Steel Working in This Province SUCCESS WILL COME

The Star talked today with a gentleman who recently made a trip over the Grand Trunk Pacific construction between Moncton and Chipman. After describing the character of the work, as detailed lately in the Star, he said:
"The opening up of this road will make accessible from 5,000 to 20,000 acres of desirable lands for settlement at Fork's Streams, 35 miles from Monc-

and detailed lately in the Star, he sald:

The opening up of this road will make accessible from $500 to $0.000 acres of desirable for $600 for this road will make accessible from $500 to $10.000 acres of desirable from $500 to $10.000 acres of d as well as car works.

"If the people of the province could only realize the great natural resources of the province—and there is scarcely a county in the province that is not rich in mineral wealth of some description—the province would have a real genuine boom. That will, however, scarcely take place until the members of the local Government become more than a committee for looking over the work of their deputies every month or so and devising ways and means of adding to their own incomes, instead of initiating great reforms looking towards the development of the province on lines of substantial progress. It would profit the province to pay members of the provincial Government decent salaries and then require them to give all their time to the service of to give all their time to the service of the province instead of a small per-centage of it, as has been the case ever since Confederation.

These facts were brought out in Grand Lodge discussions, and the effect was that New Brunswick repeffect was that New Brunswick representatives were impelled to resolve upon a more energetic campaign. This year the Grand Master is from Fredericton, as is also one of the Grand Representatives. The Deputy Grand Master is from St. John; the other Grand Representative is from St. Stephen, and one or two of the other officers belong to this province. Such being the case, it is anticipated that the order in New Brunswick will before next August experience a year of marked progress.

He was then only a plodder and entered the vast field of business unheralded by the blare of trumpet or the crash of timbrel. No one noticed him at first, but he didn't allow that to discourage him. He kept plodding along, refusing to halt by the wayside, until now he commands the notice which was at first denied him. He has climbed the heights, but he is still a plodder While you have been trying to (Continued on Page Four.)

in Attractive Form. Marvin Hart's Jaw Broken.

The editor of the Star has received a copy of "Ballads of Acadia," from the pen of Dr. James Hannay. The book is published by John A. Bowes and tells many stirring events of Acadian history. The ballads were written by Dr. Hannay between 1868 and 1873. Four excellent ballads are included in the book. "The Maiden's Sacrifice," deals with a tradition of the Miemac Indians, describing the heroic conduct of a maiden of that tribe, who sacrificed her own life to save her people.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. Aug. 14.—Warrants were issued last night for the arrest of eight of the principals in a boxing contest given by the Terre Haute Athletic Association on July 26th.
