

"ME AND MY GAL"

IMPERIAL HIT

Rich London Comedy by English Players—Larry Semon Also

"Me and My Gal" which packed the Imperial yesterday afternoon and evening must have been a rare treat to anybody who has visited London. The soldier boys must have revelled in their screen visit to Blighty again. To sit in St. John theatre chairs and be whisked about the throbbing thoroughfares of the British capital as incidental to a laughable comedy of cockney life is a privilege altogether aside from the fun of the cinema story. Furthermore it is a relief from so much American film.

Betty Balfour, who takes the part of "Squibs," the flower girl, in the film is now established as the foremost comedienne in England. Her performance in "Me and My Gal" won the whole country and the character that she created of "Squibs" has become a national figure. The cinema world over there has been more or less dominated by American pictures, only a very few English films approaching those from America in the matter of popularity. The few notable English successes, however, such as "Better 'Ole," "Alf's Button," and "Me and My Gal" met with unbounded success, hanging up attendance records. Then, of course, "The Game of Life," which was recently released in England broke all existing box office records and surpassed the biggest American successes, such as "Birth of a Nation," and "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

As regards stars, Americans have also held first place in the affections of the English public until just now when Betty Balfour, the English comedienne, threatens to surpass all the American stars in popularity. After her wide success in "Me and My Gal," Betty became quite famous and the English public looked forward to her next effort. And just recently, a matter of a month ago, the sequel to "Me and My Gal," viz., "Squibs Wins the Calcutta Sweepstakes," was released in London and the success of this was such as was never before attained by an English comedy drama.

In addition to the English feature the Imperial is showing a decidedly funny bit of Yankee farce-comedy in Larry Semon's latest entitled "The Town Shop." Needless to say a curtain-raiser of this kind got the people's minds adjusted for the comic feature that followed. The same show is to be put on today. On Friday "Me and My Gal" will be shown once in the afternoon and once in the evening—from 2

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength.

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

WIFE HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

Stabbed Patrolman With Penknife in Quarrel Over Groceries.

New York, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Barbara Meyer, Brooklyn, was held without bail in the Fifth avenue court by Magistrate O'Neill for examination on a charge of felonious assault in connection with the stabbing of her husband, Patrolman Joseph Meyer, attached to the Bath each station.

The police said that Mrs. Meyer admitted stabbing her husband Saturday shortly after noon, with a penknife during a quarrel over a mistake in the purchase of some provisions. The couple have been married for twenty-six years. Meyer is at the Samaritan Hospital in a serious condition.

MUST HAVE GOOD TEETH.

French Minister of War Maginot has ordered that any candidate for the colonial army "must have a sufficient number of good teeth."

The decree says that by sufficient and good teeth is meant six pairs of teeth directly opposite one another on the upper and lower gums, of which two pairs must be molars or premolars, and two pairs front or canine teeth.

Many of the men who want to enlist in Algeria and Morocco were found to have defective teeth.

Poiret Twill Dress $17.75

Yes, so little as $17.75 finds a Poiret Twill Dress dated Autumn 1923 at Daniel's. A Navy with embroidery of Henna and Navy on the small black collar, the sleeves and skirt panel.

At $19.75, at $21.50 and at $24.75 an abundance of happy suggestion in both Poirets and Trico-tones.

At $24.75 a remarkably fine Navy Poiret sports a double cuff, the one above the other. A Vestee of Cornflower Blue Duvetyn, then Black Silk embroidery on waist and sleeve, a veritable architecture of it. Straight skirt tucked at side.

With the Coat Wrap-Around

A Navy Poiret at $21.50 has the skirt wrapping over to left, like a coat, on to large buckles. Crepe de Chine Vestee in choice of color and flat Black braid traced up from side seams and round waist.

The vogue of the straight front calls attention to this Navy with all the colored braiding. Fine lines of Brown, Red, Green, Blue and Yellow bordered by Black run down the skirt side and round the slashed sleeve cuff. Two rows of ball buttons down left breast.

There surely is a selection at easy prices in Daniel displays of up-and-coming Twill Dresses.

"Always higher in quality than in price."

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

Mrs. James had just moved into the neighborhood and it was her first meeting with the local sewing circle. As the conversation turned on the absent men, one of the ladies said to Mrs. James, "What does your husband do?" "Oh," said Mrs. James, "he is manager of a pail factory."

"Pail factory?" said the other. "Why, I didn't know we had such a factory in town. Where is it located?"

"Well," replied Mrs. James, "husband calls it a bucket shop, but I think pail factory sounds much better."—Forbes Magazine (N. Y.)

FALSE TEETH KILL MAN.

Swallowed During Altercation, They Choke Him to Death.

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 13.—William B. Hill, a textile worker who died suddenly Saturday night after a quarrel with Emil Belot, Jr., was suffocated as a result of swallowing his upper set of false teeth, an autopsy showed.

Belot was in the District Court on a charge of manslaughter, but will be tried on a lesser complaint as a result of the evidence disclosed by the autopsy.
