SAILOR ON CRUISER CONSTANCE JUMPS INTO THE HARBOR; SAVES BOYS' LIFE

Seaman Kyte Rescues Clarence Blois, Newsboy, and Wins Commendation.

The cool-headed action of a British tar of H. M. S. Constance early this morning prevented a drowning tragedy and earned for him the prompt commendation of his superior officers. His action was devoid of heroics and his work so methodical that it looked easy to eye-witnesses present. Nevertheless, Clarence Blois, a young newsboy, can thank A. B. Kyte, of the Constance, for saving his life.

It happened about 6.30 o'clock this morning at McLeod's wharf where the Constance now is docked on her six-day visit to St. John. Blois had just arrived with his bundle of morning newspapers and was doing a brisk trade on the wharf. The cruiser was out from the wharf about four feet and it proved fortunate for Blois that it was so. As he was handing over a paper to one of the men on the cruiser, he over-reached, lost his balance and fell into the water, about 10 feet from the top of the wharf.

The lad had barely struck the water before Kyte was over the rail, clothes and all, after the youngster. He clutched him as he went down and when they came up, Kyte grasped the rope that had promptly been thrown over the side and willing hands pulled him and his young charge on board. Both repaired to the galley where their clothes were dried, Kyte supplying the newsie with some clothes. The youngster then went home and Kyte went back on duty.

Stripped down to bare facts, the British tar's deed looks easy but it required prompt action to avert a fatality and when it came to the pinch, Kyte was there. "Good work, Kyte," is the sum and substance of his mates' commendation. It was good work.

Blois, who is one of the best known of the newsies, views Kyte in a different light. He thinks Kyte is a hero. He is a son of Herbert Kyte, 39 Paradise Row.

SAVED $63,000 IN TAX INTEREST

The close of the discount period for 1924 finds the city account at the bank increased by the sum of $1,231,640. About $6,000 was received in this morning. This is roughly $16,000 less than the amount received during the discount period last year. The total levy this year was $1,788,000, this cash with the amount of the five per cent. discount added—about $63,000—leaves a balance of $448,000 still to be collected. From this, however, must be deducted the sums taken off by the assessors on appeals, and sums which are non-collectable, which would amount probably to another $400,000, leaving the net yet to be collected on this year's assessment about $400,000.

The sum taken in yesterday was $873,107.28.

OBJECTS TO GOING TO MUNICIPAL HOME

When Nellie Gogan was informed by Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning that he would make enquiries to see if she was not a fit subject for the Municipal Home she replied: "You won't put me there, I'd sooner lie in jail for a year."

She was informed that she had nothing to say about the matter and that she would go where she was sent. She was taken into custody at 1 o'clock this morning on a charge of wandering about Main street and being unable to give a satisfactory account of herself. Sergeant Sullivan testified. As Hiram Sees It

"When I was comin' through the Old Buryin' Ground to-day," said Mr. Hiram Buryin, "I seen three little gals dancin' on one of them big flat tombstones. I don't s'pose the Loyalists that's buried there minds it at all. I des-say they'd just as lief hev little folks playin' there as anywhere else—but it don't seem the right thing to me to hev 'em dancin' on the tombstones—no, sir. Of course it's still wiser to see feller half-shot settin' round on the benches—the way I see 'em sometimes. I remember when they was a high fence round that Buryin' Ground—an' the gates was locked at night. The town undertook to look after it—and down come the fence—an' down come the tombstones one after another. Now if I was gont to make a playground for the little folks out of it I'd take away all the stoner an' hev nothing but grass all over it. Either that or I'd fix up the stoner an' see they wassn't dancin' on—yes, sir."
