THE above PILLS having stood the test over care and study, nothing cheap or impure being tolerated in their composition, are perfectly said to administer to the most delicate constitution. They never reduce the patient; no cessation from bu iness or any unusual change is ever necessary. They never render anyone more liable to take cold. Containing no dangerous drug, they act as kindly on the tender infant, the must delicate female, and infirm old age, as upon the most vigorous and athletic system, exercising the most healthful infirence on the whole system, invigorating the debilitated organs, building up the flagging nervous energies, imparting vigor to body and mind, and bringing every faculty into healthy play.

To Females, from the peculiar affections that attend them when, hey are arriving at maturity and also at the decline, or change of lite, they are the best rewedy and assistant that car be used.

SPIRITS OF THE SEA. Over the wave and under the wave And through the waters deep. We dash, and splash, and merrily play, While whirlwinds are asleep: Nor spirits of earth nor spirits of heaven More merrisome than we. The spirits that live in the ocean wave, That live in the deep blue sea. From the foamy crest to the ocean's breast Down to the dark glide we

And there we play full many a day With the wonders of the sea.
We bind our hands with silvery bands Of warriors strong and fair, And our fingers twirl in the golden curl Of the maidens' flowing hair. All among the wrecks and through the decks Of warships high and long. We swifter pass than the lightning flash And light on the face of the sailor's youth A kiss, than fly away, Up, up to the earth, the scene of his birth,

To the mellow beams of day. Monsters we sweep from the pathless deep. And lay each crystal shell, A sandy bed remains of the dead, We guard with a mystic spell. With wind and with waves and ocean With the might of earth fight we. The spirits that lave in the ocean wave, That live in the deep blue sea.
