Recent Events In and Around St. John.

Battle Line steamer Bretina, Captain Mulcahy, sailed from Hopewell Cape for orders.

Harry A. Comeau, a young man belonging to Queen street, west end, has been appointed physical director in St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn.

Rev. Christopher Burnett, according to a despatch from Brantford, has received and accepted a call to a Brantford Baptist church. Mr. Burnett is away on a holiday trip at present.

Yesterday Ogilvie flour was reduced twenty cents per barrel and is now selling at $5.80. Ontario flour also dropped ten cents, and is now $5 retail.

A lad named Allan Shaw fell into Kennedy's slip on Monday evening and was rescued by John McDermott. Mr. McDermott recently received from the city a reward for saving the life of Pilot Lahey.

There is shown in one of Emerson & Fisher's windows a rather unique specimen of a melon grown on the Nerepis by George Harding. The melon, when very small was inscribed with a motto regarding St. John as the winter port of Canada with some other patriotic words.

Work on the new school house at Advocate Harbor is progressing very rapidly almost without the few accidents usually attendant on construction work. The other day Imbert Allan while working on the new building was struck by a beam which was being put in position and knocked onto a pile of lumber. He was picked up unconscious, but recovered shortly. His injuries are not serious.

Willard L. Broad, conductor of the C. R. R., is seriously ill at his home, 137 Rockland street. Mr. Broad has been confined to his home for a couple of weeks and his many friends feel quite anxious as to his recovery. But his physician and relatives are hopeful of a change for the better in the course of a few days.

The steamer Seneca grazed the ledge in the Petite Passage, near the entrance to Yarmouth harbor, Wednesday night as the steamer was making the port in a thick fog, with the result that about 15 feet of the bridge keel was torn away. The vessel rubbed hard enough to cause a severe shock to be felt through out, but the passengers were quieted by the officers, who assured them there was no danger. The Seneca will go into the marine dock at Yarmouth on the 27th to have her bottom examined. The Bridgewater will take her place in the interim.

The continued downpour of rain from Monday until Wednesday has resulted in a fall almost as great as that for the entire month of September last year, being 4.97 inches to 4.44 inches, and double that for August of this year. The rainfall on Wednesday reached the 1.97 inch mark, the heaviest shower being at 3.45 p. m., when the rain came down at a rate of 1.4 inches per hour. The lightning on Wednesday was of unusual duration, lasting four hours. It is likely September, 1905, will establish a record for rainfall.

ROOSEVELT'S MYSTERIOUS ENVOY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The Post today says: Judge William L. Penfield, solicitor of the state department, has been selected by the President for a special mission to Europe, the character of which remains a profound secret at the state department. It is understood that Judge Penfield will stay for a time, attending to matters pertaining to the errand on which the President has sent him. Further than this, nothing is known. At the state department yesterday entire ignorance as to the mission of Judge Penfield was expressed. It is possible that he will go to a number of European countries before he has finished but none of the details is known.

A FAKE SUICIDE.

Bundle of Clothes Left On Bay Shore

Are Probably the Property of a Mrs.

Prime—Police Are Looking Into Case.

The mystery concerning the bundle of clothes found on the beach near the breakwater is still unsolved, according to the police, and no light has been thrown on the subject; but from the enquiries set on foot by the Sun the whole affair is a fake suicide, and it is judged that the perpetrator of the scare is Mrs. Charles (Effie) Prime of Freeport, N. S.

The story, as told by the police and corroborated by the men working on the breakwater, is that at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning Foreman Wm. McKeown found at the rear of the shed built for the breakwater crew a number of garments, feminine in their make-up, consisting of a black skirt, white undershirt, a pair of No. 2 button shoes, a pair of white stockings, drawers, a white shirt waist and straw hat, the complete attire of a female. There was in addition a black pocket-book, containing a handkerchief with out any initials, and a torn envelope. On the outside of this was typewritten the address: "Mrs. Chas. Prime, Freeport, N. S., Digby Co." The postmark was "Chicago, Illinois." The envelope was torn, and inside was written in a rather illegible hand the following note:

"Mother—Remember that address is Mrs. Mary E. Forbes, Patterson Settlement, Sunbury Co., N. B., and that the station which you get off is Hoyt station, and hope you will soon come home. Yours truly, 'EFFIE'."

This comprised all the palpable evidence of a suicide in the harbor. Chief Clark was notified and he dispatched Detective Killen to the scene. The latter, after investigating, secured the clothes and letter, and Chief Clark then sent word to Mrs. Forbes, asking her if she could throw any light on the person who called herself Effie, or connect her with the apparent suicide. The Sun learned from inquiries that four persons connected with the work on the breakwater had seen a woman near the shed on the previous afternoon. These were Mr. McGinnis, Mr. McGill, Capt. Williams and John Kane, who stated that they had seen a woman dressed in a long light-colored coat, and carrying a bundle, afterwards suspected to be clothes, go down near the beach, and again near the shed. Later Mr. Williams had shed, leading to Fort Dufferin. Others had also seen such a person. C. P. R. roundhouse. It was presumed that the woman had returned at night, doffed her clothes, and waded out into deep water, and there drowned herself.

Some facts which seem to refute this theory were given to a Sun reporter last evening by Robert J. Ward. "I suspected," he said, "that it was no case of suicide. I followed the tracks which came out along the beach and led up to the shed."

"The first person that the name on the envelope suggested was Miss Ethel Prime, who was for some time waitress at the Alexandra Hotel. Enquiry there elicited the fact that Miss Prime was married and living in Montreal at 94 Mackenzie street, her husband being J. McKenna. To make assurance doubly sure on this point the fact was pointed out that Mrs. McKenna were not a No. 2, but a No. 8 shoe."

Miss Prime, however, had a brother who was married about three years ago. His wife some three years ago is thought to have left a young child on a street, the affair causing a great stir at the time. It was eventually traced to this woman, who had brought it in a basket from Boston. Soon after she married Chas. Prime. Her first name was Effie. At Mr. Prime's home, Prime lived in Freeport the envelope had evidently been written on it a message to her mother, and having signed her name, left it with her clothes, no doubt with the expectation that news of her husband would reach her husband's ears and cause him to think she had done away with herself.

One reason that Ethel Prime's name was prominent in the affair was because she had been very friendly with May Gray, who committed suicide last spring. Miss Prime was of a melancholy disposition, and was much cast down by that event, and often alluded to it in a way which caused her friends to think she meditated some such action herself.

"Effie," who figured in the supposed suicide at the breakwater, turns out, as the Sun stated yesterday, to be Mrs. Charles Prime of Freeport, whose maiden name was Forbes. Her mother, who lives at Hoyt station, and the wording of the note found with the clothes undoubtedly was so constructed that it would be thought by Effie's relatives and by her husband and mother in particular, that she had committed suicide. Her chief reason seems to be a desire to achieve the sensational. Mrs. Prime came across the bay on Monday last with a young child. What has become of this child is not known. Three years ago Effie Forbes as she was then known, abandoned a child on Metcalf street, and this one is now in the arms house. With these pieces of information in their possession, the police should have no trouble in following up the woman.

Tenders Full Apology and Makes

Financial Reparation for the Injustice Done to French Subject.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—A despatch to the foreign office from M. Strene Tallian, minister at Morocco, announces that the Moroccan government has yielded to the French demands and given complete satisfaction in the matter of the arrest of the Algerian French citizen, Bouzain.

The foreign office was gratified this morning to receive the despatch from the French minister at Fez announcing that the Sultan had yielded all points demanded by the French ultimatum. The despatch dated Sept. 4, the day preceding the expiration of the ultimatum, the Grand Vizier, accompanied by a retinue went to the French minister and his staff, and the latter, in turn, presented a formal apology for the arrest of the French Algerian citizen Bouzain and handed the minister the amount demanded.

The French minister answered, accepting the excuses and thereupon the preparations for the departure of the legation preliminary to the enforcement of France's demands were suspended.

The foreign office here says the reparation is complete on all points and that the incident is closed, thus terminating the anticipated resort to military demonstrations.

CANON BROCK

We deeply regret to record that the Rev. Canon Brock lies in a very critical condition, and there is very little hope of his recovery. A little over a week ago he was in full health and walking about the town as usual, and on Sunday had conducted two services, preaching in St. James' church in the morning on the beautiful words "Amen, Alleluia," a sermon that will long be remembered by those who heard it. On Sunday afternoon he was in the hospital and spoke to the assembled patients on the text "Behold the Lamb of God." All the community deeply sympathize with him in this sudden illness, and still hope to hear a better report of his condition. —Academy Orchardist.

LIGHTNING DID DAMAGE.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Sept. 7.—This province last night was visited by a terrific thunder and lightning storm, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain. At St. Catherine's a barn belonging to James Lamont was struck and the flames quickly spread to other barns and outbuildings. All were burned to the ground with their contents, including two valuable horses, and the loss of the grain and other agricultural implements, etc. At Argyle Shore a barn belonging to William Gillis was damaged and a horse killed.

There Was a Lively Scramble

For Factory Inspectorship.

About a Dozen Were After It—Mr. McMullin's Career

His Powers and Duties.

According to all accounts there was some great hustling for the position of factory inspector, which on Wednesday was awarded to ex-Ald. John McMullin, of St. John's. There was wire pulling in all directions, and the result has been that so many good liberals failed to get the job that there is some trouble in the ranks. The local members were their wife's end, scarcely knowing who to favor or recommend for most of the applicants had equally strong claims.

Instead of there being seven or eight seekers after the position, as was stated by Dr. Pugsley, there were fully a dozen. Some of these, it was seen from the first, had no show at all, and were dropped from the list. The attorney general and Hon. Mr. Sweeney were chosen to make the appointments, and their consideration was given to the influence put forth by the following:

James Cochrane, employed with Sayre & Holly. Albers, Colman, millwright in Cushing's mill. George Mullin, clerk in Kierstead's grocery, Main street, who has some experience in the Mabee woodworking factory.

Alexander Wilson, machinist, Carleton place. Thomas Logan, at one time engineer in No. 5 fire station and now in No. 2 station.

Capt. Rawlings, county constable on duty at Bay Street, and in employ of I. C. R. freight depot.

Michael Kelly, longshoreman, and a member of the factory commission. The contest was soon narrowed down to George Mullin and John McMullin, as he had all the county members at his elbow. Mr. McMullin, whose application had been the last one seen, came up strong at the finish and got the job.

THE NEW INSPECTOR.

John McMullin's proud boast is that for the past thirty-eight years he has never cast anything but a straight liberal ballot. He has been a party worker for the greater part of his life and he thinks that a position as the one he has just been given is nothing more than he deserves.

Mr. McMullin is a Gagetown man, and in his early manhood was in the steamboat business on the river. He started as a deck hand and worked until he became captain of the steamer May Queen. He has been a resident of St. John for fully forty years of the county, and is a person in the north end and to most of the people in the city.

After giving up his work on the river Mr. McMullin entered into partnership with William E. Gentes and for eighteen years they ran a saw mill at Marble Cove. The place was burned down and they were not permitted to rebuild that section of the city. Then Mr. McMullin became a tanner, which business he has since been engaged in. He has taken an active part in civic affairs, served for some years on the common council and was wardens of the county for a term.

Speaking yesterday of his appointment Mr. McMullin did not think his time would be fully occupied with his duties. He has not received any instructions in joint session, but called upon to visit all factories about twice a year.

THE INSPECTOR'S POWERS.

According to the factories act the duty of the inspector is as follows: "To enter, inspect and examine by day or night any factory, and to examine any documents required to be kept under the act; to engage the services of a constable when necessary; to see whether the provisions of the act are complied with; to take evidence from any employee under oath if necessary; to ask for any required information from proprietors of factories; secure authority from the lieutenant governor or a justice of the peace for entering a factory without the consent of the owner."

THE INSPECTOR'S DUTIES.

The duties of the inspector are to see that the provisions of the factories act are carried out. These are as follows: "The act means a place where ten or more persons are employed in manufacturing. That no child, that is a person under fourteen, shall be employed, and that no female shall be employed in work injurious to the health."

Sixty hours a week shall be the limit of the work. One hour shall be allowed for dinner, and if work is continued until after 5 p. m., 45 minutes shall be allowed for supper.

All accidents or serious difficulty with machinery shall be reported to the inspector.

In certain cases the hours of labor may be extended, but never for more than 81 hours a week nor for more than 36 days in a year.

No machinery may be cleaned while in motion. Female employees must not work in dangerous places. Every factory shall be kept clean, shall not be overcrowded, 300 cubic feet of air space being allowed for each employee. There shall be proper ventilation, sanitary arrangements and other due regard paid to the health of employees.

The inspector shall direct that sanitary means be provided for keeping the factory free from dust or other injurious matter.

The inspector may take a medical man with him to examine hygienic arrangements.

Employers in manufacture of food of any sort must be in good health.

All dangerous machinery or other parts of a factory must be securely guarded.

No inflammable material shall be stored in a factory.

All boilers must be inspected.

Fire extinguishers shall be provided.

peaches placed on the market will be much below the average. This will lead, probably, to the importation of peaches from Michigan, where the crop is good.

GRAPES.

Black rot is not nearly so prevalent as for the last two years. A full crop of grapes is almost assured.

TOMATOES.

Early tomatoes have been a heavy crop and later yields are showing well.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

Conditions in Europe and the United States are unchanged. The crop is everywhere short; good prices are being paid for good fruit. This has stimulated shippers to send forward immature fruit. Several shippers have been prosecuted under the Fruit Marks Act for branding such fruit "No. 1" or "XXX."

OTTAWA NEWS.

Another Muddle Over the Halifax Fortifications.

Poor Fishing at the Magdalen—

Calling for Plans for the Hague

Palace of Peace.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—It is likely that the board of railway commissioners, when they appoint a successor to Mr. Duval as inspector of accidents, will station a new appointee at Winnipeg, so that he may be conveniently located for work in the west. In case of accident the presence of an inspector on the ground at the earliest possible moment is imperative.

Officials of the department of militia are in somewhat of a quandary in connection with the assumption of control of the Halifax garrison and fortification by the dominion. When it was discovered that the department would not take possession on the 1st of July, the 15th of September was suggested, and then when the war office neglected to reply to this proposal a further postponement of one month was suggested. Assuming that this would be agreeable to the imperial authorities, General Leake left on a trip to the Pacific coast. Yesterday, however, a reply was received from the war office agreeing to the transfer on Sept. 15th, and the officials of the department are puzzled what to do.

A. Blue, census commissioner, has gone west for the purpose of making preparatory arrangements for the quinquennial census of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, to be held in June of next year.

W. G. Parmelee, deputy minister of trade and commerce, returned today from a visit to the Magdalen Islands, where he has been for the past four or five weeks. He says the weather has been very stormy in the gulf for some time and the fishermen have had only indifferent success. The spring herring fishery was good, but the mackerel, lobster and cod fisheries have been very poor.

Professor Prince, commissioner of fisheries, left for British Columbia today to preside at a meeting of the commission which is to again investigate the fisheries of the province. A commission from the state of Washington will later on join the Canadian representatives in joint sessions.

W. A. MacKinnon, Canadian commercial agent in Bristol, calls attention of Canadian architects to the programme of the competition for plans for the palace of peace to be erected at the Hague, Holland, at the expense of Andrew Carnegie. The building is to cost $400,000, and the plans must be submitted to the board of directors of the Carnegie foundation at the Hague by the 15th of March next. Instructions to competitors, together with plans and photographs of the site, have been forwarded by Mr. MacKinnon to the department of trade and commerce.

Ferrozone makes muscle and nerve-fibre, increases your blood, infuses a reserve of energy into the body that defies weariness or exhaustion from any cause. To have vitality and healthy vigor use Ferrozone, which all dealers sell in 60c. boxes.

TWO CHILDREN

WERE CREMATED.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Fire broke out this morning in a block of cheaply constructed tenement houses at Cote St. Paul, a suburb west of the city, which resulted in the death of two children, whose names are yet unknown. The occupants of the houses were thrown into a panic by the rapid spread of the flames, amidst the inflammable structure, and in the hurried exits two children, whose lives were lost, were left behind. They were seven and four years of age. The place had no fire brigade of its own, and until assistance was sent from adjoining places the fire was unopposed.
