 925 Park avenue, and Mrs. Stevens. She will, of this city, and is a niece of Miss C. Elizabeth Seely, 23 Garden street.

For the reception to be given by her ten days later by a dance at Pierre's, with her brother, Joseph Sampson Stevens, as the host. This November debutante is also a sister of Mrs. Frederick H. Allen, of Bolton Priory, Pelham Manor, who was Miss Adele L. Stevens. Other sisters are Countess des Monstiers Meriville, who will visit Mrs. Allen this month, and Countess Michalis Orlowska, also a resident of Paris. Both Countesses were here about five years ago when their niece, Miss Barbara Allen, was married to Prince Vagiano at Pelham Manor. The relatives of Miss Stevens further include Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg and Mrs. Henry W. Lanier, first cousins."

Miss Stevens is the daughter of Mrs.

Frederic W. Stevens who, before her marriage, was Miss Carrie Seely, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Seely, of this city, and is a niece of Miss C. Elizabeth Seely, 23 Garden street.
