6928—A Pretty Style for Dressing Jacket.

When a woman dons a dressing sack it is either because she wants relief from close-fitting garments or wants to make herself presentable in the least possible time. Time saving is a very important feature of the dressing sack and that sack which can be donned and fastened with the least time and labor is not to be overlooked? Here is sketched a sack suitable to development in washing stuffs or challis as well as many other materials which is slipped on over the head and requires no fastening. The sack is also surprisingly becoming to all wearers and does not require much time or expense for the making. The prettily shaped yoke supports the full front and back, while the sleeves are loose and may be finished in any length desired. For the medium size 3 yards of 36 inch material are needed.

6928—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. The price of this pattern is 15 cents. Special Offer.—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue together with The Western Home Monthly for one year for 50 cents.

6005—A Practical Sack Nightdress.

A plain, well-fitting model for a night-dress, which may be developed either in longcloth or flannel, is a welcome acquisition to the woman who prefers home-made garments to those which may be bought ready for wear. The design here illustrated is an extremely practical one, the yoke insuring a comfortable fit about the neck and shoulders, while the sack-shaping of the gown effectually does away with the uncomfortable bulkiness that so often distinguishes flannel garments. If desired the gown may be made in the square neck effect shown in the smaller sketch, in which development it is cut without the yoke. If muslin or cambric is used for making, lace or embroidery may be used for garniture, but for a flannel development all the trimming necessary is a little fancy stitchery, worked in silk. For the medium size 6 yards of 36 inch material will be needed for making.

6005—Sizes 32, 36, 40, 44 inches, bust measure. The price of this pattern is 15 cents.

Special Offer.—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

6946—A Becoming Tucked Waist.

A charming model for a tucked waist with either full length or three-quarter sleeves is shown in the accompanying sketch. A unique feature is the extension of the center front box pleat to the lower edge of the belt, while the vandyked decoration of the well-fitting yoke is equally distinctive. The latter, while serving to secure the small tuck pleats in position, at the same time gives a becoming effect of width across the chest. The waist as shown is made of Nattier blue rajah, with yoke and collar of Irish crochet; but it may also be made with equal success of any thin, soft draping material, including foulard, chambray, batiste or mercerized gingham, while all-over lace or embroidered lawn may be employed for the yoke. To develop the medium size 2 1/2 yards of 27 inch goods will be needed.

6946—6 sizes, 32 to 42. The price of this pattern is 15 cents.

Special Offer.—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

4279—Toy Elephant and Dog.

In making the set of animals for the youngster who has his lesson yet to learn in this part of nature's school, the patterns given here will be of no small assistance.

The elephant and dog shown are unusually true to life and not difficult to construct. They are extremely practical for the severe use generally given such creatures by the small boy or girl as they are not breakable and will endure a vast amount of hardship. The elephant should be made of gray canton flannel or cloth and have a blanket of red. Beads or buttons are used for the eyes and white celluloid hair pins for the tusks. One yard of material is needed.

For the dog 5-8 yard of canton flannel is required and buttons are used for eyes while the nose and mouth are outlined with thread. The price of this pattern is 15 cents.

Special Offer.—One of the above patterns, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

6990—A Natty Short Coat.

A smart little coat for wearing whenever a lightweight outdoor garment is needed is always an acceptable addition to the feminine wardrobe, and the design illustrated is especially desirable because of its simple but effective modelling, which is well within the scope of the home dressmaker. The coat, which is modelled in one of the new striped broadcloths, is semi-fitting, and owes its jauntyness mainly to its excellent shaping, which is expressly intended to emphasize the best lines of the figure. It is an especially good model for the slender type of woman, to whom neither a tight-fitting jacket nor a loose wrap is wholly becoming. It is finished in tailored style, with stitched seams and a mannish collar and sleeve, all of which are in close accord with the latest approved designs. The medium size requires 2 1/2 yards of 54 inch cloth to make.

6990—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. The price of this pattern is 15 cents.

Special Offer.—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

4221—A Pretty Dress For a Young Girl.

The popular over-bustle effect is charmingly simulated in this youthful costume.
