W. C. T. U. Consent to Removal of Fountain Reaches Mayor

The Provincial W. C. T. U. president has given consent to the removal of the fountain from the head of King street to make way for the placing of the soldier memorial at that central location. The matter will probably come before the Common Council on Monday morning.

This morning Mayor Potts received from Mrs. Effie Bruce of Campbellton, president of the Provincial W. C. T. U., a letter containing the consent. She says in part:

"As far as I am concerned I freely consent to the removal of the W. C. T. U. fountain which stands as memorial to the Loyalists. I am sorry if I have caused any delay in executing the memorial to the soldiers but could not give my consent until I had more information. I hope the fountain will be placed in a suitable location and given all care.

We prize our memorial, the fountain, but that which represents something bigger and better deserves first place."

MANY TO COUNTRY.

Suburbanites Take Advantage of Good Friday Holiday for Day in Open.

The early trains on Friday were taxed to capacity to carry the suburbanites going to their summer homes, many taking advantage of the fine weather to spend the day in the country. Some were able to get a start on gardens, and those who made play with the spade and hoe are probably paying the penalty today in sore muscles more than half an hour late last night reaching the city, the direct result of spending the day at their summer homes, as it made all the suburban stops coming in.

HOME FROM ENGLAND.

Frank M. Ross, general manager of the Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co. returned to the city Friday from England, where he and James Playfair of Midland, Ont., president of the company had been on business matters. Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Playfair accompanied their husbands on the visit to England and all returned on S. S. Caronia via New York.

AT THE DRY DOCK.

The Canadian Pacific steamer, Berwyn is to leave the dry dock at East Saint John on Monday. The steamer has been in the dock for a week for a general overhauling. She will be in dock for about a week.

BOXERS REACH CITY.

George Fifield, claimant of the welterweight championship of Canada, and his manager, Dan Keeler, arrived in the city today from Toronto. Willie Gradwell, of Boston, and K. O. Stevens, of Waterville, Me., also arrived here today.

This Is Not Mayor's Task

THAT the mayor of a city is a sort of "official fire" was illustrated this morning at city hall when a young man called to get His Worship a report of his marriage denied. The story he told was that a rumor had been circulated that he had been married in Quebec. He wanted the mayor to issue an official denial of this rumor.

He was informed that in this matter nothing could be done by His Worship.
